66 U. S. Servicemen Die In Plane Crash

Two 'Boxcars' Brush Wings, Fall To Earth

Transports Explode, Burn After Collision Over West Germany

GROEMBACH, Germany, Aug. 11 (AP)—Two Flying Boxcars on U. S. Air Force formation exercises brushed wings today over the Black Forest and crashed in flames, killing the 66 Americans aboard.

The planes hit the ground near this village with tremendous explosive impact.

There were no survivors in continental Europe's worst postwar air disaster. It was the fourth worst air disaster on record.

Only eight bodies had been recovered tonight. They were burned beyond recognition.

The charred bodies of the other 58 victims were scattered with the wreckage over a wide area.

Both planes were smashed to bits.

The wreckage still glowed eerily in the forest tonight as U. S. soldiers stood guard and kept hundreds of German sightseers away.

Nine C119s of the 60th Troop Carrier Wing took off from Echterdingen airfield, near Stuttgart, about 1 p.m. in clear sunny skies. They were loaded with troops and equipment of the 7th Army for air transportation exercises.

Soon after take-off, one plane developed engine trouble and wavered in formation. It touched the tail wing of its neighbor and plunged earthward. The second plane held its course for a minute. Then it also fell.

The first plane crashed among the tall pine trees of the Black Forest just near this picturesque village. The other came down nearly three miles away in a cornfield.

Foresters and farm workers heard massive explosions and rushed toward the flaming wrecks to give aid.

Villagers said there was a "massive explosion" and both planes burst into flames. There were reports the explosion had been heard as far as 50 miles away. German police and volunteers rushed up, but the fierce flames drove them away.

Explosion Death Toll Reaches 21

ANDOVER, Ohio, Aug. 11 (AP)—Half the victims of a roaring explosion and fire that left at least 21 persons dead in this small northeast Ohio farming community remained unidentified today.

Firemen, Air Force men and volunteer workers searched the debris from a block-long row of buildings for more victims. Many of the town's 1,200 residents streamed through a temporary morgue established in a garage three blocks from the village square in an effort to determine identity of the dead.

Many of the victims were burned beyond recognition, with the result that only seven had been positively identified late today. Three others were tentatively identified.

Two others were reported missing and at least 21 were injured. The injured were taken to hospitals at Ashtabula, Conneaut and Youngstown.

The tragedy struck early last night during a severe thunderstorm that already had knocked out communications here. Center of the blast was the Gateway restaurant on the village square, where some of the victims had taken refuge from the storm.

Quarles Named Air Force Chief

WEEKS FIRES BACK—Secretary of Commerce Weeks replies to a news conference question yesterday when he charged that businessmen in government have become the targets of a "massive attack" by people who don't believe what this administration believes in." Earlier, Rep. Celler (D-NY), chairman of the House antitrust subcommittee, threatened issuance of subpoenas to get at records of the Commerce secretary's Business Advisory Council. (AP Photofax).

Proposed Earth Satellite Is One Of Pet Projects

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11 (AP)—Donald A. Quarles, the country's head man in the search for weapons of the future, today was named secretary of the Air Force.

The Arkansas-born, Yale educated Quarles, who once was mayor of his hometown Englewood, N.J., succeeds Harold E. Talbott.

President Eisenhower picked Quarles on the recommendation of Secretary of Defense Wilson. He has been serving as assistant secretary of defense for research and development, and one of his projects has been the development of the proposed earth satellite.

Wilson described Quarles as a man he found he could count on at all times, "dedicated to the nation's interest."

Subject To Senate Okay

The appointment will be subject to Senate confirmation when Congress comes back in January.

Talbott is leaving Saturday, having resigned in the aftermath of a Senate investigation which raised a question of ethics about his outside business activities.

Quarles told reporters "I will divest myself of any holdings in my modest list of securities that might conceivably involve a conflict of interest."

He is a former vice president of the Bell Telephone laboratories, a former vice president of the Western Electric Co., and a former president of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers.

Western Electric Pensioner

Quarles said that although he had severed all active connections with Western Electric, he was still a "Pensioner of the company on an irrevocable basis which carries with it no conditions."

He did not say how much his pension was. His salary as secretary will be $18,000 a year.

Quarles, 61, is six years younger than Talbott. While Talbott's industrial background included connections with aviation, Quarles said he had never had any direct connection with that field.

Both are Republicans. Quarles was a councilman for Englewood for six years and was the town's mayor in 1946-47.

South Korean Reported Slain By U. S. Troops

SEOUL, Friday, Aug. 12 (AP)—South Korean police said U.S. troops guarding Red truce inspectors near Inchon shot and killed a Korean and seriously wounded two others. There was no immediate confirmation from U.S. Army officials.

It was the first report of death or serious injury since South Koreans started mob demonstrations and riots Saturday against pro-Communist Czech and Polish truce inspectors.

A national police spokesman identified the dead Korean as Shim Han Kyoon, 33, a fisherman.

Police said Shim was killed as he and the two others were trying to remove their boat from the Wolmi Island shore as the tide was going out early this morning.

An 8th Army spokesman said headquarters had no report of any shooting incident at Wolmi. U. S. soldiers there are guarding with a ring of machine guns the neutral nations truce team compound.

The Neutral Nations Supervisory Commission has defied South Korea's order to get out by Saturday midnight.

A U. S. spokesman warned the situation could deteriorate rapidly despite South Korean government statements against violence. The spokesman said:

"If the Koreans really try to get in (the truce compounds) it's going to be bad."

Reports from the southeast port of Pusan said American soldiers were ringing the truce compound with 50-calibre machine guns.

Godfrey's Plane Hits Teterboro Runway Light

TETERBORO, N. J., Aug. 11 (AP)—Entertainer Arthur Godfrey had trouble again today at Teterboro Airport, scene of the famed "buzzing" incident last year. His plane's right wing hit a ground light.

An airport spokesman said Godfrey was taxiing his DC3 on the runway, preparing to take off for his Virginia home, when the right wing banged into one of the runway lights.

No one was hurt and the wing suffered only minor damage. It was repaired in the hangar and Godfrey made plans to take off again later in the day.

Godfrey's pilot license was suspended for six months in March 1954, by the Civil Aeronautics Board after examiners found that he was flying "recklessly" when he flew over the control tower the previous Jan. 7.

GE Workers Win Boost But Not Guaranteed Pay

NEW YORK, Aug. 11 (AP) — The General Electric Co. and the CIO International Union of Electrical Workers reached agreement today on a five-year contract providing wage increases but not the guaranteed annual wage the union sought.

The union claims to represent 100,000 of GE's 220,000 employes in plants across the country.

James B. Carey, IUE president, hailed the agreement as a "splendid settlement" and said it will provide pay raises of 33 to 34 cents an hour by the end of the fifth year.

Carey had no immediate comment on the union's failure to get a guaranteed annual wage provision.

But an associate said the union gained a measure of success along this line by getting company agreement to reopening of the new pact in 1958 on "employment security."

He said these talks will include discussion of "layoffs and what should be done about them."

Carey told newsmen the pay increases represent the "highest monetary settlement ever negotiated between the IUE and General Electric in one contract."

The agreement, he said, will be recommended to the union's conference board and to its membership for acceptance. The conference board will meet Aug. 25.

The new pact would take effect next Monday—Aug. 15—instead of Sept. 15, the originally scheduled expiration date of the present contract.

Talbott Says Wilson Didn't Back Him Up

Outgoing Air Force Boss Later Denies Criticism Intended

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11 (AP)—Controversial to the end, Secretary of the Air Force Talbott today accused Secretary of Defense Wilson of failing to do "one thing to defend me."

Newsmen heard the fiery outgoing Air Force chief say this to Wilson, but Talbott later had his aides issue a denial he had criticized or accused Wilson of anything.

Talbott and Wilson were among those at a news conference in Wilson's office where the defense secretary announced the choice of Donald A. Quarles to succeed Talbott as the civilian head of the Air Force.

Talbott Takes Wilson Aside

While photographers were taking pictures of Quarles, Talbott led Wilson to one side of the big office and started talking to him.

As newsmen heard it, Talbott told Wilson: "I don't like what you said at your news conference (on Tuesday) about being distressed about the whole business of my resignation."

When Wilson started to reply, Talbott was heard to say: "You haven't done one thing to defend me."

The conversation was broken up at that point when the two were called over to get into a picture with Quarles. At least one reporter, one photographer and two Defense Department civilians had heard what was said.

No Idea Of Criticism

The denial issued by Air Force aides said Talbott "stated that he had asked Mr. Wilson to step in the corner so that he could congratulate him on his appointment of Don Quarles as secretary of the Air Force and to tell him how pleased he was personally with the appointment."

"He further stated," the denial continued, "that the idea of his accusing or criticizing Secretary Wilson of anything is incorrect."

Public Housing Bill OK'd By Ike

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11 (AP) — President Eisenhower today signed the compromise housing bill providing, among other things, for 45,000 public housing units in the next year.

He said, however, he had "serious objections" to some provisions.

Eisenhower said he gave his approval because of "very important and desirable provisions."

He recalled, in noting his objections, that he had recommended to Congress a two-year program of federal aid to local communities for construction of 70,000 new low-rent public housing units.

A combination of Republicans and Southern Democrats defeated Eisenhower's two-year program in the House, and the House voted for no public housing. The Senate voted for 135,000 units a year for four years, and the 45,000-unit, one-year bill was a compromise between the two chambers.

Eisenhower said in today's statement the program he recommended is needed and said it could be carried out by local communities and the federal government in a more orderly and efficient manner over a two-year period.

Albuquerque Again Hit By Flash Flood

ALBUQUERQUE, Aug. 11 (AP) — Summer rains again last night and early this morning poured a flash flood into water-weary Albuquerque and battered other sections of the state with lightning, rain and one reported twister.

The Albuquerque police department early this morning estimated that 30 to 50 square blocks were under water. The flood, fifth in three weeks came from rains on the flanks of the Sandia Mountains and heavy local showers.

No property damage estimate was immediately available on the flood, and no injuries were reported.

Ex-Flier Faces Secret Paper Misuse Charge

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11 (AP) — A Former Air Force intelligence agent was arrested today on an indictment charging he misused a secret Air Force document and then lied about it.

He is Rea S. Van Fosson, who was separated from the service last November for giving the House Un-American Activities Investigating Committee a classified report from Air Force files.

Van Fosson, arrested by U.S. marshals at his home in Silver Spring, Md., posted a $1,000 bond in U.S. District Court here and was released for arraignment next Thursday. The postponement was ordered to give him time to obtain a lawyer.

Van Fosson, a veteran of 14 years service and a decorated airman of World War II, resigned from the Air Force last Nov. 23 and was hired the next day as an $8,200 investigator for the Un-American Activities Committee.

The committee then was under the chairmanship of Rep. Velde (R-Ill). When the Democrats organized Congress in January Velde was succeeded by Rep. Walter (D-Pa) and Walter said today his first official act was to "fire the man."

The document which committee aides said Van Fosson had delivered to the House group was described at the time as an FBI file on a person about whom the committee then was taking testimony in closed session.

The indictment against Van Fosson said the document was a 113-page file, prepared by the FBI in December, 1952, on Jay Lovestone, who helped organize the Communist party in the United States but who was expelled from the party in 1929 by Joseph Stalin.

Frank A. Seiberling, Rubber Pioneer, Dies

AKRON, Ohio, Aug. 11 (AP) — Frank A. Seiberling, the "Little Napoleon" of the rubber industry, died in Akron General Hospital today.

He founded but later lost control of Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co., which became the largest concern in the industry. Then, starting from scratch in his later years, he and his brother Charles founded and built Seiberling Rubber Co.

He was 95 years old, and had been in ill health since his retirement five years ago as chairman of Seiberling. Pneumonia and complications led to his death.

Virus Study Grant

NEW YORK, Aug. 11 (AP)—The Rockefeller Foundaton today announced a $150,000 grant to help support a five-year study of viruses involved in respiratory disease. The study is to begin this summer at the School of Hygiene and Public Health of Johns Hopkins University.

Impromptu Strip Results In Jail, Fine For Woman

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 11 (AP) — Miss Iletia Davis, 26, was fined $226 and sentenced to 60 days in women's prison for doing an impromptu strip at a truck terminal today.

When manager Frank Pryor called police and told them the woman entered the building and stripped to the waist, he said:

"She annoyed the workers."

Airmen Begin Last Lap Home

HONOLULU, Aug. 11 (AP)—Eleven U. S. airmen leave for home today on what an Air Force spokesman says will be "their last, long mission together."

The fliers, shot down in the Korean War and prisoners of Red China for 32 months, leave at 5 p.m.—10 p.m. EST—for Travis Air Force Base, Calif. They are due there at 8 a.m. tomorrow.

At Travis, the 11 will be split up and flown to reunions with their families across the country.

The airmen spent today sightseeing, shopping for gifts and swimming at Waikiki Beach after a big night.

They polished off steak dinners at the swank Gourmet restaurant last night, then went to the Queen's Surf night club.

Capt. Elmer F. Llewellyn, Missoula, Mont., and Airman John W. Thompson, Orange, Va., were called out during the floor show and took part in a hula dance with Hawaiian girls.

Misses Hen, Hits Wife

CASSOPOLIS, Mich., Aug. 11 (AP) —Dinner was delayed a bit last night when Alexander Fields, aiming at a chicken, missed and shot his wife Mary Lou in the leg with a shotgun. She was treated for a flesh wound.

Accord Hinted As U. S.-Chinese Talks Recessed

GENEVA, Aug. 11 (AP)—The United States and Red China called a 24-hour recess in their "Little Geneva Conference" today amid Communist hints an accord was near on the release of 41 American civilians from China.

A Communist informant close to the Chinese negotiators said only details still have to be ironed out. He intimated an agreement could be reached at the next session Saturday.

There was no official support for this view from either side. Both U.S. Ambassador U. Alexis Johnson and Chinese Ambassador Wang Ping-nan maintained the secrecy they clamped on their talks at the start 10 days ago.

They emerged from their fifth closed session to announce only that they confined discussions to repatriation of civilians and that they would meet again Saturday morning.

The talks have been snagged on counter demands advanced by the Reds as the price for the release of the Americans, mostly missionaries and businessmen who are imprisoned or have been refused permission to leave Red China.

Current State Department files list 25 under arrest, 3 under house arrest, 13 unable to gain exit.

Wang has asked for a list of Chinese Nationals living in the United States and proposed that India serve as a third party to screen them and determine whether they wish to return to their Red-run homeland.

Johnson has resisted these demands while seeking to work out a compromise formula.

The United States contends that to accept a third power would, in effect, recognize Peiping's claim to jurisdiction over all 117,000 Chinese in the United States and repudiate the claim of Nationalist China.

Government Cuts Off Tax Incentives For New Plants

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11 (AP)—The government put something of a damper today on the great industrial expansion boom that started when the Communists hit South Korea five years ago.

It called a halt on tax incentives for more than six billion dollars worth of proposed plants and equipment, pending a study of where the nation now stands from a defense production standpoint. This study will take "a month or more," defense oobilization officials said, and after it, some of the incentives may be offered anew.

The cutoff, which industry had been expecting, took the form of an immediate shutdown on the granting of "rapid writeoff" tax concessions for new plants and equipment in 19 industries and a suspension of action on applications in 38 other industries.

Expansion plans amounting to more than six billion dollars are affected by the combined shutoff and suspension.

Mobilization Director Arthur S. Flemming issued the order less than a month after Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey told a House subcommittee that the program of tax incentives should be shelved or slowed down. Humphrey cited the cost in tax revenues and said the program was giving some companies an advantage over others.

Suspended pending further study are tax benefit applications in such industries as electric power, steel, railroads, oil, commercial aircraft and chemicals.

Big Hurricane Withholds Its Sunday Punch

Houses Destroyed; Threat Diminishes North Of Virginia

WILMINGTON, N. C., Aug. 11 (AP)—Hurricane Connie, its center almost stationary off the coast, pounded the Carolina shoreline with high winds and huge waves tonight.

Houses were destroyed, power and communication lines torn down, fishing piers pounded to pieces, roads and bridges washed out—with the worst still to come. Thousands of coastal residents huddled in rescue shelters and waited out the storm. Open areas of the threatened beaches were largely evacuated.

Farther north along the Atlantic seaboard, residents breathed a sigh of relief as Connie's threat to them diminished. The hurricane alert was lifted north of the Delaware breakwater after the whole East Coast had watched the big hurricane warily for three days.

Hurricane warnings now were flying from Cape Romain, S. C., to the Virginia capes.

Packs 100-Mile Winds

The greatest danger now appeared limited to North Carolina and Virginia and the northern beaches of South Carolina.

The Weather Bureau reported that Connie still packed 100-mile winds near her center, with hurricane force winds extending 150 miles to the northeast and east and 50 miles to the southwest. The center was placed by the Weather Bureau as 75 miles southeast of Wilmington at 8 p.m., and its erratic course brought no forward progress.

Wilmington had gusts up to 80 miles an hour by 8 p.m., with winds of 50 miles. A lightship stationed in the Atlantic nearby reported gusts up to 100 miles an hour.

Torrential rains fell in some place as the hurricane struck.

Power Fails In Wilmington

All power failed in Wilmington shortly before 8 p.m., and the power company was struggling to restore it.

Power has been voluntarily cut off in many smaller communities as a safety measure. Damaged communication lines and evacuated beach areas made any true evaluation of early damage difficult.

Greatest damage, as in Hurricane Hazel which struck nearly the same area last Oct. 15, came from the high water. Some observers reported waves 15 to 20 feet high. Tides at some places were running 4 to 6 feet above normal and the water, driven by the increasing wind, washed canals across beaches to inland streams and lakes.

Greatest hazard appeared to be

Fourth Tropical Storm Spawned

MIAMI, Fla., Aug. 11 (AP) — The fourth tropical storm of the year boiled up in the Atlantic 470 miles north-northeast of Puerto Rico today and was expected to develop hurricane force overnight.

Named Diane for the fourth letter of the alphabet, the storm was located by a hurricane hunter plane near latitude 24.6 north, longitude 63.1 west.

The Miami Storm Warning Center reported it moving toward the west-northwest about 14 miles an hour with winds of 50 to 60 miles an hour near the center. Gales extended out 200 miles to the north and east and 100 miles to the southwest.

Diane formed about 300 miles north and considerably to the east of the spot where Connie, her predecessor, was spawned. Connie is battering her way slowly toward the North Carolina coast.

Forecasters said Diane is "expected to slowly intensify and grow in size and probably reach full hurricane force during the next 12 to 24 hours."

Today's Chuckle

The man was facing trial and possible imprisonment. "I know the evidence is against me," he told his lawyer, "but I've got $50,000 in cash to fight this case."

"You'll never go to prison with that amount of money," the lawyer assured him.

He didn't. He went there broke.

GE Workers Win Boost But Not Guaranteed Pay

NEW YORK, Aug. 11 (AP)—The General Electric Co. and the CIO International Union of Electrical Workers reached agreement today on a five-year contract providing wage increases but not the guaranteed annual wage the union sought.

The union claims to represent 100,000 of GE's 220,000 employes in plants across the country.

James B. Carey, IUE president, hailed the agreement as a "splendid settlement" and said it will provide pay raises of 33 to 34 cents an hour by the end of the fifth year.

Carey had no immediate comment on the union's failure to get a guaranteed annual wage provision.

But an associate said the union gained a measure of success along this line by getting company agreement to reopening of the new pact in 1958 on "employment security."

He said these talks will include discussion of "layoffs and what should be done about them."

Carey told newsmen the pay increases represent the "highest monetary settlement ever negotiated between the IUE and General Electric in one contract."

The agreement, he said, will be recommended to the union's conference board and to its membership for acceptance. The conference board will meet Aug. 25.

The new pact would take effect next Monday—Aug. 15—instead of Sept. 15, the originally scheduled expiration date of the present contract.

Albuquerque Again Hit By Flash Flood

ALBUQUERQUE, Aug. 11 (AP)—Summer rains again last night and early this morning poured a flash flood into water-weary Albuquerque and battered other sections of the state with lightning, rain and one reported twister.

The Albuquerque police department early this morning estimated that 30 to 50 square blocks were under water. The flood, fifth in three weeks came from rains on the flanks of the Sandia Mountains and heavy local showers.

No property damage estimate was immediately available on the flood, and no injuries were reported.

Ex-Flier Faces Secret Paper Misuse Charge

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11 (AP)—A Former Air Force intelligence agent was arrested today on an indictment charging he misused a secret Air Force document and then lied about it.

He is Rea S. Van Fosson, who was separated from the service last November for giving the House Un-American Activities Investigating Committee a classified report from Air Force files.

Van Fosson, arrested by U.S. marshals at his home in Silver Spring, Md., posted a $1,000 bond in U.S. District Court here and was released for arraignment next Thursday. The postponement was ordered to give him time to obtain a lawyer.

Van Fosson, a veteran of 14 years service and a decorated airman of World War II, resigned from the Air Force last Nov. 23 and was hired the next day as an $8,200 investigator for the Un-American Activities Committee.

The committee then was under the chairmanship of Rep. Velde (R-Ill). When the Democrats organized Congress in January Velde was succeeded by Rep. Walter (D-Pa) and Walter said today his first official act was to "fire the man."

The document which committee aides said Van Fosson had delivered to the House group was described at the time as an FBI file on a person about whom the committee then was taking testimony in closed session.

The indictment against Van Fosson said the document was a 113-page file, prepared by the FBI in December, 1952, on Jay Lovestone, who helped organize the Communist party in the United States but who was expelled from the party in 1929 by Joseph Stalin.

Frank A. Seiberling, Rubber Pioneer, Dies

AKRON, Ohio, Aug. 11 (AP)—Frank A. Seiberling, the "Little Napoleon" of the rubber industry, died in Akron General Hospital today.

He founded but later lost control of Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co., which became the largest concern in the industry. Then, starting from scratch in his later years, he and his brother Charles founded and built Seiberling Rubber Co.

He was 95 years old, and had been in ill health since his retirement five years ago as chairman of Seiberling. Pneumonia and complications led to his death.

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 11 (AP)—Miss Iletia Davis, 26, was fined $226 and sentenced to 60 days in women's prison for doing an impromptu strip at a truck terminal today.

When manager Frank Pryor called police and told them the woman entered the building and stripped to the waist, he said:

"She annoyed the workers."

Airmen Begin Last Lap Home

HONOLULU, Aug. 11 (AP)—Eleven U. S. airmen leave for home today on what an Air Force spokesman says will be "their last, long mission together."

The fliers, shot down in the Korean War and prisoners of Red China for 32 months, leave at 5 p.m.—10 p.m. EST—for Travis Air Force Base, Calif. They are due there at 8 a.m. tomorrow.

At Travis, the 11 will be split up and flown to reunions with their families across the country.

The airmen spent today sightseeing, shopping for gifts and swimming at Waikiki Beach after a big night.

They polished off steak dinners at the swank Gourmet restaurant last night, then went to the Queen's Surf night club.

Capt. Elmer F. Llewellyn, Missoula, Mont., and Airman John W. Thompson, Orange, Va., were called out during the floor show and took part in a hula dance with Hawaiian girls.

Accord Hinted As U. S.-Chinese Talks Recessed

GENEVA, Aug. 11 (AP)—The United States and Red China called a 24-hour recess in their "Little Geneva Conference" today amid Communist hints an accord was near on the release of 41 American civilians from China.

A Communist informant close to the Chinese negotiators said only details still have to be ironed out. He intimated an agreement could be reached at the next session Saturday.

There was no official support for this view from either side. Both U.S. Ambassador U. Alexis Johnson and Chinese Ambassador Wang Ping-nan maintained the secrecy they clamped on their talks at the start 10 days ago.

They emerged from their fifth closed session to announce only that they confined discussions to repatriation of civilians and that they would meet again Saturday morning.

The talks have been snagged on counter demands advanced by the Reds as the price for the release of the Americans, mostly missionaries and businessmen who are imprisoned or have been refused permission to leave Red China.

Current State Department files list 25 under arrest, 3 under house arrest, 13 unable to gain exit.

Wang has asked for a list of Chinese Nationals living in the United States and proposed that India serve as a third party to screen them and determine whether they wish to return to their Red-run homeland.

Johnson has resisted these demands while seeking to work out a compromise formula.

The United States contends that to accept a third power would, in effect, recognize Peiping's claim to jurisdiction over all 117,000 Chinese in the United States and repudiate the claim of Nationalist China.

Government Cuts Off Tax Incentives For New Plants

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11 (AP)—The government put something of a damper today on the great industrial expansion boom that started when the Communists hit South Korea five years ago.

It called a halt on tax incentives for more than six billion dollars worth of proposed plants and equipment, pending a study of where the nation now stands from a defense production standpoint. This study will take "a month or more," defense oobilization officials said, and after it, some of the incentives may be offered anew.

The cutoff, which industry had been expecting, took the form of an immediate shutdown on the granting of "rapid writeoff" tax concessions for new plants and equipment in 19 industries and a suspension of action on applications in 38 other industries.

Expansion plans amounting to more than six billion dollars are affected by the combined shutoff and suspension.

Mobilization Director Arthur S. Flemming issued the order less than a month after Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey told a House subcommittee that the program of tax incentives should be shelved or slowed down. Humphrey cited the cost in tax revenues and said the program was giving some companies an advantage over others.

Suspended pending further study are tax benefit applications in such industries as electric power, steel, railroads, oil, commercial aircraft and chemicals.

Big Hurricane Withholds Its Sunday Punch

Houses Destroyed; Threat Diminishes North Of Virginia

WILMINGTON, N. C., Aug. 11 (AP)—Hurricane Connie, its center almost stationary off the coast, pounded the Carolina shoreline with high winds and huge waves tonight.

Houses were destroyed, power and communication lines torn down, fishing piers pounded to pieces, roads and bridges washed out—with the worst still to come. Thousands of coastal residents huddled in rescue shelters and waited out the storm. Open areas of the threatened beaches were largely evacuated.

Farther north along the Atlantic seaboard, residents breathed a sigh of relief as Connie's threat to them diminished. The hurricane alert was lifted north of the Delaware breakwater after the whole East Coast had watched the big hurricane warily for three days.

Hurricane warnings now were flying from Cape Romain, S. C., to the Virginia capes.

Packs 100-Mile Winds

The greatest danger now appeared limited to North Carolina and Virginia and the northern beaches of South Carolina.

The Weather Bureau reported that Connie still packed 100-mile winds near her center, with hurricane force winds extending 150 miles to the northeast and east and 50 miles to the southwest. The center was placed by the Weather Bureau as 75 miles southeast of Wilmington at 8 p.m., and its erratic course brought no forward progress.

Wilmington had gusts up to 80 miles an hour by 8 p.m., with winds of 50 miles. A lightship stationed in the Atlantic nearby reported gusts up to 100 miles an hour.

Torrential rains fell in some place as the hurricane struck.

Power Fails In Wilmington

All power failed in Wilmington shortly before 8 p.m., and the power company was struggling to restore it.

Power has been voluntarily cut off in many smaller communities as a safety measure. Damaged communication lines and evacuated beach areas made any true evaluation of early damage difficult.

Greatest damage, as in Hurricane Hazel which struck nearly the same area last Oct. 15, came from the high water. Some observers reported waves 15 to 20 feet high. Tides at some places were running 4 to 6 feet above normal and the water, driven by the increasing wind, washed canals across beaches to inland streams and lakes.

Greatest hazard appeared to be

Fourth Tropical Storm Spawned

MIAMI, Fla., Aug. 11 (AP)—The fourth tropical storm of the year boiled up in the Atlantic 470 miles north-northeast of Puerto Rico today and was expected to develop hurricane force overnight.

Named Diane for the fourth letter of the alphabet, the storm was located by a hurricane hunter plane near latitude 24.6 north, longitude 63.1 west.

The Miami Storm Warning Center reported it moving toward the west-northwest about 14 miles an hour with winds of 50 to 60 miles an hour near the center. Gales extended out 200 miles to the north and east and 100 miles to the southwest.

Diane formed about 300 miles north and considerably to the east of the spot where Connie, her predecessor, was spawned. Connie is battering her way slowly toward the North Carolina coast.

Forecasters said Diane is "expected to slowly intensify and grow in size and probably reach full hurricane force during the next 12 to 24 hours."

AEC Chief Discloses U. S. Is Seeking Way To Harness H-Bomb

Long-Range Task, Strauss Declares

GENEVA, Aug. 11 (AP) — Lewis L. Strauss, chairman of the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission, disclosed today the United States has been working "for a considerable time" on ways to harness the energy of the hydrogen bomb for peaceful uses.

"Progress is being made from a scientific point of view, but there has been nothing in the way of a breakthrough which would indicate anything but a long-range task," he told a news conference.

The Strauss statement followed a similar announcement by Britain yesterday and by Russia earlier this summer that they were trying to solve the riddle of controlling H-bomb type energy, called fusion energy.

Strauss described the size of the U.S. effort as moderate when asked how it compared with the rest of the AEC's program. He said the problem was unprecedented in difficulty, but that scientifically it did not appear impossible.

"It is a matter for the future," he said.

He declined to speculate on how long it might be before results could be expected. A British scientist said yesterday the problem probably would be solved in a generation. And Indian scientist Homi J. Bhabha, president of the current atoms-for-peace conference here, has estimated it will happen in 20 years.

The Russians let out word of their experiments June 27. Speaking over the Moscow radio that day, Alexander Buyanov announced:

"Soviet scientists are seeking ways of utilizing the energy of heavy hydrogen and some other elements, not only in the form of an explosion, but in other, more convenient forms. This is a source of power that will enable people to work wonders. They will be able to establish interplanetary communication."

Strauss said he has no information as to whether Russia or Britain have made any progress on the problem. He stressed that, as far as the United States was concerned, this is only one of many projects.

Argentine Revolt Leaders Receive Life Sentences

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, Aug. 11 (AP)—Rear Adm. Samuel Toranzo Calderon was reported sentenced today to life imprisonment on a charge of masterminding the June 16 revolt.

Informed sources said the Supreme Military Council imposed life terms on Toranzo and six other Argentine naval officers in winding up the secret trial of 56 men accused of plotting the abortive rebellion against President Juan D. Peron in which hundreds died.

By the account of these informants:

Rear Adm. Anibal Olivieri, navy minister at the time, drew a sentence of 18 months in prison.

Terms up to three years were imposed on 29 officers of the navy and air force.

The remaining 19 defendants were acquitted, but probably will be retired.

The life terms carry with them the brand of "public degradation."

The sentences are subject to approval by Peron.

The prosecution had asked the death penalty for Toranzo. It sought a two-year term for Olivieri.

The revolt flared at the height of Peron's open feud with the Roman Catholic Church. Rebels led by navy and air force elements staged air and ground attacks on Casa Rosada, President Peron's Government House on the Mayo Plaza at noon, June 16. The army crushed the revolt in a six-hour battle.

On the religious front, a congressional committee yesterday approved a bill permitting Peron to postpone until mid-1956 the election of a constitutional assembly to cut ties between the state and the Catholic church.

Congress last May authorized elections for the assembly before Oct. 23.

They were greeted by directors of the Uzbek Republic's labor organizations.

A special study for the visitors here will be Uzbekistan long-staple cotton, which specialists from India and other experts have called the world's finest.

From Uzbekistan, the tourists are to go to the newly opened virgin lands of Central Asia.

Weeks Defends WOCs, Charges Massive Attack

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11 (AP)—Secretary of Commerce Weeks said today that "people who don't believe in what this administration believes in" have launched a massive attack on the free enterprise system.

He wouldn't say who these people are, but he specifically defended his Business Advisory Council which has come under attack from Rep. Celler (D-NY), chairman of the House Antimonopoly subcommittee.

Weeks said he didn't want to indulge in personalities or politics, when asked to clarify his charge.

"If the shoe fits anyone, let him put it on," the secretary suggested at a news conference.

Celler said earlier today he will subpoena "everybody in sight," if necessary, to penetrate what he called the "aura of secrecy" around the Business Advisory Council. On being told of Weeks' news conference remarks, Celler said the secretary was talking "palpable nonsense."

The Antimonopoly subcommittee has just recessed until October, its investigation of the government role of WOCs, or businessmen who serve as advisors without compensation, while drawing salaries from private firms.

The issue of government relations with business produced other developments just a week ago today:

1. The Justice Department disclosed the ousting of an oil company executive, Franz Von Schilling, from his "without compensation" job as director of an Interior Department advisory group on foreign oil supplies. Asst. Atty. Gen. Stanley N. Barnes said Von Schilling was policing activities "of the very companies on which his immediate livelihood depended."

2. President Eisenhower defended the Defense Department's employment of Brig. Gen. W. W. White who heads its Petroleum Logistics Division. White has been drawing compensation from the government and from the "Esso Export Corp., of which he was formerly vice president. Eisenhower said it would "be idle to employ as a consultant anyone who didn't know something about the petroleum industry."

3. The American Power Assn., representing publicly owned utilities, called the government's use of corporation executives as advisers "a festering sore."

Morocco's Fate Deliberated; 63 Slain In Algeria

PARIS, Aug. 11 (AP) — While French rulers of North Africa deliberated today on the fate of Morocco and its throne, news came of at least 63 killed in battles between French troops and nationalists in Algeria.

Of the three French regions of North Africa, only Tunisia seemed calm. Yesterday Secretary of State Dulles held up the home rule agreement between France and Tunisia as an example of what could be done elsewhere.

There was no immediate prospect, however, of the Tunisian example being followed in Algeria, which is run as if it were part of France. Nationalist rebels have been battling French police and troops there since Nov. 1. Heavy reinforcement from Europe and Indochina have brought French strength to 125,000, but some 3,000 rebels still give plenty of trouble. Fighting yesterday was among the bloodiest so far.

There were three main clashes. The biggest occurred in the oasis of Sidi-Aoun, at the edge of the Sahara 150 miles southeast of Biskra. It began Tuesday morning and the latest casualty report put French losses at 21 soldiers and the rebels' at 20.

Another fight was near Edgar-Quinet, more than 200 miles to the north. There the French brought up artillery and armored cars to destroy a village into which they said a rebel band of 15 had retreated. The guerrillas were said to have been annihilated and one foreign legionnaire killed.

About 60 miles further east, near La Meskiana, six rebels were reported killed and 15 captured with arms in their hands. It had been announced that guerrillas caught in such circumstances were to be shot at once.

Shivers Expects Demo Revolt If Stevenson Runs

CHICAGO, Aug. 11 (AP)—Democratic governors applauded today —with some crossed fingers—Adlai E. Stevenson's decision to announce his presidential intentions by November.

From Gov. Allan Shivers of Texas, an Eisenhower Democrat in 1952, came a prediction that Stevenson's renomination as the Democratic presidential candidate would stir up another Southern rebellion. In fact, Shivers told reporters:

"I think it's there. I hope it is."

While decrying any third party talk, Shivers said he would back "practically anybody"—Democrat or Republican—who opposes Stevenson.

In reaction to Shivers rebellion prophecy, Gov. Marvin Griffin of Georgia declared:

"I'd like to see all Southern Democrats band together and fight a common fight, as there is no haven of refuge with the Republicans."

Gov. Lawrence Wehterby of Kentucky voiced a similar view.

Stevenson all but tossed his hat into the 1956 political ring at an informal news conference last night. He jumped on the administration's domestic policy, said its foreign policy has improved but could change for the worse in a moment, that Eisenhower isn't invulnerable politically and that he doesn't fear him.

"I will do what is best for my party," Stevenson said, "and not what I think is necessarily best for myself."

As the 47th annual Governor's Conference tried for a compromise on a highway program and traded views on mental health problems, several Democrats were unwilling to say at this point that Stevenson would make the party's strongest presidential candidate next year.

But some said it was wise that the former Illinois governor has determined to speak out definitely by the end of November.

Aly, Rita Square Off For New Legal Fight

RENO, Nev., Aug. 11 (AP)—Moslem Prince Aly Khan and actress Rita Hayworth squared off for another legal fight today as Aly sought to have their daughter visit him in France.

Through his attorney, Aly filed a motion in District Court yesterday asking Judge A. J. Maestretti to order Rita to send the 5-year-old Yasmin to France for an 11-week visit.

No date has been set for a hearing.

Aly said he is ready to post the necessary $100,000 bond and in other ways has tried to comply with terms of an agreement the couple reached last fall on details of Yasmin's visits with her father.

He charged that Rita "has failed and neglected to render any assistance in order to defeat the provisions of the agreement and to deprive him of visitation rights."

Legion Draws Wright Blast

SPRING GREEN, Wis., Aug. 11 (AP)—World-famed architect Frank Lloyd Wright assailed the American Legion today for what he said was its opposition to him as the architect for the Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs, Colo.

Wright's statement was prompted by a news story in the August issue of Architectureal Forum that stated the Legion had prepared a public blast at Wright in 1954 in the event he was selected by the Air Force as academy architect.

Wright said:

"I do not know why the American Legion puts me on its blackened page unless because I hate war and openly oppose it.

"I equally hate American Legion opposition to the exercise by others of the same rights it takes to itself. I do not want to see our 'sovereignty of the individuals' sacrificed to fear, even fear of communism — see ourselves reduced by the professional warrior to communism's level."

Wright, now 86, withdrew abruptly from competition to design buildings for the academy in July 1954. His withdrawal was based on the Legion attitude, Architectural Forum stated.

The magazine article added:

"The American Legion had readied a public blast at Wright, dredging up past antimilitaristic activities and associations of the architect, which, front-paged for America in its 1955 mood, would have made it awkward for the Air Force to consider Wright and his group.

"The Legion's price for silence: Elimination of Wright."

ahead at high tide shortly after midnight. Much of Hazel's heavy damage in the Carolinas was attributed to the hurricane hitting land at high tide.

At Carolina Beach, N. C., water swirled around homes four blocks from the beach by nightfall.

"We can't stand much more. We are going to take a terrible licking," declared Judge R. G. Barr Jr., secretary of the Carolina Beach Chamber of Commerce.

"Everything they built up after Hazel has been chewed up," reported Walter Winner of Kure Beach, N. C.

On the other hand, Myrtle Beach, center of the South Carolina vacationland and one of the heaviest sufferers in Hazel, reported high tides but little damage. A little farther south, however, the new Garden City, S. C., fishing pier began breaking up this afternoon. The first pier was destroyed by Hazel.

Capital Transit Rejects New Demands By Union

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11 (AP)—The Capital Transit Co. announced tonight it has rejected new contract demands made by its striking union and commented on the break-up of the latest negotiation session:

"There was no indication that further meetings between the parties would be held."

E. C. Giddings, company spokesman, said in a statement that the union's new proposals were based on a 20-cent hourly wage increase —instead of the 25 cents originally sought.

". . . They are still in the realm of fantasy and beyond the ability of the company to pay," Giddings said.

The company has offered a contract based on a 10-cent pay raise.

Union officials had no immediate comment on Giddings' blast—made on the 42nd day of Washington's transit strike.

Giddings said the company figured the scaled-down union proposals would cost $2,200,000 a year to fulfill.

"To meet them," he said, "would put the company in the red to the extent of more than a million dollars annually and put it on the road to bankruptcy."

He said the company's 10-cent plan "represented all the financial substance it (the company) could hope for over the next year with a fare increase" Capital Transit has yet to obtain.

Giddings said the company also objected to a union proposal to make it mandatory to arbitrate the terms of a future contract. He called this "a perpetual labor contract" and "contrary to the spirit of collective bargaining."

Galbraith Described As Insane At Trial

MCALESTER, Okla., Aug. 11 (AP) —His mother, sister and two specialists described Dr. Ben T. Galbraith at his murder trial today as a devoted father who killed his family only because he is insane.

"I think any man who kills his three babies, as devoted as he was to them, is definitely mentally ill," Dr. Felix Adams, superintendent of Eastern Oklahoma Hospital, told the District Court jury.

A psychologist at the institution, Dr. George McCoy, testified that Galbraith is a schizophrenic of long standing. The term is applied to those suffering from a split personality.

The mother and sister of the 34-year-old once-prominent heart specialist took the stand earlier to say he has been mentally ill since 10.

SRC To Seek Bids On 19 Road Projects

BALTIMORE, Aug. 11 (AP) — The State Roads Commission announced today it will advertise for bids on 19 projects involving the construction of about 25 miles of roads during August, September and October.

Russell S. McCain, commission chairman, also said that during the first year of the State's 12-year 568 million dollar road building program, 90 million dollars was spent. He said this represented almost a two year's normal expenditure.

In the future, McCain said, the commission will schedule work at the rate of about four million dollars a month.

He wouldn't say who these people are, but he specifically defended his Business Advisory Council which has come under attack from Rep. Celler (D-NY), chairman of the House Antimonopoly subcommittee.

Weeks said he didn't want to indulge in personalities or politics, when asked to clarify his charge.

"If the shoe fits anyone, let him put it on," the secretary suggested at a news conference.

Celler said earlier today he will subpoena "everybody in sight," if necessary, to penetrate what he called the "aura of secrecy" around the Business Advisory Council. On being told of Weeks' news conference remarks, Celler said the secretary was talking "palpable nonsense."

The Antimonopoly subcommittee has just recessed until October, its investigation of the government role of WOCs, or businessmen who serve as advisors without compensation, while drawing salaries from private firms.

The issue of government relations with business produced other developments just a week ago today:

1. The Justice Department disclosed the ousting of an oil company executive, Franz Von Schilling, from his "without compensation" job as director of an Interior Department advisory group on foreign oil supplies. Asst. Atty. Gen. Stanley N. Barnes said Von Schilling was policing activities "of the very companies on which his immediate livelihood depended."

2. President Eisenhower defended the Defense Department's employment of Brig. Gen. W. W. White who heads its Petroleum Logistics Division. White has been drawing compensation from the government and from the "Esso Export Corp., of which he was formerly vice president. Eisenhower said it would "be idle to employ as a consultant anyone who didn't know something about the petroleum industry."

3. The American Power Assn., representing publicly owned utilities, called the government's use of corporation executives as advisers "a festering sore."

Legion Draws Wright Blast

SPRING GREEN, Wis., Aug. 11 (AP)—World-famed architect Frank Lloyd Wright assailed the American Legion today for what he said was its opposition to him as the architect for the Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs, Colo.

Wright's statement was prompted by a news story in the August issue of Architectureal Forum that stated the Legion had prepared a public blast at Wright in 1954 in the event he was selected by the Air Force as academy architect.

Wright said:

"I do not know why the American Legion puts me on its blackened page unless because I hate war and openly oppose it.

"I equally hate American Legion opposition to the exercise by others of the same rights it takes to itself. I do not want to see our 'sovereignty of the individuals' sacrificed to fear, even fear of communism — see ourselves reduced by the professional warrior to communism's level."

Wright, now 86, withdrew abruptly from competition to design buildings for the academy in July 1954. His withdrawal was based on the Legion attitude, Architectural Forum stated.

The magazine article added:

"The American Legion had readied a public blast at Wright, dredging up past antimilitaristic activities and associations of the architect, which, front-paged for America in its 1955 mood, would have made it awkward for the Air Force to consider Wright and his group.

"The Legion's price for silence: Elimination of Wright."

Big Hurricane

ahead at high tide shortly after midnight. Much of Hazel's heavy damage in the Carolinas was attributed to the hurricane hitting land at high tide.

At Carolina Beach, N. C., water swirled around homes four blocks from the beach by nightfall.

"We can't stand much more. We are going to take a terrible licking," declared Judge R. G. Barr Jr., secretary of the Carolina Beach Chamber of Commerce.

"Everything they built up after Hazel has been chewed up," reported Walter Winner of Kure Beach, N. C.

On the other hand, Myrtle Beach, center of the South Carolina vacationland and one of the heaviest sufferers in Hazel, reported high tides but little damage. A little farther south, however, the new Garden City, S. C., fishing pier began breaking up this afternoon. The first pier was destroyed by Hazel.

Argentine Revolt Leaders Receive Life Sentences

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, Aug. 11 (AP)—Rear Adm. Samuel Toranzo Calderon was reported sentenced today to life imprisonment on a charge of masterminding the June 16 revolt.

Informed sources said the Supreme Military Council imposed life terms on Toranzo and six other Argentine naval officers in winding up the secret trial of 56 men accused of plotting the abortive rebellion against President Juan D. Peron in which hundreds died.

By the account of these informants:

Rear Adm. Anibal Olivieri, navy minister at the time, drew a sentence of 18 months in prison.

Terms up to three years were imposed on 29 officers of the navy and air force.

The remaining 19 defendants were acquitted, but probably will be retired.

The life terms carry with them the brand of "public degradation."

The sentences are subject to approval by Peron.

The prosecution had asked the death penalty for Toranzo. It sought a two-year term for Olivieri.

The revolt flared at the height of Peron's open feud with the Roman Catholic Church. Rebels led by navy and air force elements staged air and ground attacks on Casa Rosada, President Peron's Government House on the Mayo Plaza at noon, June 16. The army crushed the revolt in a six-hour battle.

On the religious front, a congressional committee yesterday approved a bill permitting Peron to postpone until mid-1956 the election of a constitutional assembly to cut ties between the state and the Catholic church.

Congress last May authorized elections for the assembly before Oct. 23.

Morocco's Fate Deliberated; 63 Slain In Algeria

PARIS, Aug. 11 (AP) — While French rulers of North Africa deliberated today on the fate of Morocco and its throne, news came of at least 63 killed in battles between French troops and nationalists in Algeria.

Of the three French regions of North Africa, only Tunisia seemed calm. Yesterday Secretary of State Dulles held up the home rule agreement between France and Tunisia as an example of what could be done elsewhere.

There was no immediate prospect, however, of the Tunisian example being followed in Algeria, which is run as if it were part of France. Nationalist rebels have been battling French police and troops there since Nov. 1. Heavy reinforcement from Europe and Indochina have brought French strength to 125,000, but some 3,000 rebels still give plenty of trouble. Fighting yesterday was among the bloodiest so far.

There were three main clashes. The biggest occurred in the oasis of Sidi-Aoun, at the edge of the Sahara 150 miles southeast of Biskra. It began Tuesday morning and the latest casualty report put French losses at 21 soldiers and the rebels' at 20.

Another fight was near Edgar-Quinet, more than 200 miles to the north. There the French brought up artillery and armored cars to destroy a village into which they said a rebel band of 15 had retreated. The guerrillas were said to have been annihilated and one foreign legionnaire killed.

About 60 miles further east, near La Meskiana, six rebels were reported killed and 15 captured with arms in their hands. It had been announced that guerrillas caught in such circumstances were to be shot at once.

Adenauer May Visit Russia In September

BONN, Germany, Aug. 11 (AP) — Chancellor Konrad Adenauer probably will visit Moscow in September, the West German government said tonight.

This would get it out of the way well before the Big Four foreign ministers meeting in Geneva, which the Big Four announced today will open Oct. 27.

Capital Transit Rejects New Demands By Union

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11 (AP)—The Capital Transit Co. announced tonight it has rejected new contract demands made by its striking union and commented on the breakup of the latest negotiation session:

"There was no indication that further meetings between the parties would be held."

E. C. Giddings, company spokesman, said in a statement that the union's new proposals were based on a 20-cent hourly wage increase —instead of the 25 cents originally sought.

". . . They are still in the realm of fantasy and beyond the ability of the company to pay," Giddings said.

The company has offered a contract based on a 10-cent pay raise.

Union officials had no immediate comment on Giddings' blast—made on the 42nd day of Washington's transit strike.

Giddings said the company figured the scaled-down union proposals would cost $2,200,000 a year to fulfill.

"To meet them," he said, "would put the company in the red to the extent of more than a million dollars annually and put it on the road to bankruptcy."

He said the company's 10-cent plan "represented all the financial substance it (the company) could hope for over the next year with a fare increase" Capital Transit has yet to obtain.

Giddings said the company also objected to a union proposal to make it mandatory to arbitrate the terms of a future contract. He called this "a perpetual labor contract" and "contrary to the spirit of collective bargaining."

CENTER OF BIG EXPLOSION—This was the scene early yesterday as members of an Air Force unit dug up more bodies caught in the explosion of a restaurant at Andover, Ohio. Five other buildings were wrecked. At least 21 persons were killed. (AP Photofax)

Shivers Expects Demo Revolt If Stevenson Runs

CHICAGO, Aug. 11 (AP)—Democratic governors applauded today —with some crossed fingers—Adlai E. Stevenson's decision to announce his presidential intentions by November.

From Gov. Allan Shivers of Texas, an Eisenhower Democrat in 1952, came a prediction that Stevenson's renomination as the Democratic presidential candidate would stir up another Southern rebellion. In fact, Shivers told reporters:

"I think it's there. I hope it is."

While decrying any third party talk, Shivers said he would back "practically anybody"—Democrat or Republican—who opposes Stevenson.

In reaction to Shivers rebellion prophecy, Gov. Marvin Griffin of Georgia declared:

"I'd like to see all Southern Democrats band together and fight a common fight, as there is no haven of refuge with the Republicans."

Gov. Lawrence Wehterby of Kentucky voiced a similar view.

Stevenson all but tossed his hat into the 1956 political ring at an informal news conference last night. He jumped on the administration's domestic policy, said its foreign policy has improved but could change for the worse in a moment, that Eisenhower isn't invulnerable politically and that he doesn't fear him.

"I will do what is best for my party," Stevenson said, "and not what I think is necessarily best for myself."

As the 47th annual Governor's Conference tried for a compromise on a highway program and traded views on mental health problems, several Democrats were unwilling to say at this point that Stevenson would make the party's strongest presidential candidate next year.

But some said it was wise that the former Illinois governor has determined to speak out definitely by the end of November.

Galbraith Described As Insane At Trial

MCALESTER, Okla., Aug. 11 (AP)—His mother, sister and two specialists described Dr. Ben T. Galbraith at his murder trial today as a devoted father who killed his family only because he is insane.

"I think any man who kills his three babies, as devoted as he was to them, is definitely mentally ill," Dr. Felix Adams, superintendent of Eastern Oklahoma Hospital, told the District Court jury.

A psychologist at the institution, Dr. George McCoy, testified that Galbraith is a schizophrenic of long standing. The term is applied to those suffering from a split personality.

The mother and sister of the 34-year-old once-prominent heart specialist took the stand earlier to say he has been mentally ill since 10.

SRC To Seek Bids On 19 Road Projects

BALTIMORE, Aug. 11 (AP) — The State Roads Commission announced today it will advertise for bids on 19 projects involving the construction of about 25 miles of roads during August, September and October.

Russell S. McCain, commission chairman, also said that during the first year of the State's 12-year 568 million dollar road building program, 90 million dollars was spent. He said this represented almost a two year's normal expenditure.

In the future, McCain said, the commission will schedule work at the rate of about four million dollars a month.

QUEENSTOWN, Md., Aug. 11 (AP) —The Queenstown News will miss its first edition in 73 years next week because Publisher George J. Steinfelt figures the staff needs a vacation.

Or as Steinfelt said in a front-page notice in this week's edition: "... Because we need a rest and vacation, I—the editor, publisher, owner, janitor, etc.—intend to take my family on a week's vacation. Hope we will not be missed too much. Look for your next issue on Friday, Aug. 26."

Aly, Rita Square Off For New Legal Fight

RENO, Nev., Aug. 11 (AP)—Moslem Prince Aly Khan and actress Rita Hayworth squared off for another legal fight today as Aly sought to have their daughter visit him in France.

Through his attorney, Aly filed a motion in District Court yesterday asking Judge A. J. Maestretti to order Rita to send the 5-year-old Yasmin to France for an 11-week visit.

No date has been set for a hearing.

Aly said he is ready to post the necessary $100,000 bond and in other ways has tried to comply with terms of an agreement the couple reached last fall on details of Yasmin's visits with her father.

He charged that Rita "has failed and neglected to render any assistance in order to defeat the provisions of the agreement and to deprive him of visitation rights."

U. S. Farmers Fly To Soviet Asia

TASKHENT, Uzbeck S.S.R., Aug. 11 (AP) — America's touring farmers flew into Soviet Central Asia today from the Volga city of Kuibyshev.

They stepped from a gleaming, modern Ilyushin-12 airliner at a bustling airport in the section of the Soviet Union where camels and bullocks still are the usual means of transport.

They were greeted by directors of the Uzbek Republic's labor organizations.

A special study for the visitors here will be Uzbekistan long-staple cotton, which specialists from India and other experts have called the world's finest.

From Uzbekistan, the tourists are to go to the newly opened virgin lands of Central Asia.

M'Arthur Toted Pistol Ashore As 'Precaution'

NEW YORK, Aug. 11 (AP) — Gen. Douglas MacArthur, fulfilling his "I shall return" pledge, carried his father's pistol as he waded ashore in the Philippines "just to insure that I am never captured alive."

The dramatic landing, one of the turning points of the war in the Pacific, was described today by Maj. Gen. Courtney Whitney, wartime aide and friend of MacArthur, in the first of a series of articles in Life magazine.

Whitney said the morning of the Philippine landing at Leyte Beach, Oct. 20, 1944, "I went to MacArthur's cabin and entered just as he was slipping on an old-fashioned revolver into his trouser pocket.

" 'That, Court, belonged to my father,' he said in explanation. 'I take it merely as a precaution,—just to insure that I am never captured alive.' "

As the landing craft approached the beach, Whitney said he watched MacArthur closely for signs of the emotion he must have felt.

"His face was expressionless under the familiar goldleaf-decorated cap that he had worn when he was field marshal of the islands to which he was now returning. It was as if this were a routine ride to shore, instead of a rendezvous with history," Whitney wrote.

Royal Navy Drinking More Milk Than Beer

LONDON, Aug. 10 (AP)—Tremendous changes are taking place in the drinking habits of the British fighting man.

The Royal Navy is drinking more milk than beer.

The Army and the Royal Air Force are downing more tea, coffee, milk and soft drinks than they are the foaming brew.

Whiskey and gin are far down the consumption list.

Sales in service canteens 50 years ago were 95 per cent alcohol. Last year alcohol was only 5 per cent of the refreshment dispensed.

Authority for the palate poll is the Navy, Army, Air Force Institute, British equivalent of the post exchange in the American armed services.

More than 80 per cent of the telephones in the United States are operated by one system.

Hurricane In Class By Itself When It Comes To Energy

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11 (AP) — When it comes to producing incredible power and awesome fury, the hurricane is in a class by itself.

Someone has figured a first-class hurricane's energy comes to a staggering 500 trillion horsepower. That's equal to a heap of atomic bombs exploding each second.

If that sounds unbelievable, remember that a hurricane can cover an area as large as one of our bigger states. In its center, its winds can surpass 150 miles an hour. And some water-drenched spirit at the National Geographic Society has decided that within one howling, windswept day, a hurricane can sweep up two billion tons of vapor from the sea—and then dump it all back as rain.

The word "hurricane" was one of the earliest imports from the New World. Many hurricanes originate in the West Indies, and the early Portuguese who visited there ran into both the wind and the word.

Some of the natives had a god called Hurakan, in charge of the lightning and thunder department. But the word generally meant not only the big wind, but also the evil spirit.

The Portuguese took the word home with them, to describe what had happened.

Some of mankind's worst disasters have come from hurricanes. But we now have one advantage over the Caribbean natives: At least we know it is coming, and can be prepared.

During World War II, the Air Force, Navy and Weather Bureau joined forces to spy on hurricanes and assorted thunderstorms. Flights still are being made into the heart of the storm, and its progress is further checked from the shore by radar.

The Weather Bureau has learned that a little warning often can save property. Ships can detour, buildings can be boarded up, equipment and goods in low areas can be moved away.

More important, it also can save lives. Resort owners often complain, though, that guests leave perfectly safe beaches to fight their way home over dangerous highways.

One example of the value of a warning: In 1928, an unexpected storm pushed a 12-foot wall of water over the edge of Lake Okeechobee, in Southern Florida, leaving 1,836 dead. In 1949, a similar storm swept in, but its coming was so well advertised that nearly everyone was able to leave the danger spots, and only two persons were killed.

Still, there's a lot to be learned about hurricanes. One of the last acts of Congress, before its recent adjournment, was an appropriation for a half-million dollars to be used in hurricane research.

One of the most talked about hurricanes was the 1938 storm that hit New England, killing 600. But that doesn't compare with that horrible day in 1900 when the wind roared steadily for 18 hours, rolling huge waves over Galveston, Tex., and leaving behind a destroyed city and 5,000 dead.

Nor was this the worst of all. Back in 1876, a ferocious storm hit India. The death toll: An estimated 100,000.

Snake's Killing Not Malicious

LONDON, Aug. 11 (AP) — Mrs. Stella Ling told a suburban magistrate's court recently her pet snake "Screwball" was so tame she rode in buses and subways with him coiled around her waist.

She was appearing against her neighbor, David Frampton, accused of "maliciously killing" the 4½-foot constrictor.

Frampton testified he didn't have the slightest idea the snake was a pet of Mrs. Ling's. He said he killed the reptile with a stick after it reared and hissed at him in the garden.

"Case dismissed," said the magistrate, Mrs. S. G. Hawkey. "The bench feels there is a considerable doubt as to any malicious intent."

She was appearing against her neighbor, David Frampton, accused of "maliciously killing" the 4½-foot constrictor.

Frampton testified he didn't have the slightest idea the snake was a pet of Mrs. Ling's. He said he killed the reptile with a stick after it reared and hissed at him in the garden.

"Case dismissed," said the magistrate, Mrs. S. G. Hawkey. "The bench feels there is a considerable doubt as to any malicious intent."

Spiritual Tone In Washington Has Heightened

By GEORGE W. CORNELL

NEW YORK, Aug. 11 (AP) — You hear a lot of talk today about a heightened spiritual tone in the nation's capital.

It's there, all right, in various forms.

Some critics have belittled it as political dressing — as "Piety on the Potomac." But many others, sensing a new religious mood in official Washington, have called it a blessing.

Whatever the implications, the atmosphere of reverence has become more confinon ever since the Bible-reared man from Abilene moved into the White House and in his first words as President said:

"I ask that you bow your heads."

He again pleaded for prayers of his countrymen when he headed for the recent Big Four conference, and almost his first stop in Geneva was at a church.

Senate and House groups meet regularly for scripture readings, inspirational talks and prayer. A meditation room has been set up off the Capitol rotunda. Cabinet meetings generally open on a prayerful note.

On a Sunday morning, you'll find many government officials in church. President Eisenhower almost always is in his pew, about eight rows from the front of the National Presbyterian church, joining heartily in the hymn-singing.

His favorite: "What a Friend We Have in Jesus."

But aside from these widely known religious manifestations, some of the country's most forceful lay church leaders now occupy high places in the federal administration.

Chief of these is Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, son of a clergyman and a Presbyterian elder himself, who has been an ardent, and influential churchman throughout his career.

"There is no substitute," he once said, "for God's purpose in the hearts of men."

Dulles left a job in the international affairs department of the World Council of Churches to take his Cabinet post. Before that, for nearly a decade, he headed an interdenominational commission for a just and durable peace — to focus Christian principles on government.

Do-It-Yourself Fans Add To Woes Of Moving Men

By ARTHUR EDSON

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10 (AP)—We are a restless, unsettled people, eternally on the move.

And 450 delegates who rejoice in this nomadic fact are the nation's capital today for the annual meeting of the movers conference of America.

Their statistics look impressive:

Each year a couple of million families move to another state, or maybe even another continent. An additional four million families move, but don't leave their home state. Other millions also move, but since they stay in the same city, or maybe even in the same apartment building, they don't count with the long distance movers.

All this adds up to 4,000 companies, with 25,000 vans humping along the highways, fetching in a half billion dollars in business each year.

Still, everything isn't completely rosy in the moving business. In our complex civilization, each new development may create unexpected problems.

Take the do-it-yourself craze.

In the old days, a mover could count on one solid fact: A piece of furniture that went into a house certainly would come out. But now our busybody handyman may have gone into a room and put together his own furniture, without thinking of ever trying to move it. Or he may have remodeled the house so the escape hatches are smaller.

"We have reports," said Thomas Kingsley of the Movers' Headquarters, "not only of having to take out door jambs, but in some cases of having to remove the brick itself."

One electrical appliance has proved so pesky it is the subject of a booklet, "regarding the handling and transport of laden home freezers."

"We have found," Kingsley said, "that a freezer doesn't make a very good container for carrying 450 pounds of food."

Some companies still will handle a loaded freezer for short hauls, but the best advice for the moving freezer owner is: "Eat heartily."

Kingsley said moving companies tell their employes to remember they are entering homes "during a time of stress," and that they should show understanding.

Charity rackets are currently getting about $100,000,000 of the total of close to two billion dollars being given to private philanthropy in the U. S.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11 (AP) — American farmers will produce the largest combined volume of crop and livestock products in history this year if present favorable prospects continue.

This bountiful output was forecast by the Agriculture Department today in the face of rigid federal planting restrictions which had been placed on a number of major crops designed to keep surpluses from becoming larger. The surpluses are already of record size.

HONG KONG, Aug. 11 (AP)—The American consulate in this British crown colony on the border of Red China will invite bids soon for construction of a new four-story building to house all U.S. government offices here. The present two-story consulate will be demolished.

Bendix Income Up

NEW YORK, Aug. 11 (AP)—Bendix Aviation Corp. reported today its net income for nine months ended June 30 rose to $19,778,696 equal to $4.53 a share from $17,901,493 or $3.95 a share in the previous period.

DuMont Announces Reorganization Plan

NEW YORK, Aug. 11 (AP)—Allen B. DuMont Laboratories Inc. announced today reorganization of its capital structure and severance of the DuMont Television Network from the parent company's electronic research, development and manufacturing operations.

The plan calls for creation of a new company, DuMont Broadcasting Corp., and for reclassification of class "A" and "B" common stocks into one class of common.

The plan calls for the new broadcasting company to own and operate TV stations WABD in New York, WTTG in Washington, D.C., and the DuMont Telecenter in midtown Manhattan.

Library Of Congress Acquires Another Rare Book

By ARTHUR EDSON

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11 (AP)—The rare books sections of the Library of Congress proudly reported today the addition of another valuable work.

It's one of the early editions of "Histoires ou Contes du Temps Passe," or, as it's better known to its millions of loyal English speaking admirers, "Tales of Mother Goose."

Charles Perrault, a French author, wrote some highly controversial work in his day. But he's remembered now for the folk tales he jotted down in 1695. Two years later they were published.

The library's copy dates back to 1697.

"Trying to collect early children's books is a real problem," J. M. Edelstein of the rare books section said. "You know how children are. They really use books. They chew them, they love them, they use them for weapons, they take them to bed with them. We were lucky to get one in such good condition."

Perrault's title means, "Stories of Times Past," but it's the note at the front that made English history. For it said, "Contes de ma Mere l'Oie," or, "Stories from Mother Goose."

In the library's edition are such faithfuls as "Le Petit Chaperon Rouge," or "Little Red Riding Hood."

"La Belle au Bois Dormant," or "Sleeping Beauty."

"Cendrillon, ou la Petite Pantoufle de Verre," or "Cinderella."

"Le Maitre Chat, ou le Chat Botte," which in English comes out merely, "Puss in Boots."

So much is written about the library's work in the loftiest scholastic fields—it has one of the world's finest collection of Oriental literature, for example—that it's often forgotten the library is deeply interested in kid stuff, too.

Edelstein credits his predecessor V. Valta Parma, with playing a major role in this. Valta Parma, apparently an admirer of the value of advertising, passed along to newspapers and radio commentators the word that the library needed books that appealed to yesterday's youngsters.

Valta Parma reasoned—correctly, it turned out—that many of these books were stashed away in attics, and that they would be dug out when their owners heard the library was interested in them.

So the man who helps care for some of man's greatest literary treasures, including the Gutenberg Bible, can also say:

"We have a fine collection of dime novels, and an almost complete set of Horatio Alger books."

Star Of 'Oklahoma!' Dies In Milan, Italy

MILAN, Italy, Aug. 11 (AP) — Blonde Jean Bradley, leading lady of the American musical "Oklahoma!" died tonight after suffering a polio attack.

The show at Milan's Nuovo Theater was suspended when word of the actress' death was received from Bergamo Hospital a few minutes before the curtain was to go up.

The company had announced earlier today that another actress was taking Miss Bradley's part tonight.

The young actress had been rushed to the hospital yesterday after suddenly becoming ill.

AEC Chairman Gets Mixed Up

GENEVA, Aug. 11 (AP)—Chairman Lewis L. Strauss of the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission got a news conference mixed up with a Senate hearing today.

Opening up the news conference, he said:

"The other day, just as the hearings closed . . ."

Interrupted by laughter, Strauss grinned and corrected himself: "Just as the press conference closed the other day."

He said he nearly addressed a questioning reporter as senator and added:

"I daresay all that laughter was from American reporters."

Bolivia Tin Magnate Files Divorce Suit

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 11 (AP) — Antenor Patino, Bolivian tin magnate, has filed suit for divorce from Maria Cristina de Bourbon—his wife for 24 years—on grounds of abandonment, Judge Alberto Garza said today.

The Patinos made international headlines last year when their daughter, Isabela, 18, eloped with James Goldsmith, son of a British hotel owner, over the objections of the Patinos. Isabela later died in childbirth.

Judge Garza said he has asked authorities in Paris to notify Mrs. Patino of the suit and request her to name an attorney.

Housecleaning After Reactor Blast Described

GENEVA, Aug. 11 (AP) — The atoms-for-peace conference got details today on the housecleaning required in a reactor building in Norway after a recent mishap with a batch of uranium.

More than six pounds of uranium burst out of its aluminum container and sprayed the building with dangerous dust.

The developments were described in a report by scientists dealing with the operation of a joint Dutch-Norwegian experimental atomic pile at Kjeller, Norway.

There were no injures to members of the staff.

"All personnel were immediately evacuated from the building," the report said, "and before reentry in protection clothing and masks were allowed to re-enter the building, air samples were taken.

"Primarily the burst slug had to be removed. It was transferred to a container by means of long tongs, where it was soaked in oil to prevent more dust from escaping. Vacuum cleaners were then used for removing the major part of active dust. . . .

"The vacuum cleaners were so highly active they were disposed of in concrete drums. The cleaning job was then commenced with brushes and water, the washing being continued day and night over the entire building for four consecutive days.

"Most of the activity was then removed, but some was left in cracks in the concrete floor. After monitoring, however, it was decided the remaining activity was not dangerous. Liquid floor polish was then used for binding the dust in the cracks, the waxing of the floor being repeated several times."

News Briefs

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Population experts predict that South America will have more than 240 million people by 1980. The 1950 population was 110 million.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11 (AP) — The U.S. Information Agency is using 38 languages to describe the Geneva conference on peaceful uses of atomic energy to the world.

The agency is employing radio, press, photo and TV facilities and is using first hand accounts from a team of writers and commentators at the meeting. It is also quoting editorial comment from this country and abroad.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11 (AP)—The General Services Administration has announced a plan to permit federal employes to have air conditioning installed in their offices at their own expense.

The workers would pay for the equipment as individual or groups and would retain title to it. The government would provide electricity to operate the coolers and would keep the machine in repair.

KINGSTON, Ont., Aug. 11 (AP) — Youngsters from Canada, the United States, Latin America, Greece, Japan, Jamaica and Yugoslavia will meet at Queens University here Aug. 22-30 in a junior Red Cross Canadian - American seminar.

AEC Chairman Gets Mixed Up

GENEVA, Aug. 11 (AP)—Chairman Lewis L. Strauss of the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission got a news conference mixed up with a Senate hearing today.

Opening up the news conference, he said:

"The other day, just as the hearings closed . . ."

Interrupted by laughter, Strauss grinned and corrected himself: "Just as the press conference closed the other day."

He said he nearly addressed a questioning reporter as senator and added:

"I daresay all that laughter was from American reporters."

Bolivia Tin Magnate Files Divorce Suit

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 11 (AP) — Antenor Patino, Bolivian tin magnate, has filed suit for divorce from Maria Cristina de Bourbon—his wife for 24 years—on grounds of abandonment, Judge Alberto Garza said today.

The Patinos made international headlines last year when their daughter, Isabela, 18, eloped with James Goldsmith, son of a British hotel owner, over the objections of the Patinos. Isabela later died in childbirth.

Judge Garza said he has asked authorities in Paris to notify Mrs. Patino of the suit and request her to name an attorney.

Housecleaning After Reactor Blast Described

GENEVA, Aug. 11 (AP) — The atoms-for-peace conference got details today on the housecleaning required in a reactor building in Norway after a recent mishap with a batch of uranium.

More than six pounds of uranium burst out of its aluminum container and sprayed the building with dangerous dust.

The developments were described in a report by scientists dealing with the operation of a joint Dutch-Norwegian experimental atomic pile at Kjeller, Norway.

There were no injures to members of the staff.

"All personnel were immediately evacuated from the building," the report said, "and before men in protection clothing and masks were allowed to re-enter the building, air samples were taken.

"Primarily the burst slug had to be removed. It was transferred to a container by means of long tongs, where it was soaked in oil to prevent more dust from escaping. Vacuum cleaners were then used for removing the major part of active dust. . . .

"The vacuum cleaners were so highly active they were disposed of in concrete drums. The cleaning job was then commenced with brushes and water, the washing being continued day and night over the entire building for four consecutive days.

"Most of the activity was then removed, but some was left in cracks in the concrete floor. After monitoring, however, it was decided the remaining activity was not dangerous. Liquid floor polish was then used for binding the dust in the cracks, the waxing of the floor being repeated several times."

Club History Reviewed In Program

Twenty-three Allegany County Homemaker Clubs joined the Flintstone Club in its 40th anniversary celebration Wednesday evening at the school. Among the honored guests were Mrs. Leona Powell Fairey, Orangeburg, S. C., Allegany County's first home demonstration agent, and her former secretary, Mrs. Mary Close Davis, Frostburg.

The program began with the flag salute and singing of the National Anthem with Mrs. Arthur Howard and Mrs. Curtis Nash, flag bearers. Mrs. Guy Thompson welcomed the group. A pageant, "Time Marches On," was narrated by Mrs. Howard Robinette. Charter members gave their recollections of their first meeting in the old Flintstone School and elected Mrs. Leah Twigg, president; Miss Lena Twigg, secretary; Mrs. Nan Wigfield, treasurer. Other living charter members are Mrs. B. C. Robinette, Mrs. William Browning, Mrs. B. M. Hinkle, Mrs. E. J. Roberts and Mrs. Willie Perrin. Mrs. Fairey and Mrs. Davis told of their experiences and the curb markets at Cumberland City Hall, where the club women sold their garden produce, and the later markets in the old armory.

They also told of Mrs. Fairey and John McGill, first county agent, organizing the Allegany County Farmers Picnics in 1915 to create interest in farm groups; of a national Secretary of Agriculture as guest speaker and a record attendance of 12,000.

The narrator told of Miss Rhea Morgan coming as agent in 1919 and her fireless cooker demonstrations. Miss Bess Volk followed in 1922 and continued until Miss Maude A. Bean came from Nebraska in 1925. Her first demonstration was on sewing machine attachments. When she retired in 1951 the Flintstone club paid tribute to her in its theme booth, "A Sower Went Forth To Sow." She was followed in 1952 by Mrs. Evelyn Hutson Quesenberry. Miss Thelma Allen served until replaced by Miss Jo-ann Reitz. Miss Mary P. Wise, the present agent, arrived in time to help with the 1954 Fair. Miss Justine Miller is her assistant.

Noting that the 4-H Clubs were organized in 1925, it was pointed out that prior to that they were known as garden clubs, canning clubs, sewing clubs, or calf clubs. Mrs. Harry Bender, one of the first 4-H girls, told of her club experiences and so did Mrs. Thelma Ryan Gordon, who later became assistant to Miss Bean.

Mrs. Paul Gilford, president of the Allegany Homemakers Chorus, led group singing of the World War I era. The chorus also sang a group of songs from musicals of that era. They were "Alice Blue Gown," "Little Liza Jane," "When You Wore a Tulip," "I'm Forever Blowing Bubbles," "Let the Rest of the World Go By," "Smiling Through," and "Aufwiedersthen." Plays of the early 1930s were recalled in song by a sextet composed of Miss Pearl Wilson, Mrs. B. C. Robinette, Mrs. Wigfield, Mrs. Nellie Chaney, Mrs. Russell Dolly and Mrs. R. T. Gilson.

A pantomime on "Old Spinning Wheel in the Parlor," was given by Mrs. Nash and Lawrence Kyle. Mrs. Chester Robinette showed pictures of club activities, picnics, 4-H meetings, local people and different fairs. Mrs. B. C. Robinette gave highlights of a national home demonstration council she attended when county president. Mrs. H. C. Willison told of the program.

Elegant Cottons For Parties

All that glitters is not gold, for the newly shaped dance dresses glisten in embroidered corduroys, jewel-toned velveteens, and lustrous cotton satins, reports the National Cotton Council.

For the girl that likes to sparkle, there's no color quite like spotlight red, and no fabric quite like embroidered corduroy. Casting a spell is the one-shouldered blouse and full skirt that's covered with gold embroidery for oriental splendor.

Also in date tempo are the tailored dresses made in luxurious cottons. A shirtdress in creme corduroy glistens with gold embroidered panels and scattered paisley motifs. A long-sleeved coat dress in beige velveteen features an eastern pattern in western colors.

A date-time celebrity is printed corduroy. What could be prettier than a full skirt, wide collar, and bare armed dancing dress? The velvet-like corduroy has a print of giant-size flowers in black and white.

A great piece of casting is the little theatre suit in paisley-printed velveteen. One style right in the heart of fashion has a princess-line sheath with its own finger-tip jacket. Other theatre suits are fashioned in beige and black velveteen or corduroy, and some are glamorized with mink collars.

DATE-MAKER—Getting a big rush — a romantic flower-printed corduroy date dress by Emma Domb. The neckline dips low, the collar wide, and the skirt is flared for a party-fling.

Mr., Mrs. P.C. Weisenmiller Mark 35th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Paul C. Weisenmiller observed their 35th wedding anniversary at an informal family party last evening at their home, 532 North Centre Street.

"Family Fun," presented with the Polish Mountain club. Corsages were presented to Mrs. John S. Cook, county president; the charter members, special guests, about 17 past presidents and eight RWSC graduates.

A memorial service conducted by Mrs. E. H. Roland concluded the program. Deceased honored were Mrs. A. W. Frazee, Mrs. D. W. Robinette, Mrs. J. W. Robinette, Miss Anna Beck, Mrs. Dennis Bennett, Mrs. Laura Browning, Mrs. A. P. Twigg, Mrs. Millard Chaney, Mrs. Herman Browning, Mrs. C. T. Robosson and Mrs. J. R. House.

Green and white decorations were used and repeated in the trimming of the anniversary cake. Approximately 250 attended. The Steering committee consisted of Mrs. Harry Bender, Mrs. B. C. Robinette, Mrs. Howard Robinette, Mrs. Chester Robinette, Mrs. Thompson and Mrs. Howard. The Refreshment committee included Mrs. Leah Twigg, Mrs. R. T. Gilson, Mrs. Wigfield, Mrs. Nellie Chaney and Mrs. Russell Dolly.

The former Miss Lillian Smith daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William H. Smith, Cumberland, became the bride of Paul Conrad Weisenmiller, son of Mrs. Jacob Weisenmiller, August 11, 1920. The ceremony was solemnized in SS. Peter and Paul rectory, with the late Rev. Chilian O. F. M., Cap., officiating.

Mr. and Mrs. Wisenmiller are the parents of three sons, and a daughter, who was killed by a car 25 years ago. The sons are Paul William Wensenmiller, who is associated in business with his father; Robert J. Weisenmiller, a state police trooper at Waldorf, Md., and Jack M. Weisenmiller, with the Navy in France. They have four grandchildren.

Working in sheet metal for the past 45 years, Mr. Weisenmiller has owned and operated his own business for the past seven years. Prior to that he was for 20 years with Hartman and Weisenmiller. He is a member of the 40 and 8, American Legion, VFW, Outdoor Club, and Men of LaSalle. His biggest hobby is fishing.

Mrs. Wisenmiller is a member of the Legion Auxiliary, 8 and 40 and Navy Mothers Club.

A pageant, "Time Marches On," was narrated by Mrs. Howard Robinette. Charter members gave their recollections of their first meeting in the old Flintstone School and elected Mrs. Leah Twigg, president; Miss Lena Twigg, secretary; Mrs. Nan Wigfield, treasurer. Other living charter members are Mrs. B. C. Robinette, Mrs. William Browning, Mrs. B. M. Hinkle, Mrs. E. J. Roberts and Mrs. Willie Perrin. Mrs. Fairey and Mrs. Davis told of their experiences and the curb markets at Cumberland City Hall, where the club women sold their garden produce, and the later markets in the old armory.

They also told of Mrs. Fairey and John McGill, first county agent, organizing the Allegany County Farmers Picnics in 1915 to create interest in farm groups; of a national Secretary of Agriculture as guest speaker and a record attendance of 12,000.

The narrator told of Miss Rhea Morgan coming as agent in 1919 and her fireless cooker demonstrations. Miss Bess Volk followed in 1922 and continued until Miss Maude A. Bean came from Nebraska in 1925. Her first demonstration was on sewing machine attachments. When she retired in 1951 the Flintstone club paid tribute to her in its theme booth, "A Sower Went Forth To Sow." She was followed in 1952 by Mrs. Evelyn Hutson Quesenberry. Miss Thelma Allen served until replaced by Miss Joann Reitz. Miss Mary P. Wise, the present agent, arrived in time to help with the 1954 Fair. Miss Justine Miller is her assistant.

Noting that the 4-H Clubs were organized in 1925, it was pointed out that prior to that they were known as garden clubs, canning clubs, sewing clubs, or calf clubs. Mrs. Harry Bender, one of the first 4-H girls, told of her club experiences and so did Mrs. Thelma Ryan Gordon, who later became assistant to Miss Bean.

Mrs. Paul Gilford, president of the Allegany Homemakers Chorus, led group singing of the World War I era. The chorus also sang a group of songs from musicals of that era. They were "Alice Blue Gown," "Little Liza Jane," "When You Wore a Tulip," "I'm Forever Blowing Bubbles," "Let the Rest of the World Go By," "Smiling Through," and "Auf wiedersthen." Plays of the early 1930s were recalled in song by a sextet composed of Miss Pearl Wilson, Mrs. B. C. Robinette, Mrs. Wigfield, Mrs. Nellie Chaney, Mrs. Russell Dolly and Mrs. R. T. Gilson.

A pantomime on "Old Spinning Wheel in the Parlor," was given by Mrs. Nash and Lawrence Kyle. Mrs. Chester Robinette showed pictures of club activities, picnics, 4-H meetings, local people and different fairs. Mrs. B. C. Robinette gave highlights of a national home demonstration council she attended when county president. Mrs. H. C. Willison told of the program,

Elegant Cottons For Parties

All that glitters is not gold, for the newly shaped dance dresses glisten in embroidered corduroys, jewel-toned velveteens, and lustrous cotton satins, reports the National Cotton Council.

For the girl that likes to sparkle, there's no color quite like spotlight red, and no fabric quite like embroidered corduroy. Casting a spell is the one-shouldered blouse and full skirt that's covered with gold embroidery for oriental splendor.

Also in date tempo are the tailored dresses made in luxurious cottons. A shirtdress in creme corduroy glistens with gold embroidered panels and scattered paisley motifs. A long-sleeved coat dress in beige velveteen features an eastern pattern in western colors.

A date-time celebrity is printed corduroy. What could be prettier than a full skirt, wide collar, and bare armed dancing dress? The velvet-like corduroy has a print of giant-size flowers in black and white.

A great piece of casting is the little theatre suit in paisley-printed velveteen. One style right in the heart of fashion has a princess-line sheath with its own finger-tip jacket. Other theatre suits are fashioned in beige and black velveteen or corduroy, and some are glamorized with mink collars.

DATE-MAKER—Getting a big rush — a romantic flower-printed corduroy date dress by Emma Domb. The neckline dips low, the collar wide, and the skirt is flared for a party-fling.

Mr., Mrs. P.C. Weisenmiller Mark 35th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Paul C. Weisenmiller observed their 35th wedding anniversary at an informal family party last evening at their home, 532 North Centre Street.

"Family Fun," presented with the Polish Mountain club. Corsages were presented to Mrs. John S. Cook, county president; the charter members, special guests, about 17 past presidents and eight RWSC graduates.

A memorial service conducted by Mrs. E. H. Roland concluded the program. Deceased honored were Mrs. A. W. Frazee, Mrs. D. W. Robinette, Mrs. J. W. Robinette, Miss Anna Beck, Mrs. Dennis Bennett, Mrs. Laura Browning, Mrs. A. P. Twigg, Mrs. Millard Chaney, Mrs. Herman Browning, Mrs. C. T. Robosson and Mrs. J. R. House.

Green and white decorations were used and repeated in the trimming of the anniversary cake. Approximately 250 attended. The Steering committee consisted of Mrs. Harry Bender, Mrs. B. C. Robinette, Mrs. Howard Robinette, Mrs. Chester Robinette, Mrs. Thompson and Mrs. Howard. The Refreshment committee included Mrs. Leah Twigg, Mrs. R. T. Gilson, Mrs. Wigfield, Mrs. Nellie Chaney and Mrs. Russell Dolly.

The former Miss Lillian Smith daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William H. Smith, Cumberland, became the bride of Paul Conrad Weisenmiller, son of Mrs. Jacob Weisenmiller, August 11, 1920. The ceremony was solemnized in SS. Peter and Paul rectory, with the late Rev. Chilian O. F. M., Cap., officiating.

Mr. and Mrs. Wisenmiller are the parents of three sons, and a daughter, who was killed by a car 25 years ago. The sons are Paul William Wensenmiller, who is associated in business with his father; Robert J. Weisenmiller, a state police trooper at Waldorf, Md., and Jack M. Weisenmiller, with the Navy in France. They have four grandchildren.

Working in sheet metal for the past 45 years, Mr. Weisenmiller has owned and operated his own business for the past seven years. Prior to that he was for 20 years with Hartman and Weisenmiller. He is a member of the 40 and 8, American Legion, VFW, Outdoor Club, and Men of LaSalle. His biggest hobby is fishing.

Mrs. Wisenmiller is a member of the Legion Auxiliary, 8 and 40 and Navy Mothers Club.

Reactor Is Made To Blow Its Top In Safety Tests

CHICAGO, Aug. 11 (AP)—Details of safety tests on an atomic reactor which was made to "run wild" in more than 200 safety experiments were described recently by Argone National Laboratory.

The scientists made the reactor, known as Borax 1, literally blow its top.

But the experiments demonstrated that a properly designed, water-cooled and moderate nuclear reactor will automatically shut itself down, if allowed to get out of control, before excessively high temperatures cause heavy destruction.

The tests have demonstrated an important safety factor for private industry which is getting ready to go into the field of atomic energy to supply electric power.

The experimental reactor was built by Argonne scientists and engineers in 1953 at the Atomic Energy Commission's national reactor testing station in Idaho, under the direction of Dr. Walter H. Zinn, laboratory director.

The reactor consisted of a core assembly of plates made of enriched uranium and aluminum immersed in water inside a steel bank or reactor vessel. The vessel was inside a larger, open tank, which was partially buried in the ground. Earth was piled around the protruding section of the tank for shielding. The reactor was operated by remote control a half mile away.

The experiments simulated hypothetical reactor accidents in which control rods lost effectiveness, allowing power to increase at a rapid rate.

When the main rod was suddenly ejected, allowing the reactor power and heat to shoot up, it produced a steam which not only checked the rise in power but reduced it to a low level.

When this power rise occurred suddenly, the inside of the tank was illuminated by a flash of light originating in ionization and radiation action.

But heat, liberated by the fissioning of uranium atoms, caused steam to form around the fuel plates.

The scientists actually tried to destroy the reactor in a test on July 22, 1954. The power was shot up suddenly and a column of dark grey smoke shot out of the reactor to a height of 80 feet. There was a sharp detonation.

In a few seconds the smoke cleared away. It was apparent the entire superstructure of the reactor, had achieved maximum power of more than 10 million kilowatts.

Most of the fuel plates had been melted. The pressure resulting from the molten metal in contact with water had burst the open reactor tank, carried away the control rod mechanism and tossed the remains of the reactor core high into the air.

Most of the fuel element fragments fell to earth within a radius of 200 feet around the reactor. There was no appreciable radioactive fall-out at a distance greater than a few hundred feet.

Although the reactor was damaged, the explosion was a relatively mild one, comparable to a few pounds of TNT. There was no atomic explosion, which would have been thousands of times greater.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

You've seen them on television, on the so-called audience participation programs—the guests who have no idea of what to do with their hands. This awkwardness betrays nervousness that spoils a good impression, but it need never happen to you.

Two simple tricks can make you look as poised as a professional. Stand with your hands behind your back and a little understandable finger fluttering or fist clenching won't show. Or, clasp one hand lightly with the other in front of you. This attitude will seem comfortable enough to hold while you direct your attention elsewhere.

Practice before a mirror to develop graceful ease. Stand first with arms dangling. Notice how this position neither looks or feels right, as it never does to anyone who hasn't considerable stage presence. Now, try clasping your hands behind your back with your arms held slightly away from your body. Then try clasping your hands in front below your waist with elbows slightly bent. Never press your arms to your sides, which is both unflattering to arms and betrays tenseness.

You may never be thrust center stage on a coast-to-coast hook-up, but there's always the chance of being called on to stand up before a local group you belong to, and no one is proud of looking flustered. My booklet, "Your Posture" (address me, c/o this newspaper, enclosing 10c in coin and stamped, self-addressed envelope), includes a section on what the Girls call "Basic Standing" — a combination of correct alignment and arrangement of hands and feet that is the basis of numerous graceful positions. Send for the booklet and learn to face sudden limelight with composure.

Tomorrow—Crossing the threshold.

Historic House Will Be Moved

ANNAPOLIS, Aug. 11 (AP) — Historic Annapolis announced today that the moving of the 18th Century Carroll-Davis house to a site on the St. John's campus will be a feature of its fifth Annapolis Open House Sept. 9-10.

The society, formed to preserve and promote Colonial attractions of the city, recently completed a campaign to raise $20,000 to save the 233-year-old building from wrecking crews and move it from its present location on Main Street.

The three-story frame dwelling was the birthplace of Revolutionary patriot Charles Carroll, the barrister, author of Maryland's Bill of Rights.

It will be moved nine blocks through the downtown section to a site on the St. John's campus opposite gate 4 of the Naval Academy.

The move is to be completed within 24 hours, in contrast to 12 months which was required to move the three-story Pinkney house across College Avenue on rollers during the early 1900's to make way for the Court of Appeals Building.

The Carroll-Davis house was donated to the society by Joseph Greenfield, Annapolis merchant who bought it at public auction, on condition it be relocated.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11 (AP)—The Civil Aeronautics Administration today began an investigation of a plane crash in which two University of Maryland students were killed.

Miss Mary Ann Rodgers, 20, of Chevy Chase, and Charles Dickinson, 23, of Baltimore, died in the crash which apparently occurred shortly after their take off from a Chestertown, Md., airport at 5 p.m. Sunday.

A belated search resulted in discovery Wednesday morning of the light plane's wreckage in the Maryland Eastern Shore community of Rock Hall. Miss Dickinson's body was found on the shore. Dickinson's was inside the wreckage.

Miss Mary Ann Rodgers, 20, of Chevy Chase, and Charles Dickinson, 23, of Baltimore, died in the crash which apparently occurred shortly after their take off from a Chestertown, Md., airport at 5 p.m. Sunday.

A belated search resulted in discovery Wednesday morning of the light plane's wreckage in the Maryland Eastern Shore community of Rock Hall. Miss Dickinson's body was found on the shore. Dickinson's was inside the wreckage.

Assessments Increased By Most W. Va. Counties

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Aug. 11 (AP)—A majority of the 55 counties in the state increased their property assessments this year, figures compiled by the West Virginia Chamber of Commerce showed.

The figures, released in a chamber report today, show 45 counties with increases in property assessment totaling $77,772,340.

An act of the 1955 special session of the Legislature required that all counties have their 1956-57 assessments up to at least 35 per cent of the true and actual value of non-utility property as determined by the State Tax Commissioner or suffer a proportionate loss in the amount of state school aid they receive.

The act further stipulates that the percentage must be increased each year until they reach 50 per cent of actual values in 1959-60.

The chamber points to eight counties which "were under the gun" this year in that their assessments were far below the stipulated levels.

The counties and their 1954 and 1055 assessments were:

Berkeley, $44,271,845 in 1954 to $45,388,180 in 1955, an increase of 2.5 per cent; Fayette, $85,588,870 to $85,134,470, a drop of 0.5 per cent; Hancock, $92,978,425 to $99,982,723, 7.5 per cent increase; Kanawha, $411,996,375 to $421,989,950, 2.4 per cent increase.

Marion, $107,634,649 to $108,743,008, 1 per cent increase; Mingo, $62,503,050 to $64,566,000, 3.3 per cent increase; Putnam, $30,802,540 to $32l979,980, 7.1 per cent increase, and Randolph, $31,870,060 to $33,083,535, 3.8 per cent increase.

The figures show that all of the low counties except Fayette have made a start toward conforming with the act. The chamber pointed out, however, that they have to improve their ratios even further in 1956 to assure them a full share of state aid.

TAKES HELM—Gov. Theodore McKeldin of Maryland takes the wheel of the U. S. S. Constellation as the Navy's oldest ship arrives in Baltimore after being carried from Boston on an oceangoing drydock. The ship will be permanently enshrined at Ft. McHenry.

Gas Station Trash Barrels Proposed

BALTIMORE, Aug. 11 (AP)—The governor's Keep Maryland Beautiful Committee said today it is campaigning to get filling station operators to set up trash cans near their gas pumps.

It announced it would lend or sell stencils so the barrels can be marked:

"Deposit Trash Here and Keep Maryland Beautiful."

"While the motorist gets gas," said the committee, "he can reach out the car window and deposit chewing gum wrappers, cigarette packs, cups and old newspapers into the trash barrel."

Joseph F. Kaylor, State director of forests and parks, announced the slogan will be lettered on trash barrels in all State parks in the hope it will cut down the amount of cleaning up maintenance men now have to do.

Ike Signs Survey Bill

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11 (AP) — President Eisenhower today signed a bill authorizing the Coast and Geodetic Survey to assist Maryland and Delaware in reestablishing their common boundary.

Maryland Farm Prices Steady At Lower Level

COLLEGE PARK, Md., Aug. 11 (AP)—Maryland farm prices held steady in July, the Maryland Corp Reporting Service said today, and still are well below the levels of a year ago.

The price index used by market statisticians stood at 251 on July 15. It was the same a month earlier. A year ago it was 276.

Nationally, the farm price index sagged six points from mid-June to mid-July but still was only eight points lower than July of 1954.

The Maryland ratio of prices received to prices paid also remained steady at 89 from June to July. It was 99 a year ago.

The Crop Reporting Service said prices for meat animals, chickens, most grains, vegetables and tobacco declined last month, but these losses were offset by higher returns for corn, milk, eggs, apples and peaches.

Wheat was off an average of 13 cents a bushel, oats 6, barley 9, rye 20 and soybeans 15. Corn went up a cent.

Hogs went down 40 cents a hundred pounds, beef cattle 30 cents and calves 80 cents.

But the fruit price index jumped all the way from 320 to 398, largely because Maryland peaches escaped the spring freeze which hit so many other peach growing sections of the country.

The tobacco index went down from 547 to 526. A year ago it stood at 720.

Commercial broiler prices went down less than half a cent a pound but the average price of eggs went up three cents a dozen.

The wholesale price of milk jumped sharply from $4.40 to $4.90 a hundred pounds.

Doctor Is Indicted On Morals Charge

BALTIMORE, Aug. 11 (AP) — Dr. William Kessler, 30-year-old native of Cincinnati, Ohio, and a member of the staff at Baltimore City Hospitals, was indicted by the grand jury today on a charge of having carnal knowledge of a 15-year-old tuberculosis patient.

Dr. Kessler originally was arrested last Saturday on a charge of rape. The grand jury indicted him on the lesser charge after hearing testimony of witnesses at various times over the past three days.

He also was indicted on charges of placing his hands on the girl and with a similar assault upon a 16-year-old patient. Both patients are Negroes. Kessler is white. He is not married.

The doctor is free on $5,000 bond.

Hurricane Alert For State's Coast Is Hauled Down

BALTIMORE, Aug. 11 (AP)—Maryland relaxed Thursday night as Hurricane Connie headed for the Carolinas and promised to batter itself down to size there before blowing north.

The Weather Bureau hauled down hurricane alerts for the area north of the Virginia Capes.

Northeast storm warnings for Chesapeake Bay continued for northeast winds 15-25 miles-an-hour, gradually increasing Friday to gale force or higher in the lower bay area.

The Weather Bureau said tides in extreme southern Maryland bay and coastal areas may rise as much as 3 to 5 feet above normal and about 1 to 3 feet above in the central and north sections on Friday.

It said heavier rains are expected to remain to the south.

With Connie expected to whirl inland into North Carolina before moving northward, the Weather Bureau said:

"It no longer appears there will be danger of hurricane winds from Connie over the area north of the Virginia Capes."

Role In Tragedy Gets Recognition

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., Aug. 11 (AP)—A former Morgantown resident proposes to give belated recognition to his grandfather's role in one of the nation's most historic tragedies.

William S. Titus of Baltimore, a former resident of Morgantown, has arranged for an epitaph on a stone at the grave of his grandfather, William McPeck. The inscription, to be engraved by a local monument firm will read:

"William McPeck, born August 13, 1838—Died October 17, 1921. His spirit gone to the unknown land where he helped usher that of the martyred here, Lincoln."

McPeck was a Union soldier with the Third West Virginia Infantry Regiment. He was on duty outside Ford's Theater that April night in 1865 when President Lincoln was mortally wounded.

McPeck was one of the soldiers who helped with moving the dying president out of the theater and across the street to a private home, where he died a few hours later.

Titus was quoted that he came across information concerning his grandfather while going through some old papers in his mother's home at Pittsburgh.

Sightseeing Trips, Parties Keep 4-H Clubbers Busy

COLLEGE PARK, Md., Aug. 11 (AP)—Sightseeing trips and parties kept almost 1,500 youngsters busy at annual 4-H Club Week at the University of Maryland today.

All but about 300 spent most of the afternoon in Washington touring the zoo, the Capitol, or memorials to Washington, Jefferson and Lincoln.

Three big parties were on tonight's program and that raised a problem.

"There are about twice as many girls as boys," said one harried adult leader. "I don't know how they're all going to get dates."

Before they took off for Washington, the young students completed their class work for the week in a variety of farm and home arts—electricity and machinery care for the boys, for example, and clothes storage and home decoration for the girls.

The day's general assembly was devoted to explaining the history and purposes of the 4-H All-Stars, an honorary organization for members who have made outstanding records in 4-H work.

David Jenkins of Suitland, elected new All-star president earlier in the week, presided.

Auditions in the talent contest were completed and entries from Frederick, Carroll, Somerset, Allegany, Howard, St. Marys, Anne Arundel, Charles, Baltimore and Harford counties won spots on a show Friday nightt

Friday is visitor's day and the other big events are the annual dress revue and the naming of new members to the All-star group.

County winners in dressmaking contests will model their creations in the dress revue and the champion gets a free trip to Chicago for the contest at the National 4-H Club Congress next fall.

Apparent Suicide

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11 (AP)—A 28-year-old Harvard graduate and Tennessee Valley Authority employe from Knoxville, Tenn., was found dying last night in the bathroom at a home where he was visiting.

Henry Erlanger had been shot in the head. Police said they found an automatic pistol on the floor near him, also a note which indicated dissatisfaction with himself and the belief he could have been doing better.

Bigamist Receives 18-Month Sentence

HAGERSTOWN, Aug. 11 (AP)—Willis W. Burris, 35, of Frederick, pleaded guilty to bigamy and was sentenced to 18 months in the Maryland House of Correction today.

His first wife said she learned of the second marriage after reading in the newspapers that a license had been issued.

State's Atty. Tom Kaylor said Burris had two names in addition to two wives. He said Burris was also known in Frederick County as Texas Williams.

Kaylor said Burris was married in Hagerstown March 8, 1944 to Anna M. Gillis and last July 9 to Mary M. Wilt of Hagerstown.

70 Fly To Tiny Republic In Bid To Defeat Reds

NEW YORK, Aug. 11 (AP) — Seventy men and a woman left by air for San Marino yesterday in a dramatic bid to keep the tiny republic in the heart of Italy's mountains from getting its second Communist government.

Their 3,000-mile transatlantic mission will be climaxed Sunday when male voters of the world's smallest nation go to the ballot boxes.

The Communists captured control of the 38-square-mile republic with its 13,500 inhabitants in 1951. Together with the Socialist and the Left-Wing Patriotic Assn., they received 130 more votes than the Christian Democrats.

"We hope that our votes can turn the tide this time," said John La Corte, a New York insurance broker and spokesman for the group consisting of San Marino natives.

La Corte himself cannot vote to save his native country from going Communist. He is an American citizen. Miss Miriam Michelotti, the only woman in the group and head of the San Marino League for the Emancipation of Women, cannot vote either.

Under the present constitution only men are entitled to vote in San Marino. The Christian Democrats are pledged to give the women the vote.

Others in the group, however, are immigrants from San Marino whose U.S. citizenship applications are pending. A spokesman for the U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service said, "There is no reason why they cannot leave the country temporarily, cast their ballots and return."

All members of the expedition are paying their own way, said La Corte. He added that contributions from "various organizatons" were also received. He did not name the organizations.

The party includes 23 men from New York City and 47 from Detroit and Sandusky, Ohio.

FIRE ISLAND, N. Y.

The other evening I wandered down to the village here to see a friend of mine about borrowing a cat trap. As it happened, he was out fishing on the bay, and there was nobody in the house except his eight-year-old son, whose name is Billy. The child greeted me politely but a little absently because his attention was sternly fixed on the family television set. Deciding to wait for his father, I sat down and presently I was following the program, too. This wasn't easy, because it had obviously been going on for quite a while, and the plot appeared to be rather intricate. I was further handicapped by the fact that for one reason and another, I haven't a set of my own, and the narrative technique — the special shorthand of this new art form — has always been a little mysterious to me. However, I concentrated on it to the best of my ability and presently the central facts began to emerge.

The principal character, it seemed, was an actress by trade. She was a rather casually assembled woman, with a detachable British accent and a somewhat glum and snobbish expression. She was, however, unquestionably eminent in her profession since it was stated that she had appeared frequently and successfully in the works of Ibsen, Chekov and Shakespeare. Both Billy and I were distressed to discover that she was going blind, or at least that was his explanation of her habit of bumping into the furniture, and on the whole it seemed more reasonable than my first notion that she was just soused. Anyway, her case was a serious one, calling for an operation hitherto successfully performed only on white mice and people like the King of Siam.

In this crisis, a local doctor showed up (I forgot to say that the action took place in a very small town) in the person of one of the most catastrophic actors I have ever seen. This man dosed her briefly with some blindness pills, but they were ineffective, and he told her that the operation was imperative and offered to perform it himself. The lady, however, had a poor opinion of this suggestion.

"If you're such a dandy doctor," she said in effect, "what are you doing in a dump like this?"

"They need me here," he replied. "They may be poor and inartistic by your standards, but they are my people."

"That is very commendable," she sneered, "but you aren't going to monkey with my eyes. Why don't you go out and heal a horse?"

This conversation, as you can see, got nowhere, and several ensuing ones were no better. In her physician's absence, the lady took out her disagreeable nature on the natives, who were numerous and picturesque, insulting a kind old lady who brought her some dandelions and recoiling in distaste from a small boy who wished to show her his pet frog. She was, in fact, a typical example of intolerance in the surtax brackets.

Inevitably, her sight grew worse, and things were looking very black indeed, when fortunately the Twentieth Century plunged off a bridge in the neighboring community of Thurber's Gap, killing sixty-two persons outright and injuring as many more. It was quite a sight and it should have been because, unless my memory of newsreels has failed me, it was composed of shots of an actual disaster on the Long Island Rail Road in Rockville Centre.

The sequence of events here isn't precisely clear to me, but the next thing Billy and I knew the doctor and his patient were working side by side among the dead and dying. He performed offhand prodigies of surgery, while she, in spite of her infirmity, extricated several babies from the burning cars. This went on for quite a while and they were both quite severely singed, but love, too, was born on that blazing battlefield, and presently, at dusk, they were standing together on a little hill. At first they were content with shyly commending the scenery, but soon the conversation grew more personal and at last she murmured that she would be delighted to have him pick away at her cornea to his heart's content.

"You have no fear, Goneril?" he asked.

"No, not after today, Saul."

"You are a brave woman."

"I am a very lucky one."

The rest, of course, was more or less anti-climax. When the bandages came off, she whimsically pretended that the operation hadn't worked, but that was only her woman's device to draw him into her arms. So they were married and she gave up her career on the stage to help in his dispensary, and, for reasons I didn't quite catch, the little boy and his frog came to live with them, too.

I tax you with this synopsis only because I think it is possible that you, too, have been worrying about the effect of television on the young, and I can assure you that it is negligible. After the program was over, I questioned Billy sharply about his reactions to it, wondering to what extent his mind had been addled by so much awful nonsense. He had, however, no opinions about medicine, the theater, or even love. He simply wished he had a frog.

70 Fly To Tiny Republic In Bid To Defeat Reds

NEW YORK, Aug. 11 (AP) — Seventy men and a woman left by air for San Marino yesterday in a dramatic bid to keep the tiny republic in the heart of Italy's mountains from getting its second Communist government.

Their 3,000-mile transatlantic mission will be climaxed Sunday when male voters of the world's smallest nation go to the ballot boxes.

The Communists captured control of the 38-square-mile republic with its 13,500 inhabitants in 1951. Together with the Socialist and the Left-Wing Patriotic Assn., they received 130 more votes than the Christian Democrats.

"We hope that our votes can turn the tide this time," said John La Corte, a New York insurance broker and spokesman for the group consisting of San Marino natives.

La Corte himself cannot vote to save his native country from going Communist. He is an American citizen. Miss Miriam Michelotti, the only woman in the group and head of the San Marino League for the Emancipation of Women, cannot vote either.

Under the present constitution only men are entitled to vote in San Marino. The Christian Democrats are pledged to give the women the vote.

Others in the group, however, are immigrants from San Marino whose U.S. citizenship applications are pending. A spokesman for the U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service said, "There is no reason why they cannot leave the country temporarily, cast their ballots and return."

All members of the expedition are paying their own way, said La Corte. He added that contributions from "various organizatons" were also received. He did not name the organizations.

The party includes 23 men from New York City and 47 from Detroit and Sandusky, Ohio.

Plot, Character And Frogs

Group Studies Wage Proposal

A subcommittee of the Legislative Council was scheduled yesterday to convene at New Germany recreation area to discuss the impact of the guaranteed annual wage provisions of the new auto workers contract.

The group is headed by Sen. Thomas F. Dempsey (D-Balto 3rd) and includes Del. Noel Spéir Cook of this county.

Robert B. Kimble, former state senator and long time member of the Legislative Council, is attending the session in his new capacity as chairman of the State Department of Employment Security.

Sen. Louis D. Goldstein (D-Calvert) said here yesterday the state must place some safeguards on its employment security fund so that it is not drained by these guaranteed annual wage contracts.

The discussion on the path Maryland can take in connection with the auto workers contract provision will continue this evening and tomorrow at the ski lodge at New Germany.

Basically, the GAW clause gained by the auto workers means the company will set up a fund that will allow payment of wages to furloughed men. That money, in addition to unemployment benefits, would give the auto workers a living income.

But the various state legislatures in states where there are auto workers must change the unemployment benefits rules. In Maryland, for instance, a person cannot receive any other income, or what he receives while not working will be deducted from the jobless pay totals.

Kimble met the Legislative Council for lunch yesterday at the Town Hill Hotel and then continued on with Delegate Cook to New Germany.

In Marine Maneuvers

Pfc. George L. Clise, son of Mrs. Charlotte E. Clise, of Route 6, Park Heights, is participating with the Third Battalion, Second Regiment, Second Marine Division in amphibious maneuvers at Little Creek, Va.

British Secretary Will Give Mayor English Mementos

Mementos of Cumberland County, England, will be presented to Mayor Roy W. Eves during a Bicentennial luncheon scheduled next Wednesday at 12:15 p. m. in the Fort Cumberland Hotel.

Mayor Eves will be given the mementos by N. W. H. Gaydon, first secretary of the British Embassy in Washington, D. C., who has accepted an invitation to the luncheon.

Gaydon is coming to Cumberland in the absence of Sir Roger Makins, ambassador to the United States.

Col. F. E. Powell, U. S. Army (Ret), Bicentennial chairman, yesterday said he has been notified that Gaydon will be in Cumberland for the luncheon.

The mementos will be presented to Mayor Eves and the residents of Cumberland on behalf of the ambassador and the English people.

Cumberland was named after the Duke of Cumberland.

K Of C Bicentennial Dance This Evening

A dance in observance of the Bicentennial celebration will be held this evening by Cumberland Council 586, Knights of Columbus, beginning at 10 o'clock.

The Velvetones orchestra will provide music for the dance which will be held in the air-conditioned ballroom on the third floor of the Council Home.

Costumes for the period between 1755 and 1955 are requested, but not required, according to the committee in charge. The dance is open to members and guests and those attending may dress informally. Committee members include Ray Wempe, Larry Gieger, Donald Harden, Thomas Carney, John Vocke, Michael Lindner and John Stotler.

To Meet Tomorrow

The Mapleside Playground Association will hold a meeting tomorrow at 7:30 p. m. at the Mapleside Methodist Church. The meeting was originally scheduled last week.

shares of the cost but the West Virginia State Road Commission lacks funds.

J. J. Melody, a senior engineer for the West Virginia State Road Commission at Keyser, who attended yesterday's session, suggested that it might be wise for both the Maryland State Roads Commission and the City of Cumberland to write the West Virginia State Road Commission that they have the funds and hope that West Virginia can include its share in its 1956 budget.

Mayor Eves also asked for Legislative Council support for a $100,000 state appropriation for a new National Guard Armory to be located in Constitution Park. He said the present 30-year-old armory on South Centre Street, which needs enlargement, could be purchased by the city for $50,000 and used as a recreation center. Total cost of the armory would be in the neighborhood of $250,000.

Senator Goldstein suggested that the Mayor and Council write General Milton A. Reckord, the adjutant-general, and enlist his support for the project.

Interstate Span

Both the Pinto and Luke bridges were brought to the attention of the Legislative Council at yesterday afternoon's session by Gorman E. Getty, attorney to the county commissioners. He said the two bridges were maintained by the Maryland State Roads Commission along with the West Virginia State Road Commission for about 10 years but the county commissioners of Allegany County and the West Virginia State Road Commission have shared maintenance costs since 1943. He said that for at least five years the county commissioners have been trying unsuccessfully to get the Maryland State Roads Commission to assume maintenance responsibility for the two interstate bridges.

The proposed C&O Canal Parkway between Hancock and Cumberland came to the attention of the Legislative Council twice yesterday. When Senator Goldstein asked about progress on the project he was told by Delegate Estel C. Kelley (R-Allegany) that it was being held in abeyance until the completion of the new $34,000,000 plant of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company which is being constructed near the old canal at Mexico Farms.

Streets Commissioner William H. Buchholtz asked the Legislative Council about Parkway progress at the City Hall meeting and there Senator Goldstein repeated what he had been told earlier in the day.

A final suggestion yesterday afternoon came from George Keady, a local radio announcer, who suggested that Maryland organize an auxiliary component for its State Police. He cited the success of such an organization in Connecticut.

Last night the legislators were guests of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce and the South Cumberland Business Men's Association at dinner at the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club.

This morning the group will leave the Fort Cumberland Hotel at 8:15 a. m., stop briefly at the toll house on Route 40 about six miles west of the city and have breakfast at Frostburg State Teachers College at 8:45 a. m. They will tour the college and Miners Hospital and leave for Garrett County at 11:15 a. m.

In Garrett County the Legislative Council will have lunch at the home of State Senator Clifford Friend near Accident. Afterwards a subcommittee headed by Senator Anthony DiDomenico will inspect several natural gas wells in the Mountain Lake Park region. After a visit to Deep Creek Lake, where the state proposes to establish a park, the legislators will have dinner at the Mountain Lake Park Hotel.

The train trip back to Baltimore and other points will start Saturday morning.

New Dams

in times of heavy rainfall, water that accumulates in these abandoned pits overflows into streams, contaminates drinking water in some communities, interferes with existing sewer systems and creates acid conditions in garden and farm soil.

Dowling urged that the General Assembly be asked at its next session to appropriate funds to backfill these offending strip mine operations to eliminate the hazards they create.

LaVale was cited as an offender among communities polluting the Potomac River with raw sewage. While many people in that area have their own septic tanks, much of the sewage is finding its way into open ditches, running into Braddock Run and flowing on to the river. Sanitarians said there are several similar situations in this area, and action must eventually be taken to eliminate this hazard to health and industry.

Seek Bridges' Removal.

The group also agreed to contact railroad officials to ask that abandoned bridge piers and abutments be removed at several points along the river. These are impeding the flow of the stream and at three points mentioned, water backs up in rainy seasons and forms pools.

Referring again to the need for more impounding dams on the upper Potomac watershed, Patrick observed that during Hurricane Hazel, Savage River Dam kept the water level at Cumberland about two and a half feet lower, because this much volume was impounded. Without the dam, the city and many other low lying areas would have been badly flooded.

He pointed out that this condition can be repeated, and as runoff continues to occur more rapidly, Savage River Dam will not be enough to prevent flooding of some areas. This is bad enough, he said, but the worst thing is the annual waste of billions of gallons of water that could be stored and used.

Industry is attracted to areas with good water supplies, he said, and since Savage River Dam was completed the pulp and paper mill at Luke has expanded, and additional expansion is planned, the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company has come to Cumberland, and other industries have been encouraged to expand and look to the future.

Patrick Heads Committee

There was general agreement that more water should be impounded in the watershed, and Patrick was named to head a committee to go further into the proposal.

Among those present at the commission meeting were Patrick, William D. Claus, secretary; Mark W. Roe, mechanical engineer; Henry W. Price of the Potomac Edison Company; Dr. Arthur F. Jones, Garrett County medical officer for the Health Department; Charles B. Miller, sanitarian for Garrett County; Del. Harry C. Edwards, Grantsville, a member of the House of Delegates from Garrett County; Rep. Hyde, Dowling, George F. Hazelwood, chairman of the Interstate Commission on the Potomac River Basin; Walter J. Patterson, Allegany County sanitarian; Craig M. Right, hydrologist for the Soil Conservation Service; Kenneth M. Stine, soil scientist for the SCS; Ewell H. Mohler, engineer for the United States Geological Survey; James R. McComas, from the Maryland State Department of Health; and Lester H. Longton, resident engineer for the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company.

This was the first meeting of the commission since January 28, but Patrick indicated another meeting will be called soon.

Contest Winners Named

Prizes were presented yesterday evening to contestants in six categories at Pine Avenue Playground's what-not contest.

Winners were Rita Mann, largest; Edward Plummer, smallest; Valerie Barnes, most unusual; Lillian Daugherty, oldest; Carolyn Plummer, largest collection; and Wilma Barnes, prettiest.

Kelly Tire Co.

who have taken a personal interest in Kelly over the years.

Describing him as the "dean of the rubber industry" Burke then introduced the guest speaker, P. W. Litchfield, of Akron, chairman of the board of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company.

World Authority

Burke added that Litchfield is a man who has devoted his entire life to developing the use of rubber. He has been with the same company for 55 years, and is responsible for production consumption of one-seventh of the rubber supply each year. He is also recognized as a world authority on natural and synthetic rubbers.

In his talk Litchfield outlined the growth of the rubber industry from its infancy until the present time.

In 1955, Litchfield pointed out, the growth of vehicle traffic is surpassing the roads program and a solution must be reached in order to take care of such traffic.

He advocates attempts to foster the development of roads to cope with the speed and ever increasing number of vehicles.

During his talk, Litchfield outlined the rubber industry's progress through the years and said Kelly has been going steadily forward, attacking economic crises, war conditions and intensive competition in the rubber industry with vigorous and intelligent planning.

Litchfield also said that the establishment of the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company plant here is a "good thing for Cumberland and a good thing for Kelly." He also remarked that the rubber business is still a growing business.

Judge Sloan, former chief of the Maryland Court of Appeals and of the Fourth Judicial Circuit, was introduced by Judge William C. Walsh, attorney for and a director of the Kelly plant.

In the closing remarks Burke thanked everyone present and said, "Those invited to the affair were asked to join in our anniversary celebration because all have contributed immeasurably to the success of the Kelly-Springfield business venture in Cumberland.

Friendliness Cited

"For many past favors, for your friendliness, tolerance, and cooperation, our sincere thanks," he added. "I wish to thank members of Goodyear management with us today for their sympathetic understanding of our problems over the years and for their expert business counsel."

Burke also pointed out that "Cumberland has withstood the ravages of time well. It has not lost its aggressive drive that made it the outstanding frontier city of early days. It is not located near other large cities and therefore is self-sustaining. Its roots are driven deep into the Maryland soil and nowhere in Cumberland's rich historical past did its citizens lose their hold on basic American democracy."

"You have my promise that Kelly management will strive always to operate the firm as a good industrial citizen."

Burke expressed his thanks to citizens of Cumberland, the company's employes and the Goodyear company for their cooperation over the years.

Among the guests introduced by Burke were Judge Walsh, Fred W. Climer, vice president in charge of industrial relations for Goodyear; John J. McMullen, president of the Times and Alleganian Company; Russell DeYoung, vice president in charge of production for Goodyear; U. S. Sen. J. Glenn Beall; E. J. Thomas, president of Goodyear.

Mayor Roy W. Eves, Congressman DeWitt S. Hyde; R. S. Wilson, vice president in charge of sales for Goodyear; C. William Gilchrist, president of the Chamber of Commerce, and Dr. R. P. Dinsmore, vice president in charge of research and development for Goodyear.

During the luncheon music was provided by the Syckes Trio.

Today will be "Kelly Family Day," with more than 5,000 members of employes' families expected to participate in the celebration. Beginning at 10 a. m. the program will include plant tours, a puppet show for the children, and refreshments.

Tours will be conducted for each of the three shifts of workers and their guests and for office personnel and guests. Youths Return Home Following 'Marriage' Quest

Trial Magistrate Donald W. Mason yesterday placed a 16-year-old Pennsylvania youth who was found guilty of driving with a "revoked or suspended license" in the custody of his aunt.

A fine of $100.75 was suspended and James Albert Miller of Jones Mills was released. He was ordered not to drive until he receives notice from Pennsylvania authorities.

His aunt, Mrs. Madge H. Pyle, also escorted Robert Neiderhiser, 19, of Champion, Pa., and two sisters from Donegal, Pa. back to their homes.

The quartet came here "to get married" with savings totaling $10 and were arrested early yesterday morning on Baltimore Street by Detective Donald H. Smith and Officer George E. Pfeiffer of the Cumberland Police Department.

Stony Battery Boys Plan Final Meeting

Two other beer applications came to the board Wednesday. Lillie Himmler asked permission to transfer hers from 826 North Mechanic Street to National Highway near the Cumberland Glass Company plant. A beer license for the same premises formerly was held by Anna McCormick but was not renewed in May.

Group Studies Wage Proposal

A subcommittee of the Legislative Council was scheduled yesterday to convene at New Germany recreation area to discuss the impact of the guaranteed annual wage provisions of the new auto workers contract.

The group is headed by Sen. Thomas F. Dempsey (D-Balto 3rd) and includes Del. Noel Spéir Cook of this county.

Robert B. Kimble, former state senator and long time member of the Legislative Council, is attending the session in his new capacity as chairman of the State Department of Employment Security.

Sen. Louis D. Goldstein (D-Calvert) said here yesterday the state must place some safeguards on its employment security fund so that it is not drained by these guaranteed annual wage contracts.

The discussion on the path Maryland can take in connection with the auto workers contract provision will continue this evening and tomorrow at the ski lodge at New Germany.

Basically, the GAW clause gained by the auto workers means the company will set up a fund that will allow payment of wages to furloughed men. That money, in addition to unemployment benefits, would give the auto workers a living income.

But the various state legislatures in states where there are auto workers must change the unemployment benefits rules. In Maryland, for instance, a person cannot receive any other income, or what he receives while not working will be deducted from the jobless pay totals.

Kimble met the Legislative Council for lunch yesterday at the Town Hill Hotel and then continued on with Delegate Cook to New Germany.

British Secretary Will Give Mayor English Mementos

Mementos of Cumberland County, England, will be presented to Mayor Roy W. Eves during a Bicentennial luncheon scheduled next Wednesday at 12:15 p. m. in the Fort Cumberland Hotel.

Mayor Eves will be given the mementos by N. W. H. Gaydon, first secretary of the British Embassy in Washington, D. C., who has accepted an invitation to the luncheon.

Gaydon is coming to Cumberland in the absence of Sir Roger Makins, ambassador to the United States.

Col. F. E. Powell, U. S. Army (Ret), Bicentennial chairman, yesterday said he has been notified that Gaydon will be in Cumberland for the luncheon.

The mementos will be presented to Mayor Eves and the residents of Cumberland on behalf of the ambassador and the English people.

Cumberland was named after the Duke of Cumberland.

K Of C Bicentennial Dance This Evening

A dance in observance of the Bicentennial celebration will be held this evening by Cumberland Council 586, Knights of Columbus, beginning at 10 o'clock.

The Velvetones orchestra will provide music for the dance which will be held in the air-conditioned ballroom on the third floor of the Council Home.

Costumes for the period between 1755 and 1955 are requested, but not required, according to the committee in charge. The dance is open to members and guests and those attending may dress informally. Committee members include Ray Wempe, Larry Gieger, Donald Harden, Thomas Carney, John Vocke, Michael Lindner and John Stotler.

To Meet Tomorrow

The Mapleside Playground Association will hold a meeting tomorrow at 7:30 p. m. at the Mapleside Methodist Church. The meeting was originally scheduled last week.

shares of the cost but the West Virginia State Road Commission lacks funds.

J. J. Melody, a senior engineer for the West Virginia State Road Commission at Keyser, who attended yesterday's session, suggested that it might be wise for both the Maryland State Roads Commission and the City of Cumberland to write the West Virginia State Road Commission that they have the funds and hope that West Virginia can include its share in its 1956 budget.

Mayor Eves also asked for Legislative Council support for a $100,000 state appropriation for a new National Guard Armory to be located in Constitution Park. He said the present 30-year-old armory on South Centre Street, which needs enlargement, could be purchased by the city for $50,000 and used as a recreation center. Total cost of the armory would be in the neighborhood of $250,000.

Senator Goldstein suggested that the Mayor and Council write General Milton A. Reckord, the adjutant-general, and enlist his support for the project.

Interstate Span

Both the Pinto and Luke bridges were brought to the attention of the Legislative Council at yesterday afternoon's session by Gorman E. Getty, attorney to the county commissioners. He said the two bridges were maintained by the Maryland State Roads Commission along with the West Virginia State Road Commission for about 10 years but the county commissioners of Allegany County and the West Virginia State Road Commission have shared maintenance costs since 1943. He said that for at least five years the county commissioners have been trying unsuccessfully to get the Maryland State Roads Commission to assume maintenance responsibility for the two interstate bridges.

The proposed C&O Canal Parkway between Hancock and Cumberland came to the attention of the Legislative Council twice yesterday. When Senator Goldstein asked about progress on the project he was told by Delegate Estel C. Kelley (R-Allegany) that it was being held in abeyance until the completion of the new $34,000,000 plant of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company which is being constructed near the old canal at Mexico Farms.

Streets Commissioner William H. Buchholtz asked the Legislative Council about Parkway progress at the City Hall meeting and there Senator Goldstein repeated what he had been told earlier in the day.

A final suggestion yesterday afternoon came from George Keady, a local radio announcer, who suggested that Maryland organize an auxiliary component for its State Police. He cited the success of such an organization in Connecticut.

Last night the legislators were guests of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce and the South Cumberland Business Men's Association at dinner at the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club.

This morning the group will leave the Fort Cumberland Hotel at 8:15 a. m., stop briefly at the toll house on Route 40 about six miles west of the city and have breakfast at Frostburg State Teachers College at 8:45 a. m. They will tour the college and Miners Hospital and leave for Garrett County at 11:15 a. m.

In Garrett County the Legislative Council will have lunch at the home of State Senator Clifford Friend near Accident. Afterwards a subcommittee headed by Senator Anthony DiDomenico will inspect several natural gas wells in the Mountain Lake Park region. After a visit to Deep Creek Lake, where the state proposes to establish a park, the legislators will have dinner at the Mountain Lake Park Hotel.

The train trip back to Baltimore and other points will start Saturday morning.

in times of heavy rainfall, water that accumulates in these abandoned pits overflows into streams, contaminates drinking water in some communities, interferes with existing sewer systems and creates acid conditions in garden and farm soil.

Dowling urged that the General Assembly be asked at its next session to appropriate funds to backfill these offending strip mine operations to eliminate the hazards they create.

LaVale was cited as an offender among communities polluting the Potomac River with raw sewage. While many people in that area have their own septic tanks, much of the sewage is finding its way into open ditches, running into Braddock Run and flowing on to the river. Sanitarians said there are several similar situations in this area, and action must eventually be taken to eliminate this hazard to health and industry.

Seek Bridges' Removal.

The group also agreed to contact railroad officials to ask that abandoned bridge piers and abutments be removed at several points along the river. These are impeding the flow of the stream and at three points mentioned, water backs up in rainy seasons and forms pools.

Referring again to the need for more impounding dams on the upper Potomac watershed, Patrick observed that during Hurricane Hazel, Savage River Dam kept the water level at Cumberland about two and a half feet lower, because this much volume was impounded. Without the dam, the city and many other low lying areas would have been badly flooded.

He pointed out that this condition can be repeated, and as runoff continues to occur more rapidly, Savage River Dam will not be enough to prevent flooding of some areas. This is bad enough, he said, but the worst thing is the annual waste of billions of gallons of water that could be stored and used.

Industry is attracted to areas with good water supplies, he said, and since Savage River Dam was completed the pulp and paper mill at Luke has expanded, and additional expansion is planned, the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company has come to Cumberland, and other industries have been encouraged to expand and look to the future.

Patrick Heads Committee

There was general agreement that more water should be impounded in the watershed, and Patrick was named to head a committee to go further into the proposal.

Among those present at the commission meeting were Patrick, William D. Claus, secretary; Mark W. Roe, mechanical engineer; Henry W. Price of the Potomac Edison Company; Dr. Arthur F. Jones, Garrett County medical officer for the Health Department; Charles B. Miller, sanitarian for Garrett County; Del. Harry C. Edwards, Grantsville, a member of the House of Delegates from Garrett County; Rep. Hyde, Dowling, George F. Hazelwood, chairman of the Interstate Commission on the Potomac River Basin; Walter J. Patterson, Allegany County sanitarian; Craig M. Right, hydrologist for the Soil Conservation Service; Kenneth M. Stine, soil scientist for the SCS; Ewell H. Mohler, engineer for the United States Geological Survey; James R. McComas, from the Maryland State Department of Health; and Lester H. Longton, resident engineer for the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company.

This was the first meeting of the commission since January 28, but Patrick indicated another meeting will be called soon.

Winners were Rita Mann, largest; Edward Plummer, smallest; Valerie Barnes, most unusual; Lillian Daugherty, oldest; Carolyn Plummer, largest collection; and Wilma Barnes, prettiest.

Kelly Tire Co.

who have taken a personal interest in Kelly over the years.

Describing him as the "dean of the rubber industry" Burke then introduced the guest speaker, P. W. Litchfield, of Akron, chairman of the board of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company.

World Authority

Burke added that Litchfield is a man who has devoted his entire life to developing the use of rubber. He has been with the same company for 55 years, and is responsible for production consumption of one-seventh of the rubber supply each year. He is also recognized as a world authority on natural and synthetic rubbers.

In his talk Litchfield outlined the growth of the rubber industry from its infancy until the present time.

In 1955, Litchfield pointed out, the growth of vehicle traffic is surpassing the roads program and a solution must be reached in order to take care of such traffic.

He advocates attempts to foster the development of roads to cope with the speed and ever increasing number of vehicles.

During his talk, Litchfield outlined the rubber industry's progress through the years and said Kelly has been going steadily forward, attacking economic crises, war conditions and intensive competition in the rubber industry with vigorous and intelligent planning.

Litchfield also said that the establishment of the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company plant here is a "good thing for Cumberland and a good thing for Kelly." He also remarked that the rubber business is still a growing business.

Judge Sloan, former chief of the Maryland Court of Appeals and of the Fourth Judicial Circuit, was introduced by Judge William C. Walsh, attorney for and a director of the Kelly plant.

In the closing remarks Burke thanked everyone present and said, "Those invited to the affair were asked to join in our anniversary celebration because all have contributed immeasurably to the success of the Kelly-Springfield business venture in Cumberland.

Friendliness Cited

"For many past favors, for your friendliness, tolerance, and cooperation, our sincere thanks," he added. "I wish to thank members of Goodyear management with us today for their sympathetic understanding of our problems over the years and for their expert business counsel."

Burke also pointed out that "Cumberland has withstood the ravages of time well. It has not lost its aggressive drive that made it the outstanding frontier city of early days. It is not located near other large cities and therefore is self-sustaining. Its roots are driven deep into the Maryland soil and nowhere in Cumberland's rich historical past did its citizens lose their hold on basic American democracy."

"You have my promise that Kelly management will strive always to operate the firm as a good industrial citizen."

Burke expressed his thanks to citizens of Cumberland, the company's employes and the Goodyear company for their cooperation over the years.

Among the guests introduced by Burke were Judge Walsh, Fred W. Climer, vice president in charge of industrial relations for Goodyear; John J. McMullen, president of the Times and Alleganian Company; Russell DeYoung, vice president in charge of production for Goodyear; U. S. Sen. J. Glenn Beall; E. J. Thomas, president of Goodyear.

Mayor Roy W. Eves, Congressman DeWitt S. Hyde; R. S. Wilson, vice president in charge of sales for Goodyear; C. William Gilchrist, president of the Chamber of Commerce, and Dr. R. P. Dinsmore, vice president in charge of research and development for Goodyear.

During the luncheon music was provided by the Sykes Trio.

Today will be "Kelly Family Day," with more than 5,000 members of employes' families expected to participate in the celebration. Beginning at 10 a. m. the program will include plant tours, a puppet show for the children, and refreshments.

Tours will be conducted for each of the three shifts of workers and their guests and for office personnel and guests. Tickets are provided by the Kelly plant which entitle visitors to admittance to the plant and to the three tents on the grounds which house the display stand, refreshment stand and the puppet show.

The second shift will tour the plant from 10 a. m. to noon, the third shift from 1 p. m. to 3 o'clock, the first shift from 3 to 5 p. m. and the office force from 4 to 6 o'clock.

Children under 10 years of age will not be able to make the plant tour for safety reasons, plant officials said.

A souvenir anniversary program book will be provided all visitors and shuttle bus services will be provided from Baltimore Street to the plant and back at 10 a. m. and 6 p. m. when the celebration will close.

Tucker County Records Stolen 62 Years Ago

Parsons Citizens Invaded St. George

PARSONS — Sunday, August 7, was the 62nd anniversary of the moving of the records from the Court House in St. George to Parsons, with St. George then the county seat of Tucker County. On August 7, 1893, a group of about 300 men decided to move the Court House records to Parsons. Several men of Parsons helped with the moving of the records, including Neil Long, Solomon W. Kalar, French Long, and C. G. Lashley, and Dock Bonnifield now all deceased.

The Court House bell was a gift from William Ewin, an early citizen of Tucker. It was cast by the Baltimore Bells Works about 1859, and it was shipped over the newly built B and O Railroad to the nearest railroad station and then hauled by wagon over the narrow and crooked roads to the Court House in St. George. It was the first bell in Tucker County and was placed in the tower of the courthouse in St. George, located on Cheat River six miles below Parsons. The St. George courthouse was made of brick and considered a fine structure in its day. At that time St. George was known as Westernford.

The late Neil Long, of Parsons, related prior to his death some of the details of the stealing of the records. He said that a party of about 300 men left Parsons on August 7, in the afternoon at 4 o'clock. They went in horse drawn wagons to get the court house records. The leader was Dock Bonnifield.

By the time they reached their destination, it was dark. The men told the sheriff, who was William Cupp, what they wanted and he told them they could take the records at their own risk. The men were in danger of being shot, as there were many folks there looking on with loaded guns in their hands. The crowd kept getting larger and by the time they were ready to start back to Parsons, there was a small sized army assembled.

Mr. Long said that it was easy

Joseph T. Frye Heads Capon Valley Bank

Interest Increased To Two Per Cent

MOOREFIELD — The directors of the Capon Valley Bank at Wardensville named Joseph T. Frye as president succeeding the late J. V. Warden. Other officers named were W. H. Harden, vice president and Courtney R. Tusing cashier and secretary.

The election of officers followed the annual meeting of the stockholders of the bank last Wednesday. Directors named by the stockholders were Joseph T. Frye, W. H.Warden, Lynn Miley, H. G. Muntzing, E. B. Souder, Walter L. Sager, Chester B. Haas, Charles E. Frye and S. C. Warden. The vacancy left by the death of a former member of the board J. V. Warden was not filled.

Courtney Tusing, cashier of the bank, announced that effective retroactively to July 1, the directors authorized a payment of 2 percent interest on time deposits. He said that this action had been under consideration for some time but that it could not be announced officially until the regular monthly meeting held last Wednesday.

Westernport Council To Pave Street

WESTERNPORT — A number of property owners of Church Street appeared before Mayor Okey E. Michael and the Town Commissioners about the water drainage coming from the area of the new Bruce High School now being built on Philos Avenue.

The delegation included Horace P. Whitworth Jr., and Louis A. Fatkin, attorneys, Lewis E. Harris, John Matthews, Estel Kenny and Joseph L. Mansfield.

A change in diverting some of the sewer drainage has been made since the beginning of the construction of the new high school and these property owners are afraid that present sewers will not carry surface water off to the Potomac River without them suffering damages during a period of unusual rain fall.

Mayor Michael pointed out the changes made by the contractor provide that more of the drainage would run down the hollow back of Jake's Service Station.

He thought the drainage may be less on Church Street.

Council awarded a contract for hard surfacing Railroad Street to the Cumberland Contracting Company, lowest bidder for $2,920.

This bid includes 410 feet in length, 16 feet wide of the laying of 6 inch stone base, with two inch Maryland State Road specifications 11 B hot mix, paving material.

The other sealed bid opened was from the Liller Asphalt Company of Cumberland for 400 feet, 20 feet wide, base stone and blacktop $4434.80 and the same length 16

Westernport Council To Pave Street

WESTERNPORT — A number of property owners of Church Street appeared before Mayor Okey E. Michael and the Town Commissioners about the water drainage coming from the area of the new Bruce High School now being built on Philos Avenue.

The delegation included Horace P. Whitworth Jr., and Louis A. Fatkin, attorneys, Lewis E. Harris, John Matthews, Estel Kenny and Joseph L. Mansfield.

A change in diverting some of the sewer drainage has been made since the beginning of the construction of the new high school and these property owners are afraid that present sewers will not carry surface water off to the Potomac River without them suffering damages during a period of unusual rain fall.

Mayor Michael pointed out the changes made by the contractor provide that more of the drainage would run down the hollow back of Jake's Service Station.

He thought the drainage may be less on Church Street.

Council awarded a contract for hard surfacing Railroad Street to the Cumberland Contracting Company, lowest bidder for $2,920.

This bid includes 410 feet in length, 16 feet wide of the laying of 6 inch stone base, with two inch Maryland State Road specifications 11 B hot mix, paving material.

The other sealed bid opened was from the Liller Asphalt Company of Cumberland for 400 feet, 20 feet wide, base stone and blacktop $4434.80 and the same length 16

Tucker County Records Stolen 62 Years Ago

Parsons Citizens Invaded St. George

PARSONS — Sunday, August 7, was the 62nd anniversary of the moving of the records from the Court House in St. George to Parsons, with St. George then the county seat of Tucker County. On August 7, 1893, a group of about 300 men decided to move the Court House records to Parsons. Several men of Parsons helped with the moving of the records, including Neil Long, Solomon W. Kalar, French Long, and C. G. Lashley, and Dock Bonnifield now all deceased.

The Court House bell was a gift from William Ewin, an early citizen of Tucker. It was cast by the Baltimore Bells Works about 1859, and it was shipped over the newly built B and O Railroad to the nearest railroad station and then hauled by wagon over the narrow and crooked roads to the Court House in St. George. It was the first bell in Tucker County and was placed in the tower of the courthouse in St. George, located on Cheat River six miles below Parsons. The St. George courthouse was made of brick and considered a fine structure in its day. At that time St. George was known as Westernford.

The late Neil Long, of Parsons, related prior to his death some of the details of the stealing of the records. He said that a party of about 300 men left Parsons on August 7, in the afternoon at 4 o'clock. They went in horse drawn wagons to get the court house records. The leader was Dock Bonnifield.

By the time they reached their destination, it was dark. The men told the sheriff, who was William Cupp, what they wanted and he told them they could take the records at their own risk. The men were in danger of being shot, as there were many folks there looking on with loaded guns in their hands. The crowd kept getting larger and by the time they were ready to start back to Parsons there was a small sized army assembled.

Mr. Long said that it was easy

Keyser Firm Engaged For Gas Rate Increase Fight

KEYSER—The engineering firm of Blundon, Snyder and Small has been engaged by the Inter-Community League of Eastern-Central West Virginia in connection with the fight by a number of communities against the application of the Cumberland and Allegheny Gas Company for higher rates for its West Virginia customers.

At a recent meeting in Elkins, the league made plans to finance the rate case before the Public Service Commission.

Bonn Brown, appointed attorney for the protesting communities at a previous meeting, announced that A. Jerome Dailey of Buckhannon, former judge of the Circuit Courts of Randolph and Upshur counties, would serve as associate counsel in the case. Brown has been authorized to name legal counsel to serve with him in the case.

Each of the communities in the West Virginia area served by C&A Gas will be asked to contribute to the fund needed to effectively protest the 50 per cent raise in rates sought by the gas company.

A hearing on the application has been set for August 24 at Charleston and the rate schedule filed with the PSC by the company has been suspended for 120 days, until December 5, as the result of the protest.

The gas company is seeking an overall increase in West Virginia of $765,000 and it was pointed out that suspension of the rates for the 120-day period already has saved consumers some $225,000.

The Inter-Community League has some funds in its treasury which were collected more than a year ago when Cumberland and Allegheny filed for a rate increase. The petition was then dismissed on motion of the protestants on the grounds that the gas company had not been keeping its books in the manner required by the commission to permit segregation of its West Virginia business with that in other states.

Dr. B. I. Golden, chairman of the league, presided at the meeting in Elkins.

Others attending included; John Kenney, mayor of Parsons; J. D. Hinkle and W. A. Groves and A. Jerome Dailey of Buckhannon; John Crogan and Chester Litter of Kingwood; C. B. Linger and B. H. McConnell of Terra Alta and R. H. Talbott, E. W. Channell, Mayor E. P. Phares and Thaddeus Pritt of Elkins.

The next meeting will be held on August 20.

Louis Pasteur was a chemist and college professor of the physical sciences.

Man Sentenced For Violating Parole

A young man convicted last year in Circuit Court on a morals charge and placed under parole was sentenced yesterday to a term not to exceed nine months in the Maryland Reformatory for Males.

He is James Eugene Porter, of the Corriganville section. Last June he was paroled with the stipulation that he go to Ohio, obtain employment and not come back to Allegany County without contacting the parole officer, David M. Steele.

Porter was taken into custody a few days ago after it was learned he had returned without obeying the terms of his parole.

McKinley Succeeds Bonner As ABL Technical Director

Effective September 1, Dr. Lyman G. Bonner, technical director of Allegany Ballistics Laboratory, will transfer to the Hercules Experiment Station, Wilmington, Del., to serve as manager of the explosives research division and of the high pressure laboratory.

Announcement of Dr. Bonner's transfer was made from the home office on Monday of this week. Dr. C. Dana McKinney Jr., administrative assistant to Dr. Bonner since April, will assume the position of technical director.

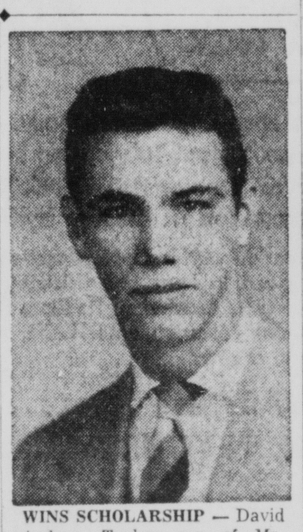
Dr. Bonner graduated from the University of Utah in 1932 with an A. B. degree in chemistry and received his Ph. D. in chemistry from the California Institute of Technology in 1935.

Before joining Hercules Powder Company, Dr. Bonner was at Princeton University from 1935 to 1937 as a National Research Fellow; at Duke University from 1937 to 1944 as instructor and assistant professor; at ABL under George Washington University from 1944 to 1945 as research associate; and was named technical director of ABL when it was taken over by Hercules in December 1945.

In 1953 Dr. Bonner was the recipient of the Navy's highest civilian honor when he was awarded the Distinguished Public Service Medal for his part in having made a major contribution to the United States Navy by the development of new propellants for guided missiles.

Dr. McKinney came to ABL in April of this year from Hercules Experiment Station where he was a supervisor in the Research Division. He first joined Hercules at the Station in 1942 and worked as chemist there and as shift supervisor in Volunteer Ordnance. He returned to school in 1947 to study for his Ph. D. and served as a research assistant at the Illinois Institute of Technology in Chicago. His degree in physical chemistry was awarded to him in June 1950 by Illinois Tech.

Dr. McKinney received his B. S. from the University of Chattanooga and did graduate work at the University of Tennessee and University of Pennsylvania. He returned to the Experiment Station in February 1953 to work in Analytical Division and then transferred to Explosives to work as research chemist. In July 1953, Dr. McKinney was appointed a supervisor in that department.



WINS SCHOLARSHIP — David Andrew Taylor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Taylor, 635 Baltimore Avenue, has been awarded a one-year tuition scholarship for the School of Engineering at Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore. Taylor was a member of this year's graduating class at Fort Hill High School.

Dignitaries Will Attend Dedication Of Bridge

Officials of both Maryland and West Virginia will be on hand for the dedication of the new Cumberland-Ridgeley bridge next Wednesday, the event to be a highlight of Bicentennial Week's "Good Neighbor Day."

Mayor Roy W. Eves, who is handling plans for the event, said the dedication has been tentatively scheduled for 3:30 p. m. that day. The dedication, he explained, will be held following an official luncheon for visiting officials from neighboring communities, the luncheon to be held at 1:30 p. m., in the Fort Cumberland Hotel dining room.

Heading the list of dignitaries who will attend the bridge ceremony will be State Comptroller J. Millard Tawes, Rep. James P. Devereux of Maryland's Second Congressional District; State Senator Ralph J. Bean of Moorefield, president of the West Virginia Senate, and Harley O. Staggers of West Virginia's Second Congressional District.

Another state official who will take part in the Bicentennial program next week is Attorney General C. Ferdinand Sybert, who has been named as one of the judges for the Brothers of the Brush beard contest. Additional judges will be announced prior to the event next Thursday.

One of the top labor officials in the country will be on hand next Friday when the Labor Temple on South Liberty Street will be dedicated. He is Lewis Heinz, Washington, representative of the American Federation of Labor headquarters.

Congressman Devereux and Western Maryland's entry in baseball's Hall of Fame, Robert M. "Lefty" Grove of Lonaconing, will distribute the awards to the youth leaders of the city during the program prior to the pageant Tuesday evening at Fort Hill stadium.

Motorists In Crash Found Not Guilty

Two drivers involved in a traffic accident late last Sunday night at Baltimore and George streets were acquitted yesterday in Trial Magistrates Court of violating state motor laws.

The defendants, Rita Lannon, 18, Baltimore Pike, and Daniel Long, 18, RD 1, city, pleaded not guilty to reckless driving.

Magistrate Donald W. Mason said both claimed they "had the green light" when their vehicles collided. Witnesses were on hand to verify testimony.

Following the collision, the Lannon station wagon careened across the sidewalk and struck the front door of the First National Bank. No one was injured.

Keyser Firm Engaged For Gas Rate Increase Fight

KEYSER—The engineering firm of Blundon, Snyder and Small has been engaged by, the Inter-Community League of Eastern-Central West Virginia in connection with the fight by a number of communities against the application of the Cumberland and Allegheny Gas Company for higher rates for its West Virginia customers.

At a recent meeting in Elkins, the league made plans to finance the rate case before the Public Service Commission.

Bonn Brown, appointed attorney for the protesting communities at a previous meeting, announced that A. Jerome Dailey of Buckhannon, former judge of the Circuit Courts of Randolph and Upshur counties, would serve as associate counsel in the case. Brown has been authorized to name legal counsel to serve with him in the case.

Each of the communities in the West Virginia area served by C&A Gas will be asked to contribute to the fund needed to effectively protest the 50 per cent raise in rates sought by the gas company.

A hearing on the application has been set for August 24 at Charleston and the rate schedule filed with the PSC by the company has been suspended for 120 days, until December 5, as the result of the protest.

The gas company is seeking an overall increase in West Virginia of $765,000 and it was pointed out that suspension of the rates for the 120-day period already has saved consumers some $225,000.

The Inter-Community League has some funds in its treasury which were collected more than a year ago when Cumberland and Allegheny filed for a rate increase. The petition was then dismissed on motion of the protestants on the grounds that the gas company had not been keeping its books in the manner required by the commission to permit segregation of its West Virginia business with that in other states.

Dr. B. I. Golden, chairman of the league, presided at the meeting in Elkins.

Others attending included: John Kenney, mayor of Parsons; J. D. Hinkle and W. A. Groves and A. Jerome Dailey of Buckhannon; John Crogan and Chester Litter of Kingwood; C. B. Linger and B. H. McConnell of Terra Alta and R. H. Talbott, E. W. Channell, Mayor E. P. Phares and Thaddeus Pritt of Elkins.

The next meeting will be held on August 20.

Louis Pasteur was a chemist and college professor of the physical sciences.

Man Sentenced For Violating Parole

A young man convicted last year in Circuit Court on a morals charge and placed under parole was sentenced yesterday to a term not to exceed nine months in the Maryland Reformatory for Males.

He is James Eugene Porter, of the Corriganville section. Last June he was paroled with the stipulation that he go to Ohio, obtain employment and not come back to Allegany County without contacting the parole officer, David M. Steele.

Porter was taken into custody a few days ago after it was learned he had returned without obeying the terms of his parole.

McKinley Succeeds Bonner As ABL Technical Director

Effective September 1, Dr. Lyman G. Bonner, technical director of Allegany Ballistics Laboratory, will transfer to the Hercules Experiment Station, Wilmington, Del., to serve as manager of the explosives research division and of the high pressure laboratory.

Announcement of Dr. Bonner's transfer was made from the home office on Monday of this week. Dr. C. Dana McKinney Jr., administrative assistant to Dr. Bonner since April, will assume the position of technical director.

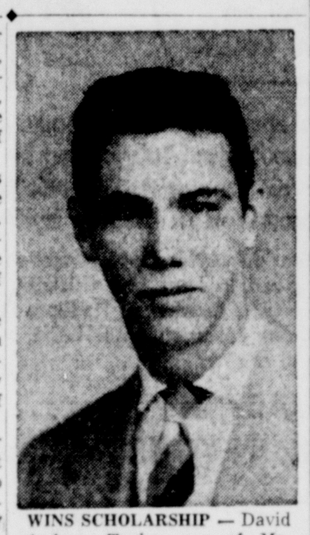
Dr. Bonner graduated from the University of Utah in 1932 with an A. B. degree in chemistry and received his Ph. D. in chemistry from the California Institute of Technology in 1935.

Before joining Hercules Powder Company, Dr. Bonner was at Princeton University from 1935 to 1937 as a National Research Fellow; at Duke University from 1937 to 1944 as instructor and assistant professor; at ABL under George Washington University from 1944 to 1945 as research associate; and was named technical director of ABL when it was taken over by Hercules in December 1945.

In 1953 Dr. Bonner was the recipient of the Navy's highest civilian honor when he was awarded the Distinguished Public Service Medal for his part in having made a major contribution to the United States Navy by the development of new propellants for guided missiles.

Dr. McKinney came to ABL in April of this year from Hercules Experiment Station where he was a supervisor in the Research Division. He first joined Hercules at the Station in 1942 and worked as chemist there and as shift supervisor in Volunteer Ordnance. He returned to school in 1947 to study for his Ph. D. and served as a research assistant at the Illinois Institute of Technology in Chicago. His degree in physical chemistry was awarded to him in June 1950 by Illinois Tech.

Dr. McKinney received his B. S. from the University of Chattanooga and did graduate work at the University of Tennessee and University of Pennsylvania. He returned to the Experiment Station in February 1953 to work in Analytical Division and then transferred to Explosives to work as research chemist. In July 1953, Dr. McKinney was appointed a supervisor in that department.



WINS SCHOLARSHIP — David Andrew Taylor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Taylor, 635 Baltimore Avenue, has been awarded a one-year tuition scholarship for the School of Engineering at Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore. Taylor was a member of this year's graduating class at Fort Hill High School.

Dignitaries Will Attend Dedication Of Bridge

Officials of both Maryland and West Virginia will be on hand for the dedication of the new Cumberland-Ridgeley bridge next Wednesday, the event to be a highlight of Bicentennial Week's "Good Neighbor Day."

Mayor Roy W. Eves, who is handling plans for the event, said the dedication has been tentatively scheduled for 3:30 p. m. that day. The dedication, he explained, will be held following an official luncheon for visiting officials from neighboring communities, the luncheon to be held at 1:30 p. m., in the Fort Cumberland Hotel dining room.

Heading the list of dignitaries who will attend the bridge ceremony will be State Comptroller J. Millard Tawes, Rep. James P. Devereux of Maryland's Second Congressional District; State Senator Ralph J. Bean of Moorefield, president of the West Virginia Senate, and Harley O. Staggers of West Virginia's Second Congressional District.

Another state official who will take part in the Bicentennial program next week is Attorney General C. Ferdinand Sybert, who has been named as one of the judges for the Brothers of the Brush beard contest. Additional judges will be announced prior to the event next Thursday.

One of the top labor officials in the country will be on hand next Friday when the Labor Temple on South Liberty Street will be dedicated. He is Lewis Heinz, Washington, representative of the American Federation of Labor headquarters.

Congressman Devereux and Western Maryland's entry, in baseball's Hall of Fame, Robert M. "Lefty" Grove of Lonaconing, will distribute the awards to the youth leaders of the city during the program prior to the pageant Tuesday evening at Fort Hill stadium.

Motorists In Crash Found Not Guilty

Two drivers involved in a traffic accident late last Sunday night at Baltimore and George streets were acquitted yesterday in Trial Magistrates Court of violating state motor laws.

The defendants, Rita Lannon, 18, Baltimore Pike, and Daniel Long, 18, RD 1, city, pleaded not guilty to reckless driving.

Magistrate Donald W. Mason said both claimed they "had the green light" when their vehicles collided. Witnesses were on hand to verify testimony.

Theft Suspect Found Guilty

A 33-year-old laborer drew a suspended 30-day jail sentence Wednesday in Trial Magistrates Court after he pleaded guilty to stealing $7 from a woman in a local tavern Tuesday afternoon.

The defendant, Harding V. Richardson, 512 Hill Street, was ordered to be of good behavior and refrain from intoxicants.

Mrs. Amy Edmondson, Keyser, notified police that a five-dollar bill, two one dollar bills and a bus ticket were taken form her blouse pocket in a Bedford Street establishment.

Later police picked up Richardson on North Mechanic Street where an attempt was made to cash the ticket at the Blue Ridge Terminal.

Richardson told Magistrate Donald W. Mason he found the money on the floor and gave it to an acquaintance with the idea of splitting the total. He denied knowing that the money and stub belonged to Mrs. Edmonson.

Detective Lt. James E. Van and Detective Thomas J. See investigated.

The Spaniards brought the grapefruit to the West Indies and Florida.

THE FIRST AIRCRAFT designed and built to investigate heat and speed problems encountered well beyond the speed of sound, the new Bell X-2 is shown in flight over Edwards Air Force Base, California. To be used solely as a flying research laboratory, the X-2 has a rocket engine capable of developing as much power as a modern Navy cruiser. It is declared to be an advanced version of the X-1A which blew up in the bomb bay of the mother B-29 over the Mojave Desert in California.

Shareholders Plan Vote On Bank Dividend

Stockholders of the Second National Bank are receiving formal notice of a shareholders' meeting for the ratification of a 25 per cent stock dividend. The United States comptroller of the currency has tentatively approved such a distribution. The meeting will be held Monday, August 22, and the dividend will be paid to all shareholders of record at the close of business August 23.

After the shareholders ratify the step at the meeting, each present holder will receive one new share for every four shares presently owned. Fractional shares will not be issued but script certificates for quarter shares will be distributed. It is expected that shareholders may buy or sell these certificates at the rate of $12.50 per quarter share so as to round out their holdings to full shares.

After the distribution of the stock dividend shall have been completed, the outstanding capital stock of the bank will consist of 20,000 shares of $25 par value each for a total of $500,000. It is understood that the bank's directors will also authorize the transfer of $100,000 from undivided profits to surplus, raising the latter to $500,000.

Earnings permitting, it is reportedly planned to continue the previously maintained regular annual cash dividend of $2 per share. In 1950 the bank paid a stock dividend of 45.3 per cent or five new shares for every 11 then owned. Consequently a person who, prior to the 1950 stock dividend, owned 11 shares of the bank's capital stock will soon be the hoider of 20 shares.

At the August 22 meeting, Carl F. Schmutz and Emil Schwarzenbach will act as proxies and the judges of election will be James A. Avirett, Benjamin M. Kamens, and Earl C. Robertson. The session will be held in Room 204 of the Fort Cumberland Hotel.

U. N. Conference Called

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., Aug. 11 (AP)—The U. N. negotiating committee for extra-budgetary funds has called the 60 member nations into conference in mid-September to pledge contributions for care of nearly a million Arab refugees from Palestine.

Woman Named By Ike

New Federal Judge Holds Unique Press Conference

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11 (AP) — Here was this Republican lawyer, just sworn in as a federal judge, holding a news conference and stitching on needlepoint.

And some of the subjects the conference covered! Tulips, remodeling old kitchens, washing clothes, planting Christmas trees.

The new judge, you see, is a woman, Mary Donlon.

Miss Donlon, former chairman of the New York State Workmen's Compensation Board, was sworn in yesterday as a member of the U.S. Customs Court, and afterward held a news conference unique in officialdom.

Her Honor answered questions with nary a "no comment" while she stitched on needlepoint in a fruit design intended for a seat cover of a chair in her 135-year-old house outside Albany, N.Y.

But lest any future litigant before the Customs Court gets the idea this small, quiet-speaking woman with her softly waved graying hair is just a homebody it must be said there is a mind behind her brown eyes that won masculine respect years ago.

She holds a 1921 law degree from Cornell University. Before former Gov. Thomas E. Dewey appointed her to the Workmen's Compensation Board in 1945 she was a partner for many years in one of New York City's most important law firms.

Miss Donlon is the first woman appointed to a high federal judicial post by President Eisenhower.

The oath was administered in Atty. Gen. Brownell's office by Judge Elbert H. Tuttle of the Fifth U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals, a Cornell classmate. Onlookers included the heads of several national women's organizations and a delegation of New York GOP women leaders.

The Customs Court is based in New York but it holds hearings in San Francisco, Chicago and other ports.

The first petroleum well was opened in Titusville, Pa., on Aug. 28, 1859.

Mrs. Hobby Talks On Social Security

Concerning further "liberalization" of social security—which will inevitably be proposed when Congress returns to Washington, because 1956 will be an election year — retiring Welfare Director Hobby spoke candidly of a few matters that elected officials usually avoid for obvious reasons.

Mrs. Hobby objected to the proposals to provide cash benefits at the age of 50 for disabled workers and to lower the retirement age for women from 65 to 62.

She pointed to the fact that disability protection would move the social security program into an "entirely new category of benefits based upon an individual's physical or mental condition." And of course that could raise endless questions concerning what actually constituted disability, with the eventual possibility of direct governmental intervention in the practice of medicine through examining clinics and rehabilitation programs.

With respect to lowering the retirement age for women, one of the questions raised is where to stop once the definition of old age is deemed subject to change. Another question is why there should be any distinction based on sex when all medical statistics show that women of a certain chronological age are likely to have a greater life expectancy than their male counterparts.

Most thought-provoking of all was Mrs. Hobby's reminder that these recurring increases in social security taxation are capable eventually of making that levy more burdensome than the income tax. She pointed out that under the changes now proposed a self-employed person with a wife and two children and with earnings of $4,200 or less a year would be compelled to pay more social security tax than federal income tax.

Paper And More Paper

A small business man in Milwaukee has sent a letter to Robert W. Burgess, Director of the Census, and he has sent me a carbon copy to which he appends: "Help, help and keep up your good work."

He says in this letter:

"We are a small business with our sales last year about $60,000. All of our parts are prefabricated and we only assemble and ship. I personally do our correspondence and most of the bookkeeping with the help of a girl who assists part time. I also supervise production, as well as doing much of it. I have one full time girl who does detail work and one part time girl who helps her. I have two part time boys doing most of the production. So you see we don't have the staff to dig out the information you ask for.

"To tell you the weights of steel and aluminum we use would be impossible. We don't even have a scale. To list certain classes of wages and costs would be impossible because we don't keep our books that way. Besides these semi-finished products we used are already covered in the reports of larger companies, our suppliers. We haven't even finished our 1954 income tax report."

The mistake that the author of this letter makes is that he assumes that a benevolent bureaucracy cares whether he stays in business or not. If he cannot afford to hire expensive accountants, keep a bookkeeper, a stenographer, an office-boy and put in heavy equipment, why not join a union and get a job in a factory? After all, on a $60,000 a year turnover, he can at most make $7,500 a year after taxes—I am taking a most optimistic figure, assuming that he and his wife do most of the work, if he has a wife.

Does the benevolent bureaucracy believe in private enterprise? Presumably, it is devoted to the cause, but truthfully it is only interested in the accumulation of data, statistics and the gathering and filing of papers. The Hoover Commission's Task Force report on paper work and red tape is a learned and stultifying document which records a series of unbelievable insults to the intelligence of the citizens who are pestered by questionnaires which mean nothing and which gather data that is already in the possession of government.

The truth of the matter is that business men are generally stupid politicians. I recall a conversation some years ago with a remarkable business man who had made himself a couple of million dollars in honest business. So this smart and ethical business man was complaining about this and that in government. I said: "This is still a free country. If you don't like the government, why don't you apply the same acumen that you did to business and get the kind of government you want?"

"Who, me?" said he, "I wouldn't think of going into politics."

"Then stop bellyaching," said I. "You business men generally get what's coming to you because you abandoned politics. The last business man who was sufficiently class-conscious to do a good job in politics was Mark Hanna who was destroyed by the literary genius and social scientist, Theodore Roosevelt."

What brought that conversation back to my mind was the fate of Harold Talbott, a business man who went into politics to collect campaign funds for the Republican Party. Harold Talbott fell under the spell of Tom Dewey and worked real hard in the years when the cause of the Republican Party seemed hopeless. Then a lot of New York business men and others went to Paris to implore General Eisenhower to abandon NATO and run for President on both the Republican and Democratic tickets.

So Harold Talbott collected funds for the Eisenhower Convention campaign and then for the election campaign and he was rewarded by being given a job that he could do well but at great personal sacrifice. But, like most Representatives and Senators, he kept a little business on the side, which is ethical for a Congressman, but is not ethical for a government official even if there is no conflict of interest.

I cannot get excited about these business men who get into trouble. As they do not understand the operation, they should leave politics to professionals, the same as they do their engineering and their advertising.

Any Report From The Credentials Committee?

Big Power Lobby Has Easy Sailing With FPC; Officials Get Free Trip

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — Some people were surprised when the Federal Power Commission waited two days until after Congress adjourned then announced a decision to turn Hell's Canyon, last big remaining dam site in the U. S. over to the Idaho Power Company.

They shouldn't have been. Anyone knowing the inside of the Power Commission and the lobbying forces that operate on its members shouldn't have been surprised at all.

The backstage story illustrates the manner in which lobbyists pretty much get what they want in Washington today.

They were even able to put across the Hell's Canyon award to Idaho Power despite the fact that a House of Representatives committee had already voted against it, despite the fact that the Senate Interior Committee was split 50-50, and despite the fact that an FPC examiner, William J. Costello, had recommended that it would be more efficient to develop this vast natural reservoir on the Snake River by the Federal Government than the piecemeal operation proposed by Idaho Power.

Reason for his recommendation was that the three small dams proposed by Idaho Power would yield 400,000 less kilowatts than the one high dam proposed by Senator Morse of Oregon and proponents of federal power.

Biggest Lobby Of All

Behind the Federal Power Commission, however, has been operating one of the most skillful lobbies in Washington. It wines and dines the FPCommissioners, takes them on free junkets around the country, operates through local electric light and gas companies to influence Congressmen, and spends around a half a million dollars each year lobbying with Congress. No other lobby in Washington—and there are a lot of them—spends so much money in Washington.

Friend Of Lobbyists

To illustrate how the lobbies operate, take the chairman of the commission, Jerome K. Kuykendall, a friendly, likeable gentleman, who is far more chummy with the gas and electric lobbies than any previous chairman in history.

When he was appointed to the Commission, the utilities knew exactly what they were getting. For they helped to put Kuykendall in. Actually it was Governor Arthur B. Langlie of Washington who recommended him to Eisenhower, and since Langlie had helped Ike defeat Taft's southern delegates at the 1952 Chicago convention and seated Eisenhower delegates instead, Eisenhower was obligated to Langlie.

Governor Langlie in turn has been obligated to his strong supporters, the Washington Water Power Company and Pacific Power and Light.

When Kuykendall came to Washington he immediately came under the influence of the big power and gas lobby, among them Edward Falck, the registered lobbyist for Bridgeport Gas Light, Niagara Mohawk Power, Consolidated Edison, Commonwealth Natural Gas Central Hudson Gas and Electric, Delaware Power and Light, Hartford Gas Co., Lynchburg Gas, the Long Island Lighting Co., New Haven Gas, New York State Electric and Gas Co., and Connecticut Light and Power.

Falck is an astute lobbyist. He earns his fees. He started as secretary to David Lilienthal when Lilienthal was chairman of the Tennessee Valley Authority, married the secretary of Arthur Morgan after Lilienthal's row with Morgan, later, came to Washington during the war to advise the War Production Board on utility matters.

In Washington, today Falck has so endeared himself to Chairman Kuykendall that he flew to Chicago with Kuykendall to attend the 1953 meeting of the National Association of Railroad and Utility Executives.

During the convention, Kuykendall threw a dinner for members of the executive committee.

Supposedly Impartial

The Federal Power Commission is supposed to be a judicial agency which is absolutely impartial in its decisions. In the past, its members have kept themselves aloof from lobbyists and lobbying social functions. Because what they decide affects the rates paid by the public for gas and electricity for future generations.

Despite this, Chairman Kuykendall allowed Mr. and Mrs. Stanley M. Morley, partner in Wheat, Shannon and May, which represents the West Coast Transmission Co., to give a party in his honor—even though West Coast Transmission at that very time was applying for a certificate to serve the Northwest with natural gas.

At the party also were Commissioners Seaborn Digby and Nelson Lee Smith, whose votes have usually gone to the utilities. After the party, Mr. and Mrs. Kuykendall and Commissioner Digby allowed lobbyist Ed Falck to take them to dinner.

On another occasion the three Republican members of the Commission — Kuykendall, Smith and Digby—accepted an unusual invitation from the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association to tour the Southwest—all expenses paid.

Adlai Or Averell Is $64 Question For Democrats

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — "Adlai or Averell?" This is the $64 question which the Democratic party has to answer soon. Will former Governor Stevenson of Illinois or Governor Harriman of New York State become the Democratic presidential candidate in 1956?

There are some handicaps which each faces from a strictly political viewpoint. Politicians say that a divorced man alienates large groups of Catholic voters—and the former Mrs. Stevenson isn't making things any easier for her ex-husband by giving interviews about him. Many of the big-city organizations of Democrats, who can be influential in controlling state delegations at a national convention, are well aware of the political implications of divorce. It is supposed to have beaten Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. for attorney general in New York State last autumn.

Harriman More Liberal

Nor is Governor Harriman immune. He, too, was divorced once. He is, moreover, a multi-millionaire with large holdings in the Union Pacific Railroad which he inherited from his father, the late E. H. Harriman. Maybe the campaign will introduce the chant that "what's good for Union Pacific is good for the country," and so on.

But the New York governor prides himself on being more "liberal" or radical than Adlai Stevenson on domestic matters. Despite Governor Harriman's previous associations with railroad management, he stands well with the railroad labor unions. The Democrats do not mind rich men in their ranks provided they dedicate themselves to a policy of "soaking the rich." The late President Franklin Roosevelt hobnobbed with Vincent Astor and other men of wealth like Myron Taylor, but, except for the usual appointments to diplomatic posts, it didn't affect his radical approach or preachments of class warfare.

In Democratic party politics it is evidently important to be radical nowadays. The theory is that it doesn't matter how mad the conservatives in the South may get, they'll have to vote Democratic anyhow. It didn't work that way in 1952, but that was when the South thought Ike would respect state's rights and wouldn't go as far on the segregation issue as he has gone since then.

Harriman Watching Foreign Policy

In the North Stevenson has allied himself with the radical organization—"Americans for Democratic Action"—which played so influential a part in shaping the last Democratic presidential campaign. But Governor Harriman, alert to the dangers of this so far as conservative Democrats are concerned, hasn't stuck his neck out on the "ADA" question and seems anxious to avoid too close a tie-up.

The real difficulty is that neither Harriman nor Stevenson has sensed the mood of the country so far as reflecting the protests or murmurs on public issues. Usually it is thought politically wise to exploit as many of the accumulated grievances as possible.

Governor Harriman, by reason of his service as American ambassador to Soviet Russia, is watching foreign policy closely and is represented as thinking that this may afford the basis for a sharp cleavage among voters. Thus, the fraternization of Mr. Eisenhower with the Soviet's top tyrants at Geneva recently could, if the situation changes to of disillusionment on the part of the American public, lead to taunting remarks such as greeted President Truman when he referred to Dictator Stalin as "good old Joe."

Mr. Harriman is known to have made rapid strides in political orientation since he served as secretary of commerce in Washington, and he is said to be keenly aware of how to take advantage of any weaknesses in the Eisenhower armor. But the fact remains that, so far as any positive, constructive, alternative policies go, neither the Stevenson nor Harriman speeches ring any bells with the electorate. Political trends in the past indicate that it isn't always necessary to offer any alternative proposals on either domestic or foreign policies, especially if there is a negative mood in the country — that is, if the voters are "against the in's." There are times when the electorate doesn't much care who the other candidate is—they want primarily to get rid of the party or president in power.

Age-Old Strategy

The age-old strategy that seems to work in American politics is to use congressional investigations to discredit the administration in office. Thus the revelations about "deep freezes" and "mink coats" led up to the discovery of scandals in the Internal Revenue Bureau under the Democrats.

The Democrats in turn are now aiming their fire at businessmen in government, especially dollar-a-year men. Chairman Celler, Democrat, of the House Judiciary Committee, is conducting a lively inquiry on the subject.

Senator Kefauver, who doesn't seem to mind making cracks about the integrity of other people and who shows signs of adopting some of the much condemned "methods" attributed to a certain Wisconsin senator by the Democrats last year, is counted on to do a job on the Dixon-Yates controversy, though thus far the American people haven't gotten excited about it. Many persons don't know whether "Dixon-Yates" is a vaudeville team or a "TV" show. But the next session of Congress may remedy this, as the drive starts to use "guilt by association" as the theme of the Democratic effort to discredit Eisenhower and his administration.

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

Congress doesn't want more roads. It's having too much fun on the clover-leaves.

My 1944 scrapstack could use a lane all by itself. It's what they call an orphan. The home factory converted to zippers for ear muffs. The way we get spare parts is to follow another scrapstack and bag what falls off.

All roads are military from this out. Back in '939 we went over the Apennines at a time when Mussolini was getting ready to put the buzzer on Haile Selassie of Sideways-Abyssinia. The Muss had built a cat's-cradle system of hardshell roads throughout the hills.

Up German-ways the Shickelgruber was doing the same things. The famous Autobahn was the world's longest airfield. For over two hundred miles it was a landing strip without trees, without telegraph poles, without lamp-posts and without permanent bridges.

Our Army Engineers knew that and what it was for. And know that roads are more important than rivers.

We know that Congress can see further ahead than a fellow riding backward on a mine mule. If you don't think so gander the roadside signs that close the roads to everything but military traffic. We don't mean Smith Brothers' billboard diaries.

By the time you read this Congress may have nodded progressively on the interstate bowling alleys.

The Soviet System

By Stewart Alsop

MOSCOW

There are two very simple facts, taken together, that provide the main clue to the much discussed internal problem of the whole Soviet system. The first is the fact that Moscow is on about the same lattitude as Labrador, Hudson Bay, or Sitka, Alaska.

In other words, the Russian land mass is very far north. This in turn means a dangerously short growing season except in the most southerly parts of Russia, and no real growing season at all in the north. And this is why, even with the best agricultural system in the world, and despite the immensity of the Russian land area, it would still be difficult to grow enough food for the Soviet population.

The second fact is that the whole Soviet system is squarely based on ruthless exploitation of the peasantry, in order to provide the capital for industrial expansion. The way it is done is essentially very simple. The state pays the collective farms artificially low prices for what they produce. The state then sells the farm produce for as much as ten times what it paid. This enormous profit margin provides the bulk of the capital for new plant, and equipment for Soviet industry, plus the funds for the huge Soviet war machine.

Put these two facts tog ther and you see why the Soviet agricultural crisis, about which the world has heard so much, is no new thing, but something inherent in the system.

The crisis has been going on ever since Stalin forced collectivization on the peasants in the early thirties, starving some 3,000,000 people in order to achieve it. Stalin did so, not simply out of wanton cruelty, but because he recognized that collectivization of the land was essential in order to sweat the peasants for the capital for industrial expansion and for funds for the war machine.

The present Soviet rulers cannot possibly abandon collective agriculture unless they are prepared to abandon communism, which they are not. But the collective system is by its very nature inefficient.

Essentially, the collective farming system is an attempt to apply the Soviet method of industrial production to agricultural production. The Russian peasant has "norms" to fulfill, just like a Russian factory worker. As in the case of the worker, the peasant income depends on how well he fulfills his norms.

But a sick calf is not like a piece of machinery. You cannot use a mechanical approach to biology because biology is not mechanical. One result of trying to do so is the collective farms are cursed with bookkeepers, bosses, overseers and all the trappings of bureaucracy. Overall, it requires six or seven Soviet workers on the land to produce what one American agricultural worker produces.

Add the short Russian growing season, less the continuing voracious demand for funds from Soviet industry and the Soviet war machine, and it is easy to see why the Soviet agricultural crisis is permanent.

In statistical terms, the crisis is easy to describe. The Soviet population is growing at a rate of only about 1.5 per cent a year, and farm production is increasing at a rate of only about 1 per cent. In the long run — the very long run — this could be a formula for mass starvation. Moreover, the rate of increase in farm production has only been maintained by all sorts of temporary expedients.

For example, grain and potato crops have long been emphasized at the expense of livestock, since grain supplies far more calories per acre than meat. But this process has now reached the point of no return, with the livestock population of Russia lower than before the Revolution. Again, the system of crop rotation was recently denounced by Nikita Khrushchev, and in many areas the soil is currently being mined to increase immediate production at the expense of future fertility.

Another temporary expedient has been the training of some 30,000 hard-core young Communists to take over the management of the collective farms. This, so far, has led only to bitterness and confusion. At the same time, the much publicized attempt to exploit some vast acreages of marginal land has been undertaken, an attempt which, depending on the weather, could quite easily fail disastrously.

Finally, in order to provide incentives, the Soviet rulers have done what they least wished to do — they have given the farm workers a bigger share of the national income. This in turn has been the major factor in the current Soviet inflation, thus reducing the available margin of funds to pay for industrial expansion and the war machine.

"Inflation," significantly, is the one word no Soviet censor will pass — when this reporter tried to suggest the same thing with the phrase "rationing by the purse," the sharp-eyed censor caught and cut it out. But the inflation is there, visible to the naked eye, in the endless lines of people waiting to buy shoddy, fantastically over-priced consumer goods.

Add finally the severe demands made on the Soviet economy by the satellites, and, above all China, and it is easy to see why the Russian rulers now want a breathing spell. But here the usual caveat must be entered. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles to the contrary, the Soviet system is nowhere near to being "on the point of collapse." In the ways outlined, the Soviet system has problems, and the Soviet agricultural system works particularly badly. But the system works all the same.

Labeling Of Ingredients Could Prevent Poisoning

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Deilen

Physicians frequently receive a phone call from a frantic mother who wants to know if Uncle Tom's metal polish is poisonous. While cleaning a lamp, she left the room for a moment, and little Johnny swallowed the rest of the polish. The family doctor asks for more details because no physician is acquainted with the ingredients of all household preparations.

After mother calms down and reads the contents listed on the label, all too often the medico is no wiser because proportions are not given. Furthermore, one or two of the chemicals named may be new or unknown to the medical profession.

How much trouble would be averted and how many lives would be saved if the label listed specific information on the potentially dangerous ingredients and their antidotes. Many products used daily by the housewife contain substances capable of causing sesevere illness or death when swallowed.

The manufacturers are within the law because the preparations are for external and not internal use. In other instances, the chemical may not be harmful unless mixed with another compound, forming a toxic combination over which the manufacturer has no control.

But little Johnny does not know all this and his parents often are in the same boat. They do not realize the need for keeping cleansing solutions, furniture polish floor wax, paint solvents, and cosmetics out of reach of the small fry.

A safe place should be set aside for household products to avoid misuse by unsuspecting children. Parents are not the only ones concerned. Many cities have established control programs combining information and treatment services.

Hospital centers are cooperating by obtaining data on toxic ingredients of many household products. In addition, a questionnaire is prepared on each poisoned child after he enters the hospital for emergency care to determine the nature of the poison, symptoms, and how the child obtained the noxious substance.

Dr. Morton J. Rodman, of Rutgers University college of pharmacy, attacked the problem in another way. Because so many physicians and pharmacists contacted the university for information on the potential toxicity of household products ingested by children, he decided to make an extensive survey of numerous compounds.

But he encountered difficulty all along the line. After obtaining an incomplete listing of the ingredients, antidotes, and prognosis in poisoning mishaps, "certain legal restrictions and ethical obligations prevented publications of the data in such form at this time.

In many instances, the manufacturer's formula is secret and we can understand some of the restrictions to his work. He is convince dthat any balanced program of preventing accidental poisoning must insist upon proper "labeling of articles capable of producing poisoning if used other than as directed." An effective campaign will involve the joint efforts of public health officials and manufacturers.

TOMORROW: Infection may spread to bladder.

Expanding operations prompted him to send for two nephews to help run the show. Later two more nephews were impressed into service.

Thereafter, when any unfortunate turned up to hock a treasure, one of the nephews would inevitably conclude the bargaining by saying, "I'll have to ask Uncle." And that's how pawnbrokers came to be called "Uncle" all over the country.

Any Report From The Credentials Committee?

Big Power Lobby Has Easy Sailing With FPC; Officials Get Free Trip

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — Some people were surprised when the Federal Power Commission waited two days until after Congress adjourned then announced a decision to turn Hell's Canyon, last big remaining dam site in the U. S. over to the Idaho Power Company.

They shouldn't have been. Anyone knowing the inside of the Power Commission and the lobbying forces that operate on its members shouldn't have been surprised at all.

The backstage story illustrates the manner in which lobbyists pretty much get what they want in Washington today.

They were even able to put across the Hell's Canyon award to Idaho Power despite the fact that a House of Representatives committee had already voted against it, despite the fact that the Senate Interior Committee was split 50-50, and despite the fact that an FPC examiner, William J. Costello, had recommended that it would be more efficient to develop this vast natural reservoir on the Snake River by the Federal Government than the piecemeal operation proposed by Idaho Power.

Reason for his recommendation was that the three small dams proposed by Idaho Power would yield 400,000 less kilowatts than the one high dam proposed by Senator Morse of Oregon and proponents of federal power.

Biggest Lobby Of All

Behind the Federal Power Commission, however, has been operating one of the most skillful lobbies in Washington. It wines and dines the FPCommissioners, takes them on free junkets around the country, operates through local electric light and gas companies to influence Congressmen, and spends around a half a million dollars each year lobbying with Congress. No other lobby in Washington—and there are a lot of them—spends so much money in Washington.

Friend Of Lobbyists

To illustrate how the lobbies operate, take the chairman of the commission, Jerome K. Kuykendall, a friendly, likeable gentleman, who is far more chummy with the gas and electric lobbies than any previous chairman in history.

When he was appointed to the Commission, the utilities knew exactly what they were getting. For they helped to put Kuykendall in. Actually it was Governor Arthur B. Langlie of Washington who recommended him to Eisenhower, and since Langlie had helped Ike defeat Taft's southern delegates at the 1952 Chicago convention and seated Eisenhower delegates instead, Eisenhower was obligated to Langlie.

Governor Langlie in turn has been obligated to his strong supporters, the Washington Water Power Company and Pacific Power and Light.

When Kuykendall came to Washington he immediately came under the influence of the big power and gas lobby, among them Edward Falck, the registered lobbyist for Bridgeport Gas Light, Niagara Mohawk Power, Consolidated Edison, Commonwealth Natural Gas Central Hudson Gas and Electric, Delaware Power and Light, Hartford Gas Co., Lynchburg Gas, the Long Island Lighting Co., New Haven Gas, New York State Electric and Gas Co., and Connecticut Light and Power.

Falck is an astute lobbyist. He earns his fees. He started as secretary to David Lilienthal when Lilienthal was chairman of the Tennessee Valley Authority, married the secretary of Arthur Morgan after Lilienthal's row with Morgan, later, came to Washington during the war to advise the War Production Board on utility matters.

In Washington, today Falck has so endeared himself to Chairman Kuykendall that he flew to Chicago with Kuykendall to attend the 1953 meeting of the National Association of Railroad and Utility Executives.

During the convention, Kuykendall threw a dinner for members of the executive committee.

Supposedly Impartial

The Federal Power Commission is supposed to be a judicial agency which is absolutely impartial in its decisions. In the past, its members have kept themselves aloof from lobbyists and lobbying social functions. Because what they decide affects the rates paid by the public for gas and electricity for future generations.

Despite this, Chairman Kuykendall allowed Mr. and Mrs. Stanley M. Morley, partner in Wheat, Shannon and May, which represents the West Coast Transmission Co., to give a party in his honor—even though West Coast Transmission at that very time was applying for a certificate to serve the Northwest with natural gas.

At the party also were Commissioners Seaborn Digby and Nelson Lee Smith, whose votes have usually gone to the utilities. After the party, Mr. and Mrs. Kuykendall and Commissioner Digby allowed lobbyist Ed Falck to take them to dinner.

On another occasion the three Republican members of the Commission — Kuykendall, Smith and Digby—accepted an unusual invitation from the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association to tour the Southwest—all expenses paid.

Adlai Or Averell Is $64 Question For Democrats

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — "Adlai or Averell?" This is the $64 question which the Democratic party has to answer soon. Will former Governor Stevenson of Illinois or Governor Harriman of New York State become the Democratic presidential candidate in 1956?

There are some handicaps which each faces from a strictly political viewpoint. Politicians say that a divorced man alienates large groups of Catholic voters—and the former Mrs. Stevenson isn't making things any easier for her ex-husband by giving interviews about him. Many of the big-city organizations of Democrats, who can be influential in controlling state delegations at a national convention, are well aware of the political implications of divorce. It is supposed to have beaten Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. for attorney general in New York State last autumn.

Harriman More Liberal

Nor is Governor Harriman immune. He, too, was divorced once. He is, moreover, a multi-millionaire with large holdings in the Union Pacific Railroad which he inherited from his father, the late E. H. Harriman. Maybe the campaign will introduce the chant that "what's good for Union Pacific is good for the country," and so on.

But the New York governor prides himself on being more "liberal" or radical than Adlai Stevenson on domestic matters. Despite Governor Harriman's previous associations with railroad management, he stands well with the railroad labor unions. The Democrats do not mind rich men in their ranks provided they dedicate themselves to a policy of "soaking the rich." The late President Franklin Roosevelt hobnobbed with Vincent Astor and other men of wealth like Myron Taylor, but, except for the usual appointments to diplomatic posts, it didn't affect his radical approach or preachments of class warfare.

In Democratic party politics it is evidently important to be radical nowadays. The theory is that it doesn't matter how mad the conservatives in the South may get, they'll have to vote Democratic anyhow. It didn't work that way in 1952, but that was when the South thought Ike would respect state's rights and wouldn't go as far on the segregation issue as he has gone since then.

Harriman Watching Foreign Policy

In the North Stevenson has allied himself with the radical organization—"Americans for Democratic Action"—which played so influential a part in shaping the last Democratic presidential campaign. But Governor Harriman, alert to the dangers of this so far as conservative Democrats are concerned, hasn't stuck his neck out on the "ADA" question and seems anxious to avoid too close a tie-up.

The real difficulty is that neither Harriman nor Stevenson has sensed the mood of the country so far as reflecting the protests or murmurs on public issues. Usually it is thought politically wise to exploit as many of the accumulated grievances as possible.

Governor Harriman, by reason of his service as American ambassador to Soviet Russia, is watching foreign policy closely and is represented as thinking that this may afford the basis for a sharp cleavage among voters. Thus, the fraternization of Mr. Eisenhower with the Soviet's top tyrants at Geneva recently could, if the situation changes to of disillusionment on the part of the American public, lead to taunting remarks such as greeted President Truman when he referred to Dictator Stalin as "good old Joe."

Mr. Harriman is known to have made rapid strides in political orientation since he served as secretary of commerce in Washington, and he is said to be keenly aware of how to take advantage of any weaknesses in the Eisenhower armor. But the fact remains that, so far as any positive, constructive, alternative policies go, neither the Stevenson nor Harriman speeches ring any bells with the electorate. Political trends in the past indicate that it isn't always necessary to offer any alternative proposals on either domestic or foreign policies, especially if there is a negative mood in the country — that is, if the voters are "against the in's." There are times when the electorate doesn't much care who the other candidate is—they want primarily to get rid of the party or president in power.

Age-Old Strategy

The age-old strategy that seems to work in American politics is to use congressional investigations to discredit the administration in office. Thus the revelations about "deep freezes" and "mink coats" led up to the discovery of scandals in the Internal Revenue Bureau under the Democrats.

The Democrats in turn are now aiming their fire at businessmen in government, especially dollar-a-year men. Chairman Celler, Democrat, of the House Judiciary Committee, is conducting a lively inquiry on the subject.

Senator Kefauver, who doesn't seem to mind making cracks about the integrity of other people and who shows signs of adopting some of the much condemned "methods" attributed to a certain Wisconsin senator by the Democrats last year, is counted on to do a job on the Dixon-Yates controversy, though thus far the American people haven't gotten excited about it. Many persons don't know whether "Dixon-Yates" is a vaudeville team or a "TV" show. But the next session of Congress may remedy this, as the drive starts to use "guilt by association" as the theme of the Democratic effort to discredit Eisenhower and his administration.

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

Congress doesn't want more roads. It's having too much fun on the clover-leaves.

My 1944 scrapstack could use a lane all by itself. It's what they call an orphan. The home factory converted to zippers for ear muffs. The way we get spare parts is to follow another scrapstack and bag what falls off.

All roads are military from this out. Back in '939 we went over the Apennines at a time when Mussolini was getting ready to put the buzzer on Haile Selassie of Sideways-Abyssinia. The Muss had built a cat's-cradle system of hardshell roads throughout the hills.

Up German-ways the Shickelgruber was doing the same things. The famous Autobahn was the world's longest airfield. For over two hundred miles it was a landing strip without trees, without telegraph poles, without lamp-posts and without permanent bridges.

Our Army Engineers knew that and what it was for. And know that roads are more important than rivers.

We know that Congress can see further ahead than a fellow riding backward on a mine mule. If you don't think so gander the roadside signs that close the roads to everything but military traffic. We don't mean Smith Brothers' billboard diaries.

By the time you read this Congress may have nodded progressively on the interstate bowling alleys.

The Soviet System

By Stewart Alsop

MOSCOW

There are two very simple facts, taken together, that provide the main clue to the much discussed internal problem of the whole Soviet system. The first is the fact that Moscow is on about the same lattitude as Labrador, Hudson Bay, or Sitka, Alaska.

In other words, the Russian land mass is very far north. This in turn means a dangerously short growing season except in the most southerly parts of Russia, and no real growing season at all in the north. And this is why, even with the best agricultural system in the world, and despite the immensity of the Russian land area, it would still be difficult to grow enough food for the Soviet population.

The second fact is that the whole Soviet system is squarely based on ruthless exploitation of the peasantry, in order to provide the capital for industrial expansion. The way it is done is essentially very simple. The state pays the collective farms artificially low prices for what they produce. The state then sells the farm produce for as much as ten times what it paid. This enormous profit margin provides the bulk of the capital for new plant, and equipment for Soviet industry, plus the funds for the huge Soviet war machine.

Put these two facts tog ther and you see why the Soviet agricultural crisis, about which the world has heard so much, is no new thing, but something inherent in the system.

The crisis has been going on ever since Stalin forced collectivization on the peasants in the early thirties, starving some 3,000,000 people in order to achieve it. Stalin did so, not simply out of wanton cruelty, but because he recognized that collectivization of the land was essential in order to sweat the peasants for the capital for industrial expansion and for funds for the war machine.

The present Soviet rulers cannot possibly abandon collective agriculture unless they are prepared to abandon communism, which they are not. But the collective system is by its very nature inefficient.

Essentially, the collective farming system is an attempt to apply the Soviet method of industrial production to agricultural production. The Russian peasant has "norms" to fulfill, just like a Russian factory worker. As in the case of the worker, the peasant income depends on how well he fulfills his norms.

But a sick calf is not like a piece of machinery. You cannot use a mechanical approach to biology because biology is not mechanical. One result of trying to do so is the collective farms are cursed with bookkeepers, bosses, overseers and all the trappings of bureaucracy. Overall, it requires six or seven Soviet workers on the land to produce what one American agricultural worker produces.

Add the short Russian growing season, less the continuing voracious demand for funds from Soviet industry and the Soviet war machine, and it is easy to see why the Soviet agricultural crisis is permanent.

In statistical terms, the crisis is easy to describe. The Soviet population is growing at a rate of about 1.5 per cent a year, and farm production is increasing at a rate of only about 1 per cent. In the long run — the very long run — this could be a formula for mass starvation. Moreover, the rate of increase in farm production has only been maintained by all sorts of temporary expedients.

For example, grain and potato crops have long been emphasized at the expense of livestock, since grain supplies far more calories per acre than meat. But this process has now reached the point of no return, with the livestock population of Russia lower than before the Revolution. Again, the system of crop rotation was recently denounced by Nikita Khrushchev, and in many areas the soil is currently being mined to increase immediate production at the expense of future fertility.

Another temporary expedient has been the training of some 30,000 hard-core young Communists to take over the management of the collective farms. This, so far, has led only to bitterness and confusion. At the same time, the much publicized attempt to exploit some vast acreages of marginal land has been undertaken, an attempt which, depending on the weather, could quite easily fail disastrously.

Finally, in order to provide incentives, the Soviet rulers have done what they least wished to do — they have given the farm workers a bigger share of the national income. This in turn has been the major factor in the current Soviet inflation, thus reducing the available margin of funds to pay for industrial expansion and the war machine.

"Inflation," significantly, is the one word no Soviet censor will pass — when this reporter tried to suggest the same thing with the phrase "rationing by the purse," the sharp-eyed censor caught and cut it out. But the inflation is there, visible to the naked eye, in the endless lines of people waiting to buy shoddy, fantastically over-priced consumer goods.

Add finally the severe demands made on the Soviet economy by the satellites, and, above all China, and it is easy to see why the Russian rulers now want a breathing spell. But here the usual caveat must be entered. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles to the contrary, the Soviet system is nowhere near to being "on the point of collapse." In the ways outlined, the Soviet system has problems, and the Soviet agricultural system works particularly badly. But the system works all the same.

Labeling Of Ingredients Could Prevent Poisoning

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Deilen

Physicians frequently receive a phone call from a frantic mother who wants to know if Uncle Tom's metal polish is poisonous. While cleaning a lamp, she left the room for a moment, and little Johnny swallowed the rest of the polish. The family doctor asks for more details because no physician is acquainted with the ingredients of all household preparations.

After mother calms down and reads the contents listed on the label, all too often the medico is no wiser because proportions are not given. Furthermore, one or two of the chemicals named may be new or unknown to the medical profession.

How much trouble would be averted and how many lives would be saved if the label listed specific information on the potentially dangerous ingredients and their antidotes. Many products used daily by the housewife contain substances capable of causing severe illness or death when swallowed.

The manufacturers are within the law because the preparations are for external and not internal use. In other instances, the chemical may not be harmful unless mixed with another compound, forming a toxic combination over which the manufacturer has no control.

But little Johnny does not know all this and his parents often are in the same boat. They do not realize the need for keeping cleansing solutions, furniture polish floor wax, paint solvents, and cosmetics out of reach of the small fry.

A safe place should be set aside for household products to avoid misuse by unsuspecting children. Parents are not the only ones concerned. Many cities have established control programs combining information and treatment services.

Hospital centers are cooperating by obtaining data on toxic ingredients of many household products. In addition, a questionnaire is prepared on each poisoned child after he enters the hospital for emergency care to determine the nature of the poison, symptoms, and how the child obtained the noxious substance.

Dr. Morton J. Rodman, of Rutgers University college of pharmacy, attacked the problem in another way. Because so many physicians and pharmacists contacted the university for information on the potential toxicity of household products ingested by children, he decided to make an extensive survey of numerous compounds.

But he encountered difficulty all along the line. After obtaining an incomplete listing of the ingredients, antidotes, and prognosis in poisoning mishaps, "certain legal restrictions and ethical obligations prevented publications of the data in such form at this time.

In many instances, the manufacturer's formula is secret and we can understand some of the restrictions to his work. He is convince dthat any balanced program of preventing accidental poisoning must insist upon proper "labeling of articles capable of producing poisoning if used other than as directed." An effective campaign will involve the joint efforts of public health officials and manufacturers.

TOMORROW: Infection may spread to bladder.

Try And Stop Me!

By Bennett Cerf

In their fascinating book about the pawn-broking business, "Hockshop," Mr. and Mrs. William Simpson tell how an ancestor from England founded the business in New York in 1822. Expanding operations prompted him to send for two nephews to help run the show. Later two more nephews were impressed into service.

Thereafter, when any unfortunate turned up to hock a treasure, one of the nephews would inevitably conclude the bargaining by saying, "I'll have to ask Uncle." And that's how pawnbrokers came to be called "Uncle" all over the country.

A Memphis housewife tells of the day she brought home a modernistic new lampshade and sprang it without warning on her poor husband, trying to read his evening paper. "How do you like it?" she cooed.

The husband recoiled in horror. "You wear that contraption to church Sunday," he threatened, "and you go alone!"

"Funny-Face" Meat Muffins

Here's a lunch menu which will tempt your children's appetites as well as your own: "Funny-Face" Meat Muffins, molded berry salad, green beans, bread, butter or margarine, sugar cookies and milk. Your children will be delighted with the meat muffins. They are made with ground beef, prepared the way you usually do for meat loaf. The ground beef mixture is packed in the muffin tins so that each is ⅔ full. They are baked in a slow oven (300° F.) for 30 minutes. When the meat muffins are served, slices of stuffed olives are arranged on each to form "funny faces."

Instead of keeping cats to catch rats and mice, many smalltown hotels in Mexico have boa constrictors, because they are better mousers.

Westward Ho For Summer Parties

"Howdy, Partner. Step right up to the chow wagon and lasso yourself a plate."

That's the way to welcome guests for an easy-going summer party. Out west hospitality overflows with good food and a happy relaxed spirit. Take a tip, fair hostess, wherever you are. Follow suit.

Bend your efforts to round up one colossal main dish — like WESTERN BURGERS (let beef be King of the table). For trimmings, such simple, beloved morsels as corn on the cob, sour pickles and redhot little radishes. If anyone has room left, he can help himself to a luscious peach and a chunk of chocolate cake (with white frosting and chocolate chips).

North, south, east, or west. All the cowbelles and cowboys will shout about your chow wagon.

SCRAMBLE up a skillet-full of Western-Burgers for an outdoor pow-wow with friends. The cowboys and cow-belles will take a fancy to these zesty barbecue sandwiches. Filling rounds up ground beef, tomato soup, onion, stuffed olives, and seasonings. Later bring out an oaken bucket of fruit and chocolate-chip cake.

Western Burgers

- 1 pound ground beef
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
- ¼ cup chopped onion
- ¼ cup chopped green pepper
- 1 can (1¼ cups) condensed tomato soup
- ¼ cup sliced stuffed olives
- 1 bay leaf
- Dash cayenne pepper and/or thyme

Introduce Chicken-Potato Potage

Cook up the new frozen potato soup — with the happy addition of a can of chicken. Then introduce your kith and kin to this most delectable potage for a summer supper. Start off by frizzling ½ cup chopped celery in 2 tablespoons butter or margarine. Add 1 can (1¼ cups) frozen condensed cream of potato soup. Stir in ½ cup diced cooked chicken (a small can). Let the potage simmer to full-bloomed flavor. It's a pleasure to polish it off along with Lime Fluff Salad (gelatin, cottage cheese and pineapple).

Top Beans With Green Gold Garnish

Dress up beans in their best "bib and tucker" for parties with a colorful topping of green pepper rings and grated golden cheese. First empty as many cans of beans as needed into a shallow baking dish. Slice a green pepper into thin rings; dip rings in melted butter and place these atop beans. Sprinkle shredded cheese in center of each ring. Bake in hot oven (425° F.) about 20 minutes. Ideal if there's a pepper ring to scoop onto each serving of saucy beans.

Franks and Macaroni Win Salad Award

An award-winning salad at summer outings is the team of macaroni with franks and crispy chopped greens. Use 2 cans of macaroni with cheese sauce as the base . . . that's 3½ cups macaroni. Stir in 4 franks (thinly sliced); 1 cup chopped celery; ¼ cup chopped green pepper. Season with 2 tablespoons minced onion and 2 teaspoons prepared mustard. Chill through and through. Picknickers will welcome this macaroni and frank salad to eat with cold sliced tomatoes . . . maybe corn on the cob . . . and iced tea. A happy change from the old-timer, potato salad.

Cook Corn Outdoors

Corn on the cob is one of the nicest things about the good old summertime. Cook it outside over glowing hot coals and here indeed is corn on the cob at its very best.

Whether you like your corn cooked in or out of the husks, it's important to provide lots of good flavorful sauce — sauce for dunking the corn after it's cooked in the husk, and sauce for basting the corn that's grilled without the husk. And when there's not enough time for making a good barbecue sauce, provide lots of golden good margarine, salt and pepper.

Here is a recipe for a flavorful sauce and directions for cooking the corn in and out of the husks.

Barbecue Herb Sauce

½ cup margarine; 2 teaspoons lemon juice; 1 tablespoon finely chopper parsley; ½ teaspoon salt; ⅛ teaspoon cayenne pepper.

Cream margarine thoroughly. Add and blend until smooth the remaining ingredients.

To roast corn with husks on: Without removing husks completely, carefully peel the husks back and remove the silk. Spread each ear with margarine and sprinkle with seasoning as desired, or spread with herb sauce (margarine or sauce, use about 1 tablespoon for each ear of corn). Put husks back in place over corn. Wrap each ear tightly in aluminum foil. Grill about 15 to 20 minutes. Remove husks and serve immediately.

To grill corn: Remove husks and silks. Brush corn with margarine or herb sauce and grill over hot coals, turning frequently, about 6 to 8 minutes.

"Funny-Face" Meat Muffins

Here's a lunch menu which will tempt your children's appetites as well as your own: "Funny-Face" Meat Muffins, molded berry salad, green beans, bread, butter or margarine, sugar cookies and milk. Your children will be delighted with the meat muffins. They are made with ground beef, prepared the way you usually do for meat loaf. The ground beef mixture is packed in the muffin tins so that each is ⅔ full. They are baked in a slow oven (300° F.) for 30 minutes. When the meat muffins are served, slices of stuffed olives are arranged on each to form "funny faces."

Instead of keeping cats to catch rats and mice, many smalltown hotels in Mexico have boa constrictors, because they are better mousers.

Westward Ho For Summer Parties

"Howdy, Partner. Step right up to the chow wagon and lasso yourself a plate."

That's the way to welcome guests for an easy-going summer party. Out west hospitality overflows with good food and a happy relaxed spirit. Take a tip, fair hostess, wherever you are. Follow suit.

Bend your efforts to round up one colossal main dish — like WESTERN BURGERS (let beef be King of the table). For trimmings, such simple, beloved morsels as corn on the cob, sour pickles and redhot little radishes. If anyone has room left, he can help himself to a luscious peach and a chunk of chocolate cake (with white frosting and chocolate chips).

North, south, east, or west. All the cowbelles and cowboys will shout about your chow wagon.

SCRAMBLE up a skillet-full of Western-Burgers for an outdoor pow-wow with friends. The cowboys and cow-belles will take a fancy to these zesty barbecue sandwiches. Filling rounds up ground beef, tomato soup, onion, stuffed olives, and seasonings. Later bring out an oaken bucket of fruit and chocolate-chip cake.

Western Burgers

- 1 pound ground beef
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
- ¼ cup chopped onion
- ¼ cup chopped green pepper
- 1 can (1¼ cups) condensed tomato soup
- ¼ cup sliced stuffed olives
- 1 bay leaf
- Dash cayenne pepper and/or thyme

Introduce Chicken-Potato Potage

Cook up the new frozen potato soup — with the happy addition of a can of chicken. Then introduce your kith and kin to this most delectable potage for a summer supper. Start off by frizzling ½ cup chopped celery in 2 tablespoons butter or margarine. Add 1 can (1¼ cups) frozen condensed cream of potato soup. Stir in ½ cup diced cooked chicken (a small can). Let the potage simmer to full-bloomed flavor. It's a pleasure to polish it off along with Lime Fluff Salad (gelatin, cottage cheese and pineapple).

Top Beans With Green Gold Garnish

Dress up beans in their best "bib and tucker" for parties with a colorful topping of green pepper rings and grated golden cheese. First empty as many cans of beans as needed into a shallow baking dish. Slice a green pepper into thin rings; dip rings in melted butter and place these atop beans. Sprinkle shredded cheese in center of each ring. Bake in hot oven (425° F.) about 20 minutes. Ideal if there's a pepper ring to scoop onto each serving of saucy beans.

Franks and Macaroni Win Salad Award

An award-winning salad at summer outings is the team of macaroni with franks and crispy chopped greens. Use 2 cans of macaroni with cheese sauce as the base . . . that's 3½ cups macaroni. Stir in 4 franks (thinly sliced); 1 cup chopped celery; ¼ cup chopped green pepper. Season with 2 tablespoons minced onion and 2 teaspoons prepared mustard. Chill through and through. Picknickers will welcome this macaroni and frank salad to eat with cold sliced tomatoes . . . maybe corn on the cob . . . and iced tea. A happy change from the old-timer, potato salad.

Cook Corn Outdoors

Corn on the cob is one of the nicest things about the good old summertime. Cook it outside over glowing hot coals and here indeed is corn on the cob at its very best.

Whether you like your corn cooked in or out of the husks, it's important to provide lots of good flavorful sauce — sauce for dunking the corn after it's cooked in the husk, and sauce for basting the corn that's grilled without the husk. And when there's not enough time for making a good barbecue sauce, provide lots of golden good margarine, salt and pepper.

Here is a recipe for a flavorful sauce and directions for cooking the corn in and out of the husks.

Barbecue Herb Sauce

½ cup margarine; 2 teaspoons lemon juice; 1 tablespoon finely chopper parsley; ½ teaspoon salt; ⅛ teaspoon cayenne pepper.

Cream margarine thoroughly. Add and blend until smooth the remaining ingredients.

To roast corn with husks on: Without removing husks completely, carefully peel the husks back and remove the silk. Spread each ear with margarine and sprinkle with seasoning as desired, or spread with herb sauce (margarine or sauce, use about 1 tablespoon for each ear of corn). Put husks back in place over corn. Wrap each ear tightly in aluminum foil. Grill about 15 to 20 minutes. Remove husks and serve immediately.

To grill corn: Remove husks and silks. Brush corn with margarine or herb sauce and grill over hot coals, turning frequently, about 6 to 8 minutes.

Summertime Meal-on-a-Platter

Sometimes summer appetites need coaxing. Just a little more attention to the appearance of the meal helps. Here's an idea: line a large shallow bowl with salad greens. Arrange julienne strips of canned luncheon meat in the center with hot potato salad and mixed fruit salad at the sides.

Garnish With Season's Fruit

Did you ever think of garnishing meat dishes with fresh fruit? Lemon-dipped banana slices, orange and grapefruit sections are year 'round possibilities. Right now fresh berries are plentiful and a cluster of them on a juicy cold roast pork platter adds color and flavor accent. You might even try arranging chilled melon balls on a serving dish with a meat salad. For those platters of ready-to-serve meats, so popular in warm weather, chunks of fresh pineapple, apricots and red cherries give additional eye appeal.

"Different" Ideas For Picnic Good Eating

July is picnic time. It's the perfect chance to relax and enjoy leisurely out-of-door eating. Whether your picnic be in your own yard, porch, patio or in the park, here are some different ideas for you suggested by meat expert Reba Staggs.

Even without a fire you can serve tasty barbecued beef on buns. Have barbecued ground beef simmering on the range, then just before you leave, spoon it into scalded glass fruit jars. Tightly cover, then wrap in several thicknesses of newspaper. This will keep it hot for some time.

Follow this same idea for carrying barbecued spareribs. Have your meat retailer cut the rack into individual rib portions. Roast them in an open roasting pan at 350° F. for 45 minutes, then pour barbecue sauce over them. Cook, basting often, for 1 hour. Place in wide-mouthed jars and wrap closely with several thicknesses of newspaper.

Pork chops and gravy are an unexpected find for picnic time. Braise the chops at home, then make gravy with the drippings. At your picnic, reheat the chops in the gravy.

Ready-to-serve meats lend endless variety to picnic good eating. Bologna, liver sausage or salami cut into ¼-inch thick slices and grilled over charcoal or heated with a small amount of fat in a frying-pan are excellent served in toasted buns with a dash of chili sauce. Or cut canned luncheon loaf or chopped ham into ¼-inch slices. Grill them over glowing coals, basting occasionally with barbecue sauce.

Indonesia was a possession of the Netherlands for more than 300 years before it became independent in 1949.

"Different" Ideas For Picnic Good Eating

July is picnic time. It's the perfect chance to relax and enjoy leisurely out-of-door eating. Whether your picnic be in your own yard, porch, patio or in the park, here are some different ideas for you suggested by meat expert Reba Staggs.

Even without a fire you can serve tasty barbecued beef on buns. Have barbecued ground beef simmering on the range, then just before you leave, spoon it into scalded glass fruit jars. Tightly cover, then wrap in several thicknesses of newspaper. This will keep it hot for some time.

Follow this same idea for carrying barbecued spareribs. Have your meat retailer cut the rack into individual rib portions. Roast them in an open roasting pan at 350° F. for 45 minutes, then pour barbecue sauce over them. Cook, basting often, for 1 hour. Place in wide-mouthed jars and wrap closely with several thicknesses of newspaper.

Pork chops and gravy are an unexpected find for picnic time. Braise the chops at home, then make gravy with the drippings. At your picnic, reheat the chops in the gravy.

Ready-to-serve meats lend endless variety to picnic good eating. Bologna, liver sausage or salami cut into ¼-inch thick slices and grilled over charcoal or heated with a small amount of fat in a frying-pan are excellent served in toasted buns with a dash of chili sauce. Or cut canned luncheon loaf or chopped ham into ¼-inch slices. Grill them over glowing coals, basting occasionally with barbecue sauce.

Indonesia was a possession of the Netherlands for more than 300 years before it became independent in 1949.

Know how to sterilize jelly glasses when you are going to fill them with freshly-made preserves? Place the clean glasses in a large kettle and cover them with water. Bring the water to a boil; boil 15 minutes. Turn off the heat but keep the glasses in the hot water until you are ready to fill each one.

BIG WEEK-END COMING UP? BE SURE TO HAVE PLENTY OF Good eats!

Skillet Corn Pudding With Sausage Cakes

With this recipe you can enjoy hot corn pudding and not heat up your oven. Since sausage cakes are cooked in the skillet before the corn pudding, the tantalizing pork sausage flavor is in the corn pudding, too!

Skillet Corn Pudding With Sausage Cakes
Tossed Vegetable Salad
Garlic French Bread
Fruit Cup Cookies

Ingredients:

1 ¼ cups water; 1 teaspoon salt; ⅔ cups uncooked white rice; 1 pound pork sausage meat; (link sausage if desired); 4 eggs; 1½ cups milk; 1 teaspoon salt; ¼ teaspoon black pepper; 1 teaspoon beet or cane sugar; 1 whole canned pimiento, chopped 1½ cups canned whole kernel yellow corn, drained (or cooked fresh corn).

METHOD: Put the water, 1 teaspoon salt and rice in a 2-quart saucepan. Bring to a vigorous boil. Turn the heat as low as possible. Cover with a lid and leave over this low heat 14 minutes. Remove saucepan from the heat but leave lid on 10 minutes.

While the rice cooks, form the sausage into 6 cakes. Fry in a skillet until brown on both sides and done through. There should be no pink color remaining in the center of the cakes.

While the sausage cooks, break the eggs into a large mixing bowl. Beat well. Stir in the milk, 1 teaspoon salt, black pepper, Worcestershire sauce, sugar, pimiento and corn. Stir in the cooked rice.

Remove the cooked sausage from the skillet and keep hot. Pour all but about 1 tablespoon of the fat from the skillet. Pour the corn-rice mixture into the hot skillet. Cover and cook over low heat for about 20 minutes or until the egg sets. From time to time, gently stir so the uncooked egg will touch the bottom of the hot skillet. There will be a very small amount of moisture still in the skillet.

To serve, place the sausage on a platter and garnish with parsley, celery tops or tomato slices. Serve the corn pudding directly from the skillet or from a vegetable dish.

This recipe makes 6 servings.

Light Touch Is Feature Of Berry Pie

Strawberry Meringue Pie, light as a fleecy cloud, is splendid fare for climaxing a summer dinner or to serve to evening guests.

Use the light touch with the pastry, suggests home economist Reba Staggs. By mixing and rolling it lightly and using lard for the shortening, the pie crust will be perfectly tender and flaky.

Strawberry Meringue Pie

1 8-inch baked pie shell
4 cups strawberries
⅔ to 1 cup sugar
3 egg whites
¼ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla
6 tablespoons sugar

Wash and hull berries. Save 6 to 8 whole strawberries to bake on top of meringue. Slice remaining strawberries in thirds. Mix slightly with sugar to sweeten. Beat egg whites until foamy, add salt and flavoring. Continue beating until egg whites begin to stiffen. Add 6 tablespoons sugar, a tablespoon at a time, beating after each addition. Beat until stiff but not dry. Place sweetened strawberries in baked pie shell. Cover strawberries with meringue making sure that there is no space between edge of pastry and meringue. Place whole strawberries on meringue. Bake in a moderate oven (350° F.) for 12 to 15 minutes.

Single Pie Crust

1 cup sifted enriched flour
¾ teaspoon salt
4 to 5 tablespoons lard
2 to 4 tablespoons cold water

Add salt to flour. Cut lard into flour until crumbs are about the size of small peas. Add cold water, a little at a time, mixing quickly and evenly through flour with a fork until dough just holds in a ball. Use as little water as possible. Roll to about ⅛ inch in thickness. Line 8-inch pie pan and prick with a fork. Bake in a hot oven (400° F), for 12 minutes or until lightly browned.

Almond-Cheese-Olive Sandwich Filling

¼ cup slivered or chopped toasted almonds
2 tablespoons chopped ripe olives
½ cup grated process cheese
⅓ cup mayonnaise or salad dressing
Dash of pepper

Combine almonds, olives, cheese, mayonnaise and pepper.

Yield: ¾ cup or filling for 4 sandwiches.

Skillet Corn Pudding With Sausage Cakes

With this recipe you can enjoy hot corn pudding and not heat up your oven. Since sausage cakes are cooked in the skillet before the corn pudding, the tantalizing pork sausage flavor is in the corn pudding, too!

Skillet Corn Pudding With Sausage Cakes
Tossed Vegetable Salad
Garlic French Bread
Fruit Cup Cookies

Ingredients:

1 ⅓ cups water; 1 teaspoon salt; ⅔ cups uncooked white rice; 1 pound pork sausage meat; (link sausage if desired); 4 eggs; 1½ cups milk; 1 teaspoon salt; ¼ teaspoon black pepper; 1 teaspoon beet or cane sugar; 1 whole canned pimiento, chopped 1½ cups canned whole kernel yellow corn, drained (or cooked fresh corn).

METHOD: Put the water, 1 teaspoon salt and rice in a 2-quart saucepan. Bring to a vigorous boil. Turn the heat as low as possible. Cover with a lid and leave over this low heat 14 minutes. Remove saucepan from the heat but leave lid on 10 minutes.

While the rice cooks, form the sausage into 6 cakes. Fry in a skillet until brown on both sides and done through. There should be no pink color remaining in the center of the cakes.

While the sausage cooks, break the eggs into a large mixing bowl. Beat well. Stir in the milk, 1 teaspoon salt, black pepper, Worcestershire sauce, sugar, pimiento and corn. Stir in the cooked rice.

Remove the cooked sausage from the skillet and keep hot. Pour all but about 1 tablespoon of the fat from the skillet. Pour the corn-rice mixture into the hot skillet. Cover and cook over low heat for about 20 minutes or until the egg sets. From time to time, gently stir so the uncooked egg will touch the bottom of the hot skillet. There will be a very small amount of moisture still in the skillet.

To serve, place the sausage on a platter and garnish with parsley, celery tops or tomato slices. Serve the corn pudding directly from the skillet or from a vegetable dish.

This recipe makes 6 servings.

Light Touch Is Feature Of Berry Pie

Strawberry Meringue Pie, light as a fleecy cloud, is splendid fare for climaxing a summer dinner or to serve to evening guests.

Use the light touch with the pastry, suggests home economist Reba Staggs. By mixing and rolling it lightly and using lard for the shortening, the pie crust will be perfectly tender and flaky.

Strawberry Meringue Pie

1 8-inch baked pie shell
4 cups strawberries
⅔ to 1 cup sugar
3 egg whites
¼ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla
6 tablespoons sugar

Wash and hull berries. Save 6 to 8 whole strawberries to bake on top of meringue. Slice remaining strawberries in thirds. Mix slightly with sugar to sweeten. Beat egg whites until foamy, add salt and flavoring. Continue beating until egg whites begin to stiffen. Add 6 tablespoons sugar, a tablespoon at a time, beating after each addition. Beat until stiff but not dry. Place sweetened strawberries in baked pie shell. Cover strawberries with meringue making sure that there is no space between edge of pastry and meringue. Place whole strawberries on meringue. Bake in a moderate oven (350° F.) for 12 to 15 minutes.

Single Pie Crust

1 cup sifted enriched flour
¾ teaspoon salt
4 to 5 tablespoons lard
2 to 4 tablespoons cold water

Add salt to flour. Cut lard into flour until crumbs are about the size of small peas. Add cold water, a little at a time, mixing quickly and evenly through flour with a fork until dough just holds in a ball. Use as little water as possible. Roll to about ⅛ inch in thickness. Line 8-inch pie pan and prick with a fork. Bake in a hot oven (400° F.) for 12 minutes or until lightly browned.

Almond-Cheese-Olive Sandwich Filling

¼ cup slivered or chopped toasted almonds
2 tablespoons chopped ripe olives
½ cup grated process cheese
⅓ cup mayonnaise or salad dressing
Dash of pepper

Combine almonds, olives, cheese, mayonnaise and pepper.

Yield: ¾ cup or filling for 4 sandwiches.

Browns Test College Grid Stars Before 75,000 At Chicago

Pro Team Will Use Ratterman At Quarterback

Contest Is 22nd, Collegians Have Lost Four In Row

CHICAGO, Aug. 11 (AP) — The Cleveland Browns, testing their muscles without Otto Graham, and the College All-Stars, trying a new coaching system, collide in the 22nd All-Star football game before 75,000 at Soldier Field tomorrow night.

The midsummer grid spectacle will be televised nationally beginning at 8:30 p.m., EST, via ABC. It will be broadcast on Mutual.

The National Football League champion Browns will be unveiling George Ratterman as the retired Graham's successor at quarterback.

Although Graham and the success of Coach Paul Brown were as one throughout a tremendous reign of the Browns, Otto's departure hasn't affected the pro championship team's favoritism—by two touchdowns—over the collegians.

Pros To Direct Stars

As for the All-Star coaching experiment, the collegians will be directed against the Browns by an all-pro staff. The late Arch Ward, founder of the game, reasoned after the All-Stars' 31-6 thumping last year by the Detroit Lions that it takes a pro coach to beat a pro coach, given fairly equal talent.

Curly Lambeau, who cut his baby football teeth with the Green Bay Packers, was given the head coaching assignment. Lambeau surrounded himself with such other "old pros" as Hunk Anderson, Steve Owen and Hamp Pool, who made excellent marks in the N.F.L.

What happens to the pro coaching setup if the All-Stars take another drubbing—which would mark an unprecedented fifth straight loss to the pros—is anybody's guess.

Trained Three Weeks

But the feeling is that Lambeau & Co. have whipped together a pretty sharp outfit, patterned after pro blueprints, in the three weeks allotted them.

They have a defensive line as huge and, they hope, as mobile and aggressive, as Cleveland's. They have an array of fine passers, including Ralph Guglielmi of Notre Dame, Paul Larson of California, George Shaw of Oregon and Dave Leggett of Ohio State.

They have backs, who can scoot—like Joe Heap of Notre Dame, Dick Moegle of Rice, Ron Drzewiecki of Marquette, L. G. Dupre of Baylor and Dave Middleton of Auburn.

And they have backs who can plough—like Alan (The Horse) Ameche of Wisconsin, Bobby Watkins of Ohio State, Dick Bielski of Maryland and a Toledo University lad, who may be a "sleeper," 216-pound Mel Triplett.

With such able pass receivers as Max Boydston of Oklahoma and Henry Hair of Georgia Tech, both ends, and halfbacks Heap, Moegle and Middleton, the collegians probably will try to match the Browns, toss-for-toss.

No small part of the All-Star defense will be a highly-regarded secondary in which Navy's John Weaver, Maryland's Ronny Waller, Southern California's Lindon Crow and Leggett figure prominently.

Voters May Decide Fate Of 2nd Track At Charles Town

SHEPHERDSTOWN, W. Va., Aug. 11 (AP)—The question of whether or not a second horse track will be built in Jefferson County may be put to the voters.

The South Jefferson County Ministers' Assn. said it would present a petition to congregations of several churches starting Sunday calling for a county-wide election on the proposal to build another track in Jefferson County.

A temporary construction permit has been granted to a group of Philadelphia and Miami promoters to establish night harness racing with pari-mutuel betting at Charles Town, Jefferson County seat.

"Local option" is provided in state law for the establishment of any new tracks.

If 1,500 persons in Jefferson County sign the petition, a special election will be called, and a negative vote in the election would bar the new track.

Pirate Official Drowns In Pool

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Aug. 11 (AP)—An autopsy disclosed today that Harold G. Roettger, Pittsburgh Pirates baseball official found floating in a motel pool yesterday, drowned.

Dr. E. R. Foontz, Pinellas County medical examiner, said a quantity of rough food was found in the stomach and Roettger apparently suffered an attack of cramps.

Roettger, 41, was assistant to John W. Galbreath, president of the Pirates.

To Be Televised

LITTLE GUY GETTING BY BIG

IN SPRING TRAINING Manager Charlie Dressen of the Washington Nats was most impressed by a 5'5" outfielder, with two years of minor league experience, as a possible future star. The little guy was Ernie Oravetz, who was coming out of the Army and who had a fine record at Orlando and Chattanooga prior to going into the service. Dressen's opinion proved a good one for Oravetz, the shortest man in baseball, has come through and currently is batting along at a .300 clip. (International)

SPORT SLANTS

Copped All Openers • • • "Tack" Clark Is Dean

Davis Does Fadeout • • • Raines' Record 42-5

By C. V. BURNS

FORT HILL High School puts an 18-game winning streak on the line when it launches its 1955 football campaign here just four weeks from tomorrow night (Sept. 9) with Morgantown High School, which appears on the local school's schedule for the first time.

The Greenway Avenue bowl was opened in 1937 and since that year Fort Hill has won 18 consecutive home openers.

Front Royal (Va.) was the victim last year, 41-6.

FRED "TACK" CLARK is now the dean of football mentors in the immediate tri-state area. This is his 17th year of coaching. He served as mentor at Moorefield for four years before coming to Keyser High where he has held the reins for 12 years.

"Tack" informs us that two members of his 1954 P.V.C. championship eleven — Tackle Roland Raines and Guard Dave Blackburn—definitely will matriculate at the University of Maryland this fall.

Quarterback Dickie Lewis and Halfback Teddy Kershner, of Martinsburg also are slated to enter Maryland.

Terry Fairbanks, Parsons all-around athlete, plans to enroll at West Virginia University.

Ronnie Smallwood, Martinsburg High's three sports star, will go to the University of Virginia.

THE PASSING of Davis (W. Va.) from the senior high school ranks is a reminder that many topnotch basketball teams represented the Tucker county school in past years.

Perhaps the best known Davis mentor was Richard A. "Dyke" Raese, who later became the head cage mentor at West Virginia University. Raese, who later became the head cage mentor at West Virginia University. Raese coached the Mountaineers from 1939 through 1942. His last team won the National Invitation Tournament at Madison Square Garden by whipping Western Kentucky in the finals.

Coach "Bobby" Cavanaugh and several of his Fort Hill teams will long remember some of their February trips to Davis for it was on those jaunts they ran into several blizzards and were snowbound in the West Virginia hills.

J. FRED COLWILL, racing secretary for the Cumberland Fair Association, is back east after a vacation in Oregon and will serve as an official at Hagerstown's 10-day meeting which gets under way next Wednesday.

We haven't seen anything about the horse "On To Oregon" which raced at Fairgo in June. Maybe that's how Freddie got there.

SINCE Bobby Raines was graduated from Bruce High School in 1952, he has turned in an .894 record as a sandlot pitcher by winning 42 games and losing five.

With Westvaco his records were 8-2 and 14-2 in 1952 and 1953. He scored 13 wins and lost one with Moorefield last year and the latest dope we have on him he has won seven consecutive games for Swanton in the Mountain Top League this season.

REMEMBER Mike Hoban, the scrappy outfielder, who played for the Frostburg Demons in bygone days?

Mike, now a resident of Smock, Pa., made his appearance as a pinch-hitter with the Oldtimers in a game at Uniontown, Pa., the other day but failed to come through. His team lost 5-3.

DONALD BLOUGH, outstanding all-around athlete of Berlin, Pa., High School and winner of a record nine athletic letters, has been signed by the Chicago Cubs.

Blough was a standout hitter, infielder and pitcher in the Somerset County League. He's 18, tips the beam at 160 and is 5 feet, 10½ inches tall. He won four basketball letters, three in football and two in baseball.

Don starred in two games last December in which Berlin defeated Carver High of Cumberland by scores of 44-29 and 54-52. He was also in the contest which Allegany High won at Berlin by the score of 44-22.

THE TWO LOSSES Fort Cumberland Post suffered last week in the state Legion tournament (16-4 and 18-2) were the worst absorbed by a county team since 1949 when the local post dropped 13-3 and 15-1 decisions to Hagerstown and Clifton Post of Baltimore.

CENTERVILLE'S REDS, champions of the 1954 All-States League, are now leading the Intra-County League in nearby Pennsylvania with a 15-3 record. Other teams in the loop are Hopwell, Bedford, Everett, Fishertown and New Paris.

JOHNSTOWN CATHOLIC High School has a new football and basketball coach in the person of Don Johnson, who has served as assistant coach of the Crimson Crushers for the past four years.

He succeeds Joe Majer, who resigned to take over as head cage mentor and grid assistant at Conemaugh Township High School.

WE GET IT via the grapevine that Tommy Smith, Carver High's basketball ace and second high scorer in the area last season, is slated to enter Allegany High School next month.

EDDIE CHRISTISON, apprentice rider from Toronto, Canada, who made his debut at Fairgo in June and piloted 19 of 47 mounts into the money, has booted home 32 winners at the current Charles Town meeting. Eddie started riding last August.

MRS. ELIZABETH DAVIES, mother of "Chick" Davies, former Duquesne University cage mentor and commissioner of the old All-American Basketball League in which Cumberland was represented, died several days ago in Pittsburgh.

Davies is in Colombia, South America, where he is preparing a team for the 1956 Olympics.

MRS. CLAUDE RICHARDS, the Westminster (Md.) chicken farmerette, who participated in the recent Women's Invitation Tourney at the Cumberland Country Club, defeated Mrs. Maurice Glick, of Baltimore, runner-up to Mary Ann Downey here, 1 up on the 18th hole in the finals of the Titleholders championship tourney at Baltimore. It was the second major title won this year by Mrs. Richards.

McCoole Vets Down Ft. Ashby, Grab Lead

McCoole's Vets took a half game lead in the Mineral County Softball League by downing Fort Ashby yesterday at Keyser by the score of 7-4.

Fort Ashby got off to a 3-0 lead in the first inning when Kenny Hartman belted a three-run homer but "Shorty" Smith's grand slam homer in the 4th sent the V.F.W. ahead and they were never headed thereafter. Smith also had a single and Grubbs rapped a pair of singles for the winners.

Rich Smith limited Fort Ashby to three hits. Score:

FORT ASHBY	300 000 1—4	3	1
McCOOLE	000 430 x—7	8	0

Cooper and Sisk, Morgan, Richard Smith and Emery. HR—"Shorty" Smith (McCoole); Kenny Hartman (Fort Ashby).

Jack L. Gable Is Named Assistant Coach At Allegany

Jack L. Gable, 23, former Parsons High School athlete, is the new assistant football coach at Allegany High School.

Gable's appointment as successor to James A. Hosack, who resigned to join the faculty of Frostburg State Teachers College, was announced yesterday by Richard T. Rizer, assistant superintendent of Allegany County schools.

A graduate of Parsons High in 1949, Gable comes here from Ashtabula, Ohio, where he has been coach of the Edgewood High School junior high school football team.

Gable played football and basketball at Parsons High for two years when Homer Brooks was mentor there. He is a graduate of Concord (W.Va.) College.

Alexander Graham Bell, inventor of the telephone, persuaded Clarke School for the Deaf at Northampton, Massachusetts, to start the first training course for oral teachers of the deaf in the United States in 1889. Since then, more than 500 have gone from there to every State and 20 foreign countries to teach deaf children to talk.

National dues for the Women's International Bowling Congress have been raised from 25 cents to 50 cents per member effective Aug. 1. In summer leagues, however, the raise is effective immediately.

Cousins, Burns Homers Put B'nai B'rith In Playoffs

Circuit Belts In 8th Beat Times-News, 8-7

George Cousins and Larry Burns hammered back-to-back home runs in the last of the 8th inning to give Manager Norman Sell's B'nai B'rith tossers an 8-7 decision over the Times-News last night at Penn Avenue Field in a Hot Stove Baseball League playoff thriller.

With B'nai B'rith leading 6-3 going into the 7th inning, Times-News staged a remarkable comeback by scoring four runs to take the lead at 7-6. With one out in the last of the 7th Cousins and Burns smashed successive homers for the tying and winning runs.

Bob Eversole went the distance for the winners and struck out eight. Weltman was the loser.

Cousins had a triple and single in addition to his homer, Ben Broome hit for the circuit, Gary Shook rapped three singles and Eversole connected for a triple and single. For the Times-News, Bill Scott had three hits and Crass collected a double and single.

Braves Suffer Double Defeat

Cardinals Conquer Milwaukee, 7-1, 4-0

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 11 (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals handcuffed the Milwaukee Braves in a doubleheader today, winning the opener 7-1 and the nightcap, 4-0.

Willard Schmidt, 26-year-old righthander, allowed the Braves but one hit in the second game. Harvey Haddix won the first game.

Schmidt held the Braves hitless through first six innings, then to the groans of a ladies' day crowd of 34,015, shortstop Johnny Logan, first man up in the seventh, rifled a clean single to centerfield. A moment later, Schmidt got Eddie Mathews to hit into a double play.

A two-run homer in the first inning by Stan Musial was the only backing Schmidt needed, as it turned out. Red Schoendienst drove in the third with a double and Solly Hemus accounted for the fourth with a solo circuit in the seventh.

Haddix went the distance in the opener to record his ninth victory. Five Milwaukee errors eased his job considerably.

Browns Test College Grid Stars Before 75,000 At Chicago

Pro Team Will Use Ratterman At Quarterback

Contest Is 22nd, Collegians Have Lost Four In Row

CHICAGO, Aug. 11 (AP) — The Cleveland Browns, testing their muscles without Otto Graham, and the College All-Stars, trying a new coaching system, collide in the 22nd All-Star football game before 75,000 at Soldier Field tomorrow night.

The midsummer grid spectacle will be televised nationally beginning at 8:30 p.m., EST, via ABC. It will be broadcast on Mutual.

The National Football League champion Browns will be unveiling George Ratterman as the retired Graham's successor at quarterback.

Although Graham and the success of Coach Paul Brown were as one throughout a tremendous reign of the Browns, Otto's departure hasn't affected the pro championship team's favoritism—by two touchdowns—over the collegians.

Pros To Direct Stars

As for the All-Star coaching experiment, the collegians will be directed against the Browns by an all-pro staff. The late Arch Ward, founder of the game, reasoned after the All-Stars' 31-6 thumping last year by the Detroit Lions that it takes a pro coach to beat a pro coach, given fairly equal talent.

Curly Lambeau, who cut his baby football teeth with the Green Bay Packers, was given the head coaching assignment. Lambeau surrounded himself with such other "old pros" as Hunk Anderson, Steve Owen and Hamp Pool, who made excellent marks in the N.F.L.

What happens to the pro coaching setup if the All-Stars take another drubbing—which would mark an unprecedented fifth straight loss to the pros—is anybody's guess.

Trained Three Weeks

But the feeling is that Lambeau & Co. have whipped together a pretty sharp outfit, patterned after pro blueprints, in the three weeks allotted them.

They have a defensive line as huge and, they hope, as mobile and aggressive, as Cleveland's. They have an array of fine passers, including Ralph Guglielmi of Notre Dame, Paul Larson of California, George Shaw of Oregon and Dave Leggett of Ohio State.

They have backs, who can scoot—like Joe Heap of Notre Dame, Dick Moegle of Rice, Ron Drzewiecki of Marquette, L. G. Dupre of Baylor and Dave Middleton of Auburn.

And they have backs who can plough—like Alan (The Horse) Ameche of Wisconsin, Bobby Watkins of Ohio State, Dick Bielski of Maryland and a Toledo University lad, who may be a "sleeper," 216-pound Mel Triplett.

With such able pass receivers as Max Boydston of Oklahoma and Henry Hair of Georgia Tech, both ends, and halfbacks Heap, Moegle and Middleton, the collegians probably will try to match the Browns, toss-for-toss.

No small part of the All-Star defense will be a highly-regarded secondary in which Navy's John Weaver, Maryland's Ronny Waller, Southern California's Lindon Crow and Leggett figure prominently.

Voters May Decide Fate Of 2nd Track At Charles Town

SHEPHERDSTOWN, W. Va., Aug. 11 (AP)—The question of whether or not a second horse track will be built in Jefferson County may be put to the voters.

The South Jefferson County Ministers' Assn. said it would present a petition to congregations of several churches starting Sunday calling for a county-wide election on the proposal to build another track in Jefferson County.

A temporary construction permit has been granted to a group of Philadelphia and Miami promoters to establish night harness racing with pari-mutuel betting at Charles Town, Jefferson County seat.

"Local option" is provided in state law for the establishment of any new tracks.

If 1,500 persons in Jefferson County sign the petition, a special election will be called, and a negative vote in the election would bar the new track.

Pirate Official Drowns In Pool

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Aug. 11 (AP)—An autopsy disclosed today that Harold G. Roettger, Pittsburgh Pirates baseball official found floating in a motel pool yesterday, drowned.

Dr. E. R. Foontz, Pinellas County medical examiner, said a quantity of rough food was found in the stomach and Roettger apparently suffered an attack of cramps.

Roettger, 41, was assistant to John W. Galbreath, president of the Pirates.

To Be Televised

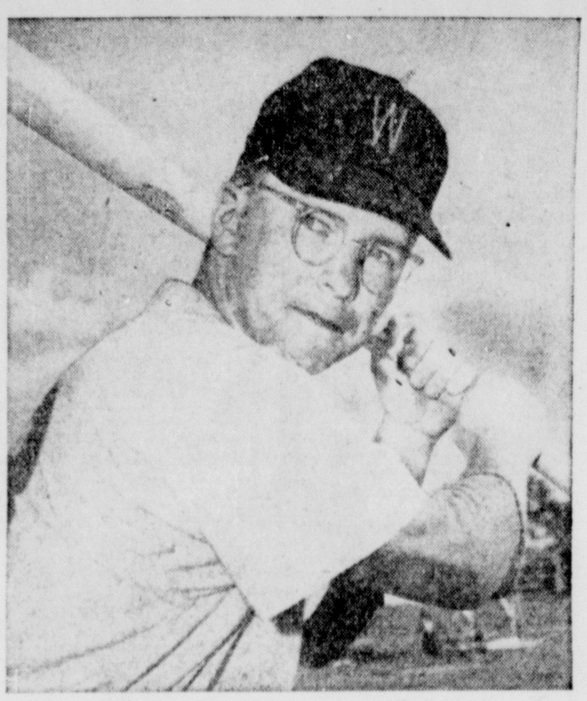
LITTLE GUY GETTING BY BIG



IN SPRING TRAINING Manager Charlie Dressen of the Washington Nats was most impressed by a 5'5" outfielder, with two years of minor league experience, as a possible future star. The little guy was Ernie Oravetz, who was coming out of the Army and who had a fine record at Orlando and Chattanooga prior to going into the service. Dressen's opinion proved a good one for Oravetz, the shortest man in baseball, has come through and currently is batting along at a .300 clip. (International)

Copped All Openers • • • "Tack" Clark Is Dean

Davis Does Fadeout • • • Raines' Record 42-5

By C. V. BURNS

FORT HILL High School puts an 18-game winning streak on the line when it launches its 1955 football campaign here just four weeks from tomorrow night (Sept. 9) with Morgantown High School, which appears on the local school's schedule for the first time.

The Greenway Avenue bowl was opened in 1937 and since that year Fort Hill has won 18 consecutive home openers.

Front Royal (Va.) was the victim last year, 41-6.

FRED "TACK" CLARK is now the dean of football mentors in the immediate tri-state area. This is his 17th year of coaching. He served as mentor at Moorefield for four years before coming to Keyser High where he has held the reins for 12 years.

"Tack" informs us that two members of his 1954 P.V.C. championship eleven — Tackle Roland Raines and Guard Dave Blackburn—definitely will matriculate at the University of Maryland this fall.

Quarterback Dickie Lewis and Halfback Teddy Kershner, of Martinsburg also are slated to enter Maryland.

Terry Fairbanks, Parsons all-around athlete, plans to enroll at West Virginia University.

Ronnie Smallwood, Martinsburg High's three sports star, will go to the University of Virginia.

THE PASSING of Davis (W. Va.) from the senior high school ranks is a reminder that many topnotch basketball teams represented the Tucker county school in past years.

Perhaps the best known Davis mentor was Richard A. "Dyke" Raese, who later became the head cage mentor at West Virginia University. Raese, who later became the head cage mentor at West Virginia University. Raese coached the Mountaineers from 1939 through 1942. His last team won the National Invitation Tournament at Madison Square Garden by whipping Western Kentucky in the finals.

Coach "Bobby" Cavanaugh and several of his Fort Hill teams will long remember some of their February trips to Davis for it was on those jaunts they ran into several blizzards and were snowbound in the West Virginia hills.

J. FRED COLWILL, racing secretary for the Cumberland Fair Association, is back east after a vacation in Oregon and will serve as an official at Hagerstown's 10-day meeting which gets under way next Wednesday.

We haven't seen anything about the horse "On To Oregon" which raced at Fairgo in June. Maybe that's how Freddie got there.

SINCE Bobby Raines was graduated from Bruce High School in 1952, he has turned in an .894 record as a sandlot pitcher by winning 42 games and losing five.

With Westvaco his records were 8-2 and 14-2 in 1952 and 1953. He scored 13 wins and lost one with Moorefield last year and the latest dope we have on him he has won seven consecutive games for Swanton in the Mountain Top League this season.

REMEMBER Mike Hoban, the scrappy outfielder, who played for the Frostburg Demons in bygone days?

Mike, now a resident of Smock, Pa., made his appearance as a pinch-hitter with the Oldtimers in a game at Uniontown, Pa., the other day but failed to come through. His team lost 5-3.

DONALD BLOUGH, outstanding all-around athlete of Berlin, Pa., High School and winner of a record nine athletic letters, has been signed by the Chicago Cubs.

Blough was a standout hitter, infielder and pitcher in the Somerset County League. He's 18, tips the beam at 160 and is 5 feet, 10½ inches tall. He won four basketball letters, three in football and two in baseball.

Don starred in two games last December in which Berlin defeated Carver High of Cumberland by scores of 44-29 and 54-52. He was also in the contest which Allegany High won at Berlin by the score of 44-22.

THE TWO LOSSES Fort Cumberland Post suffered last week in the state Legion tournament (16-4 and 18-2) were the worst absorbed by a county team since 1949 when the local post dropped 13-3 and 15-1 decisions to Hagerstown and Clifton Post of Baltimore.

CENTERVILLE'S REDS, champions of the 1954 All-States League, are now leading the Intra-County League in nearby Pennsylvania with a 15-3 record. Other teams in the loop are Hopwell, Bedford, Everett, Fishertown and New Paris.

JOHNSTOWN CATHOLIC High School has a new football and basketball coach in the person of Don Johnson, who has served as assistant coach of the Crimson Crushers for the past four years.

He succeeds Joe Majer, who resigned to take over as head cage mentor and grid assistant at Conemaugh Township High School.

WE GET IT via the grapevine that Tommy Smith, Carver High's basketball ace and second high scorer in the area last season, is slated to enter Allegany High School next month.

EDDIE CHRISTISON, apprentice rider from Toronto, Canada, who made his debut at Fairgo in June and piloted 19 of 47 mounts into the money, has booted home 32 winners at the current Charles Town meeting. Eddie started riding last August.

MRS. ELIZABETH DAVIES, mother of "Chick" Davies, former Duquesne University cage mentor and commissioner of the old All-American Basketball League in which Cumberland was represented, died several days ago in Pittsburgh.

Davies is in Colombia, South America, where he is preparing a team for the 1956 Olympics.

MRS. CLAUDE RICHARDS, the Westminster (Md.) chicken farmerette, who participated in the recent Women's Invitation Tourney at the Cumberland Country Club, defeated Mrs. Maurice Glick, of Baltimore, runner-up to Mary Ann Downey here, 1 up on the 18th hole in the finals of the Titleholders championship tourney at Baltimore. It was the second major title won this year by Mrs. Richards.

McCoole Vets Down Ft. Ashby, Grab Lead

McCoole's Vets took a half game lead in the Mineral County Softball League by downing Fort Ashby yesterday at Keyser by the score of 7-4.

Braves Suffer Double Defeat

Cardinals Conquer Milwaukee, 7-1, 4-0

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 11 (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals handcuffed the Milwaukee Braves in a doubleheader today, winning the opener 7-1 and the nightcap, 4-0.

Willard Schmidt, 26-year-old righthander, allowed the Braves but one hit in the second game. Harvey Haddix won the first game.

Schmidt held the Braves hitless through first six innings, then to the groans of a ladies' day crowd of 34,015, shortstop Johnny Logan, first man up in the seventh, rifled a clean single to centerfield. A moment later, Schmidt got Eddie Mathews to hit into a double play.

A two-run homer in the first inning by Stan Musial was the only backing Schmidt needed, as it turned out. Red Schoendienst drove in the third with a double and Solly Hemus accounted for the fourth with a solo circuit in the seventh.

Haddix went the distance in the opener to record his ninth victory. Five Milwaukee errors eased his job considerably.

Tribe Retains Lead On Evers' Circuit Clout

Hoot Beats Former Mates, 3-1, Connects With Pair Aboard

CLEVELAND, Aug. 11 (AP)—The first place Cleveland Indians stayed at the top of the American League race today. Hoot Evers kept them there with a 3-run homer which beat his former teammates, the Detroit Tigers, 3-1.

He had some help from another ex-Tiger, Vic Wertz. Trailing in the sixth inning, the Indians got a sweep of the 3-game series on a walk to Al Rosen, a double by Wertz and Evers' homer off southpaw Billy Hoeft.

Early Wynn took his 14th victory against 7 losses, and registered his 198th win in the major leagues. The only active pitcher with more victories is Bob Feller with 265.

Evers was a replacement for center fielder Larry Doby, who was hit on the right elbow by a pitched ball last night.

The Tigers scored their only run off Wynn with three straight singles in the third. Harvey Kuenn and Bill Tuttle hit singles to left and then Al Kaline bounced a single off Rosen's glove, Kuenn scoring.

Hoeft nursed the 1-0 lead through the fifth, holding the Indians to three hits in that distance.

With one out in the sixth Rosen walked and then Vic Wertz hit a line drive double over Tuttle's head in center field. Tuttle misjudged the ball. Evers, up next, smashed a 1-1 pitch for his eighth homer of the year.

Byrne Rescues Turley In 9th, Yanks Win 5-3

Baumann Is Kayoed In Second; Williams Collects 2,000th Hit

NEW YORK, Aug. 11 (AP) — The New York Yankees stayed within a half game of the American League lead today by knocking out rookie Frank Baumann, making his first big league start, on the way to a 5-3 victory over the Boston Red Sox.

Although Ted Williams collected his 2,000th hit with a first-inning single and also added a double in the fifth, the Sox dropped three full games off the pace by losing the odd game of the three-game series.

Bob Turley pitched himself in and out of trouble all afternoon until he finally was replaced by lefty Tommy Byrne after Billy Klaus doubled to open the ninth.

Byrne retired Williams on an infield out, Jackie Jensen on a sacrifice fly that scored Klaus and ended the game by breezing a third strike past Norm Zauchin.

It was the first series the slumping Yankees had won since they took two out of three from lowly Washington, July 1-3. The victory gave New York an 8-5 edge over the Red Sox.

The Yanks ruined Manager Pinky Higgins' gamble with the 22-year-old lefty by chasing him in the second inning when they took a 4-0 lead. Hank Bauer's single and walks to Phil Rizzuto and Mickey Mantle filled them up in the first. Bill Skowron's sacrifice fly knocked in Bauer and Rizzuto raced home on a wild pitch.

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

CHICAGO, Aug. 11 (AP)—Bob Rosburg and his homemade swing, Mike Krak, a wiry newcomber to the tournament circuit, and seasoned Gene Littler made a shambles of Tam O'Shanter's par with 66's today to share the first round lead in the "World" Golf Tournament.

The 28-year-old Rosburg — a pudgy, bespectacled pro from Palo Alto, Calif., who uses a baseball grip and has a rusty-gate swing—missed a side hill 8-foot putt on the final green to fail in his chance for outright possession of the lead at Tam O'Shanter Country Club.

He fired a near perfect round with a pair of 33's, dropping seven birdie putts ranging from 2½ to 15 feet.

Sinks 20-Foot Putt

To keep his chances alive, Rosburg had to sink a 20-foot putt after being trapped to salvage a par 3 on the mean 215-yard 16th.

The smooth-swinging Krak, son of a Weirton, W. Va., steelworker, ripped par 36-36 on the jammed 6,900-yard course with 32-34 while Littler, the fourth leading PGA money winner from Palm Springs, Calif., coupled 33's.

Littler decorated his card with an eagle 3 on the 495-yard second hole by holing out a 90-foot chip shot from a road behind the green. His only over-par was a 4 on the 215-yard 16th, where he three putted from the edge. Littler birdied the last two holes with 2 and 4-foot putts.

Krak carded his only over-par also on the 16th when his tee shot was trapped. But he compensated with a birdie 3 on the next by sticking an eight-iron five inches from the pin. An eight-foot putt failed to drop on the 18th and he settled for par 4.

Finished 10th At K. C.

Krak's best finish in a year of tournament campaigning was 10th in the Kansas City Open. He aced the 230-yard 18th there for the only hole-in-one of his career.

While Krak and Littler breezed in with their sub-par rounds which were only three strokes off the competitive course record, other pros also were on the money scent leading to a winning payoff potential of $156,000 at the 72-hole conclusion Sunday.

Fred Hawkins, of St. Andrews, Ill., rounded out 33-34—67 with the help of a 30-foot eagle 3 putt on the second hole.

Paul O'Leary of Bismarck, N.D., sizzled with a 33 then matched par 36 coming back for 69.

Ford Skids To 73

Doug Ford, the National PGA and All-American winner, skidded to a 73 after three-putting three greens. Cary Middlecoff, leading PGA money winner, went for a 74 and complained of a painful kink in his back. Veteran Jimmy Demaret rolled in with a steady 71. National Open champion Jack Fleck of Davenport, Iowa, had a steady 35-34—69.

Chandler Harper of Portsmouth, Va., shot a 36-37—73.

BONIFACIO, Corsica, Aug. 11 (AP)—Dr. Harry Briggs, 34, a former marine now an athletic instructor teaching in France, swam the 12-mile shark-strewn straits of Bonifacio, separating Corsica and Sardinia, yesterday. He claimed to be the first man to do so.

Briggs, of Boston, is now teaching with the University of Maryland overseas program at Chateauroux, France. His time was 10 hours, 29 minutes.

Banks Socks 39th Homer, Cubs Lose To Redlegs, 6-5

Ernie Catches Snider, Ties Stephens' Mark

CHICAGO, Aug. 11 (AP)—Chicago shortstop Ernie Banks lifted his 39th home run into the bleachers today to take the major league homer lead, but the effort was wasted as the Cubs lost to the Cincinnati Redlegs, 6-5, in 11 innings.

Banks' blast edged him ahead of Brooklyn's Duke Snider, who has 38. Brooklyn was idle today.

Banks' blow in the sixth inning off Joe Black also tied the modern major league circuit blow record for shortstops. Vern Stephens, now in the Pacific Coast League with Seattle, hit 39 home runs in 1949 as a shortstop with the Red Sox.

The Redlegs won the third straight over the Cubs with an unearned run in the 11th.

This marker was scored by singling Johnny Temple after Jim King dropped Wally Post's fly, which would have proved the third out.

Temple singled and stole second with one out. Ted Kluszewski was purposely passed with two out, and then Post followed with his liner that King muffed.

This run gave Johnny Klippstein, who lost the series opener, his fourth win of the year. Hal Jeffcoat of the Cubs suffered his sixth setback.

Cincinnati fashioned a 5-0 lead with four runs in the fourth to chase starter Harry Perkowski, and added another in the fifth off Dave Hillman.

Chisox Rout Kansas City

Rivera Tops Attack In 14 To 1 Triumph

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 11 (AP)—The second-place Chicago White Sox, paced by Jim Rivera who drove in five runs with two triples and a double broke out of a batting slump with 16 hits today and a 14-1 victory over Kansas City.

The White Sox, who were knocked out of first place in the tight American League race by the Athletics last night, remain two percentage points behind the Cleveland Indians who defeated Detroit today.

Chicago got all of their runs in clusters—five in the fifth, four in the sixth, three in the eighth and two in the ninth as righthander Connie Johnson held the A's to six hits for his fifth win against one loss.

Rivera belted his first triple in the big fifth with two on, got a two-run double in the sixth and drove in another run with his second triple in the eighth. He also stole two bases, including third, scored four runs himself and walked twice.

Walt Dropo, big White Sox first baseman, chipped in with his 15th home run of the season, a two-run blast in the eighth, and a run-scoring double. Minnie Minoso had a triple, double and two singles.

Vic Raschi was tagged with today's loss, his fourth against the same number of victories.

Cleveland Sweeps Detroit Series; New York Cools Red Sox

Tribe Retains Lead On Evers' Circuit Clout

Hoot Beats Former Mates, 3-1, Connects With Pair Aboard

CLEVELAND, Aug. 11 (AP)—The first place Cleveland Indians stayed at the top of the American League race today. Hoot Evers kept them there with a 3-run homer which beat his former teammates, the Detroit Tigers, 3-1.

He had some help from another ex-Tiger, Vic Wertz. Trailing in the sixth inning, the Indians got a sweep of the 3-game series on a walk to Al Rosen, a double by Wertz and Evers' homer off southpaw Billy Hoeft.

Early Wynn took his 14th victory against 7 losses, and registered his 198th win in the major leagues. The only active pitcher with more victories is Bob Feller with 265.

Evers was a replacement for center fielder Larry Doby, who was hit on the right elbow by a pitched ball last night.

The Tigers scored their only run off Wynn with three straight singles in the third. Harvey Kuenn and Bill Tuttle hit singles to left and then Al Kaline bounced a single off Rosen's glove, Kuenn scoring.

Hoeft nursed the 1-0 lead through the fifth, holding the Indians to three hits in that distance.

With one out in the sixth Rosen walked and then Vic Wertz hit a line drive double over Tuttle's head in center field. Tuttle misjudged the ball. Evers, up next, smashed a 1-1 pitch for his eighth homer of the year.

Byrne Rescues Turley In 9th, Yanks Win 5-3

Baumann Is Kayoed In Second; Williams Collects 2,000th Hit

NEW YORK, Aug. 11 (AP) — The New York Yankees stayed within a half game of the American League lead today by knocking out rookie Frank Baumann, making his first big league start, on the way to a 5-3 victory over the Boston Red Sox.

Although Ted Williams collected his 2,000th hit with a first-inning single and also added a double in the fifth, the Sox dropped three full games off the pace by losing the odd game of the three-game series.

Bob Turley pitched himself in and out of trouble all afternoon until he finally was replaced by lefty Tommy Byrne after Billy Klaus doubled to open the ninth.

Byrne retired Williams on an infield out, Jackie Jensen on a sacrifice fly that scored Klaus and ended the game by breezing a third strike past Norm Zauchin.

It was the first series the slumping Yankees had won since they took two out of three from lowly Washington, July 1-3. The victory gave New York an 8-5 edge over the Red Sox.

The Yanks ruined Manager Pinky Higgins' gamble with the 22-year-old lefty by chasing him in the second inning when they took a 4-0 lead. Hank Bauer's single and walks to Phil Rizzuto and Mickey Mantle filled them up in the first. Bill Skowron's sacrifice fly knocked in Bauer and Rizzuto raced home on a wild pitch.

Rivera Tops Attack In 14 To 1 Triumph

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 11 (AP)—The second-place Chicago White Sox, paced by Jim Rivera who drove in five runs with two triples and a double broke out of a batting slump with 16 hits today and a 14-1 victory over Kansas City.

The White Sox, who were knocked out of first place in the tight American League race by the Athletics last night, remain two percentage points behind the Cleveland Indians who defeated Detroit today.

Chicago got all of their runs in clusters—five in the fifth, four in the sixth, three in the eighth and two in the ninth as righthander Connie Johnson held the A's to six hits for his fifth win against one loss.

Rivera belted his first triple in the big fifth with two on, got a two-run double in the sixth and drove in another run with his second triple in the eighth. He also stole two bases, including third, scored four runs himself and walked twice.

Walt Dropo, big White Sox first baseman, chipped in with his 15th home run of the season, a two-run blast in the eighth, and a run-scoring double. Minnie Minoso had a triple, double and two singles.

Vic Raschi was tagged with today's loss, his fourth against the same number of victories.

Towne Scores KO

LIVERPOOL, England, Aug. 11 (AP)—Artie Towne, veteran New York middleweight, tonight knocked out Johnny Sullivan of England, in 43 seconds of the first round of a feature 10-round bout.

All bricks used in Virginia during the 17th and 18th centuries seem to have been made there and not imported from England, according to modern historians.

Rosburg, Krak And Littler Lead "World" Golf With 66's

Hawkins Posts 67; Doug Ford Skids To 73 In First Round

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

CHICAGO, Aug. 11 (AP)—Bob Rosburg and his homemade swing, Mike Krak, a wiry newcomber to the tournament circuit, and seasoned Gene Littler made a shambles of Tam O'Shanter's par with 66's today to share the first round lead in the "World" Golf Tournament.

The 28-year-old Rosburg — a pudgy, bespectacled pro from Palo Alto, Calif., who uses a baseball grip and has a rusty-gate swing—missed a side hill 8-foot putt on the final green to fail in his chance for outright possession of the lead at Tam O'Shanter Country Club.

He fired a near perfect round with a pair of 33's, dropping seven birdie putts ranging from 2½ to 15 feet.

Sinks 20-Foot Putt

To keep his chances alive, Rosburg had to sink a 20-foot putt after being trapped to salvage a par 3 on the mean 215-yard 16th.

The smooth-swinging Krak, son of a Weirton, W. Va., steelworker, ripped par 36-36 on the jammed 6,900-yard course with 32-34 while Littler, the fourth leading PGA money winner from Palm Springs, Calif., coupled 33's.

Littler decorated his card with an eagle 3 on the 495-yard second hole by holing out a 90-foot chip shot from a road behind the green. His only over-par was a 4 on the 215-yard 16th, where he three putted from the edge. Littler birdied the last two holes with 2 and 4-foot putts.

Krak carded his only over-par also on the 16th when his tee shot was trapped. But he compensated with a birdie 3 on the next by sticking an eight-iron five inches from the pin. An eight-foot putt failed to drop on the 18th and he settled for par 4.

Finished 10th At K. C.

Krak's best finish in a year of tournament campaigning was 10th in the Kansas City Open. He aced the 230-yard 18th there for the only hole-in-one of his career.

While Krak and Littler breezed in with their sub-par rounds which were only three strokes off the competitive course record, other pros also were on the money scent leading to a winning payoff potential of $156,000 at the 72-hole conclusion Sunday.

Fred Hawkins, of St. Andrews, Ill., rounded out 33-34—67 with the help of a 30-foot eagle 3 putt on the second hole.

Paul O'Leary of Bismarck, N.D., sizzled with a 33 then matched par 36 coming back for 69.

Ford Skids To 73

Doug Ford, the National PGA and All-American winner, skidded to a 73 after three-putting three greens. Cary Middlecoff, leading PGA money winner, went for a 74 and complained of a painful kink in his back. Veteran Jimmy Demaret rolled in with a steady 71. National Open champion Jack Fleck of Davenport, Iowa, had a steady 35-34—69.

Chandler Harper of Portsmouth, Va., shot a 36-37—73.

Berg And Crocker Share World Lead

CHICAGO, Aug. 11 (AP) — Patty Berg, winner the last two years, and Fay Crocker, the 1955 U. S. Women's Open champion from Montevideo, Uruguay, knocked five strokes off par with 71s today to share the first round lead in the Women's Pro "World" Golf Tourney.

One stroke behind in the field of 23 was Mary Lena Faulk of Thomasville, Ga., with 38-34—72 against the Tam O'Shanter Country Club par 38-37—76.

Norma Shook of Morgantown, W. Va., shot a 48-43—91.

4-Minute Milers To Compete Today In London Race

LONDON, Aug. 11 (AP) — Four-minute miler Chris Chataway predicted today that within 24 hours there would be a new world record for the mile.

Chataway, Britain's 3-mile world record holder; triple world record holder Sandor Iharos of Hungary; Laszlo Tabori, Hungary's 3:59 miler, and Ken Wood of Britain, meet at London's White City Stadium tomorrow in the "battle of the four minute milers."

A crowd of 40,000 is expected, all eager to see Australian John Landy's world mark of 3:58 shattered.

"I expect a fast time," Chataway said. "I shall not be surprised if the world mark is broken." Then he nominated Iharos as the likely record breaker.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

4-Minute Milers To Compete Today In London Race

LONDON, Aug. 11 (AP) — Four-minute miler Chris Chataway predicted today that within 24 hours there would be a new world record for the mile.

Chataway, Britain's 3-mile world record holder; triple world record holder Sandor Iharos of Hungary; Laszlo Tabori, Hungary's 3:59 miler, and Ken Wood of Britain, meet at London's White City Stadium tomorrow in the "battle of the four minute milers."

A crowd of 40,000 is expected, all eager to see Australian John Landy's world mark of 3:58 shattered.

"I expect a fast time," Chataway said. "I shall not be surprised if the world mark is broken." Then he nominated Iharos as the likely record breaker.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Boy Sentenced For Burglaries

Magistrate Morris Baron of Juvenile Court yesterday sentenced a 14-year-old local boy to the Maryland School for Boys in connection with a series of burglaries dating back to July 1.

A companion was placed on probation with "stiff" regulations for two years by Magistrate Baron. Presented a Bible, he was ordered to be off the streets by 8 p. m. daily.

Two other boys also were placed on probation as the result of breaking and enterings and acts of vandalism. The quartet was accused of being delinquent minors.

Coppers, Chemicals, Oils Spark Advance In Market

NEW YORK, Aug. 11 (AP)—Sharply higher prices in a wide selection of shares featured a quiet advance in the stock market today.

Gains of 2 to 3 points were common in the coppers. Even bigger advances were scattered through other groups, including the chemicals, oils and rails.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks advanced $1.60 to $171.30. That made up for a good part of the losses suffered on Monday and Tuesday of this week, when the market was under selling pressure.

The industrial component of the average gained $2.80, the rails $1.30 and the utilities 20 cents.

There were 626 advancing stocks and 252 which declined. The advance was achieved on rather small volume: 1,620,000 shares changed hands.

Du Pont climbed 5¾ to 223, U.S. Gypsum 7½ to 275½, Anaconda 3½ to 74⅛, Standard Oil (NJ) 4⅛ to 134½, Union Carbide 3 to 97⅜, Reynolds Metals 5¼ to 218¾, Procter & Gamble 3¼ to 105 and Andes Copper 3 to 28.

Other strong shares included Bethlehem Steel, Chrysler, Goodyear, Boeing, Rock Island, Kennecott, Phelps Dodge, Magma Copper, Copper Range, Missouri Pacific Preferred, Chesapeake & Ohio and Aluminium Ltd.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Dorothy Manners

(Substituting for vacationing Louella Parsons)

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 11—(INS)—What a pair of fine old scene-stealers get together when Barbara Stanwyck reports to MGM in November to co-star with James Cagney in "All Our Yesterdays"!

Although these two were Warner Brothers stars at the same time, I don't recall they ever made a picture together.

In the Ralph Wheelwright original, Barbara plays the head of an orphanage, a highly sympathetic role for that Stanwyck gal who specializes in meanies.

Jules Schermer produces and the director is John Sturges.

Doris Day's next at MGM is with Howard Keel in "The Opposite Sex," about a group of gay divorcees in Reno (if they are so gay). This story by Fay and Michael Kanin was first announced for Esther Williams. But the swim queen's new deal with MGM is for just three pictures in five years—and this won't be one.

With Doris' career at it's peak following her big hit in "Love Me or Leave Me," MGM is taking great care with her material.

She and Keel should make beautiful music together in the Joe Pasternak production scheduled for late November.

Those international lovers Zsa Zsa Gabor and Porfirio Rubirosa, who have been having a social fling in Cannes and the other gay spots in Europe, will be torn asunder when Zsa Zsa flies to New York tomorrow.

She's spend 10 days with her mother. These two must have patched up the tiff they had at the time mama gave out her opinion that there would be no marriage between her glamorous daughter and Rubi.

Then it's Hollywood for Zsa Zsa where she'll polish up a new night-club act for Las Vegas.

A special "invite" has gone to Clara Bow in Reno asking her to be one of the guests of honor at the party at Frascati's on August 23 which will bring together the old—and new—Wampas baby stars. Jack Cummings, Jim Henaghan and Ginger Rogers sent the telegram to Clara, the original "it" girl.

Other former Wampas babies who are invited are Laura La Plante, Sue Carol Ladd and Mary Brian.

Getting elected to the Wampas was, at one time, one of the biggest honors the Hollywood press agents could bestow on promising young actresses and its lists include some of the brightest stars of filmdom.

Hollywood in shorts: Susan Hayward and Don "Red" Barry a newsome at the captain's table.

Vivian Blaine, and others in the "Guys and Dolls" show at the Royal Nevada in Las Vegas, got a big kick out of Marlon Brando sitting ringside at the first performance. Vivian was a showstopper—so was Marlon.

Gary Crosby and Sammy Davis Jr., "cut" a record today. This one I want to get.

That's all today.

Coppers, Chemicals, Oils Spark Advance In Market

NEW YORK, Aug. 11 (AP)—Sharply higher prices in a wide selection of shares featured a quiet advance in the stock market today.

Gains of 2 to 3 points were common in the coppers. Even bigger advances were scattered through other groups, including the chemicals, oils and rails.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks advanced $1.60 to $171.30. That made up for a good part of the losses suffered on Monday and Tuesday of this week, when the market was under selling pressure.

The industrial component of the average gained $2.80, the rails $1.30 and the utilities 20 cents.

There were 626 advancing stocks and 252 which declined. The advance was achieved on rather small volume: 1,620,000 shares changed hands.

Du Pont climbed 5¾ to 223, U.S. Gypsum 7½ to 275½, Anaconda 3½ to 74⅛, Standard Oil (NJ) 4⅛ to 134½, Union Carbide 3 to 97⅝, Reynolds Metals 5¼ to 218¾, Procter & Gamble 3¼ to 105 and Andes Copper 3 to 28.

Other strong shares included Bethlehem Steel, Chrysler, Goodyear, Boeing, Rock Island, Kennecott, Phelps Dodge, Magma Copper, Copper Range, Missouri Pacific Preferred, Chesapeake & Ohio and Aluminium Ltd.

A special "invite" has gone to Clara Bow in Reno asking her to be one of the guests of honor at the party at Frascati's on August 23 which will bring together the old—and new—Wampas baby stars. Jack Cummings, Jim Henaghan and Ginger Rogers sent the telegram to Clara, the original "it" girl.

Other former Wampas babies who are invited are Laura La Plante, Sue Carol Ladd and Mary Brian.

Getting elected to the Wampas was, at one time, one of the biggest honors the Hollywood press agents could bestow on promising young actresses and its lists include some of the brightest stars of filmdom.

Hollywood in shorts: Susan Hayward and Don "Red" Barry a newsome at the captain's table.

Debbie Reynolds (who else?) gave Eddie Fisher a small but very nice birthday party Wednesday night.

Vivian Blaine, and others in the "Guys and Dolls" show at the Royal Nevada in Las Vegas, got a big kick out of Marlon Brando sitting ringside at the first performance. Vivian was a showstopper—so was Marlon.

Gary Crosby and Sammy Davis Jr., "cut" a record today. This one I want to get.

That's all today.

RIO DE JANEIRO, Aug. 11 —(INS)—U. S. Ambassador Jimmy Dunn recently extended an invitation to visit the U. S. to Marshal Rondon, the grand old man of Brazilian military circles. The marshal is coming up 91 years of age, and without much doubt he is the oldest personage ever offered the hospitality of our shores.

Rondon accepted promptly, with one proviso. He wanted to go by ship rather than plane, and asked to take along his daughter, a child of 70. He also could not resist taking a good-natured jab at the colossus to the north.

"I accompanied President Theodore Roosevelt to the river of doubt in 1914," he told Ambassador Dunn. "I recall vividly that when we parted, after a most cordial relationship under trying conditions, President Roosevelt said, 'You must come to visit the United States'. It is nice to know that the invitation has come through—forty-one years late—but has come through."

Rondon is in charge of Indian affairs in Brazil. Under the State Department's educational exchange program, he will tour U. S. Indian reservations.

The vigorous old fellow probably will be shocked by what he sees.

Ambassador Dunn is far from the customary concept of the austere diplomat of ambassadorial rank. At a reception he gave for the people who flew down here on Varig Airlines the other night he took me aside and said, "I don't think I've ever told you this story. I was charge d'affaires in Brussels in 1927 when Lindbergh paid that country a visit shortly after his flight to Paris. I didn't know what to say to him, after congratulating him. So I said, 'Well, Captain, I suppose that one of these days a diplomat—assigned to a new post in some faraway land—will simply step on his plane and fly away over ocean and jungle'.

"Lindbergh looked at me with those cold blue eyes and said, 'Might be a way to get rid of a lot of diplomats'."

My wife and I now have visited three tombs of Christopher Columbus, or Cristobal Colon as each sarcophagus spells it. All three are doing well, thank you. In the cathedral at Havana the guide will lower his voice, give off a wink, and say, in effect, "The Spanish they think they took his bones away some centuries ago. But they're still here, right here in Havana."

In Seville a couple of years ago, we were assured at the cathedral that the discoveres of the New World lay within the great marble coffin held magnificently aloft on the shoulders of the four evangelists.

Well, a couple of days ago at the cathedral in Ciudad Trujillo, Dominican Republic, the guide chuckled piously, winked, pointed to the towering white marble and gold tomb, and confided, "All that is left of the great Admiral Columbus is in an urn within the bronze box atop this shrine. When the French had us, we hid his remains. When the French were gone, we placed the remains in this, the oldest church in the hemisphere. All that is left is a bit of his skull, a bit of his arm. The rest is dust. If you have a contribution for the poor box give it to me and I will see that it reaches the rector in person.

There are more than 20 daily newspapers in Rio and the vigor of their editorial policy indicates that the press is freer here than in most parts of the world. All are grievously concerned with the recent national catastrophe, the cold weather which is said to have destroyed up to 80 per cent of the 1955 coffee crop.

For you it will mean paying a few more cents a pound for your favorite blend. For Brazil it is a cause of war-like headlines. Coffee represents about 75 per cent of the economy of the nation. It is as if there was a full season's shutdown of all U. S. automobile plants and steel mills.

Fascinating thing, this television. In a few brief years, it has become a major factor in the lives of every one of us . . . consumes far more of leisure time than any other activity . . . educates our families beyond all apprehension.

If you do not already have TV, it is certainly getting late to catch up. If you have TV—you owe it to your friends to persuade them to get TV, in their own homes!

HE NEEDED A LITTLE HELP

SOUTH brought off an excellent squeeze play in the hand below, but only because a defender was not as keen as he might have been.

South dealer.
Both sides vulnerable.

	♠ J 5 4 ♥ A 6 4 3 ♦ 4 3 2 ♣ A Q 3
♠ 7 6 3 2 ♥ J 9 7 2 ♦ 7 5 ♣ 9 6 4	N W E S	♠ Q 10 9 ♥ K 10 8 ♦ A ♣ K J 10 8 7 2
	♠ A K 8 ♥ Q 5 ♦ K Q J 10 9 8 6 ♣ 5

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 ♦	Pass	1 ♥	2 ♣
5 ♦	Pass	6 ♦	Pass
Pass	Pass

South needed a trick-gaining device of some kind because he went too far when he jumped to five diamonds over East's two clubs. That huge leap convinced North that his partner had the next thing to an opening two-bid, and North had to exercise some restraint not to bid a grand slam.

West opened his top card of partner's club suit. Dummy's ace was put up, and when a diamond was led, East, holding the blank ace, was end-played then and there. He could not afford to lead a spade up to the jack, and he certainly could not afford to lay down the club king. So he elected to return a heart. Unfortunately for himself, however, he led the low heart.

South put up the heart queen and, when it held, ran off all his trumps, keeping two spades, the heart ace and the club queen in dummy. East held on to his original three spades and the club king, but when a heart was led to the ace, he was squeezed. He could not afford to give up the club king and promote dummy's queen, so he let go a spade, and South proceeded to take the fulfilling tricks with the ace, king and eight of spades.

Since East decided that his exit play at the third trick had to be in hearts, it would have been more farsighted to lay down the king. This lead would have knocked out dummy's entry, the heart ace, before it had value as a squeeze card, and if East simply discarded logically thereafter, South would be forced to concede a spade trick.

Ambassador Dunn is far from the customary concept of the austere diplomat of ambassadorial rank. At a reception he gave for the people who flew down here on Varig Airlines the other night he took me aside and said, "I don't think I've ever told you this story. I was charge d'affaires in Brussels in 1927 when Lindbergh paid that country a visit shortly after his flight to Paris. I didn't know what to say to him, after congratulating him. So I said, 'Well, Captain, I suppose that one of these days a diplomat—assigned to a new post in some faraway land—will simply step on his plane and fly away over ocean and jungle'.

"Lindbergh looked at me with those cold blue eyes and said, 'Might be a way to get rid of a lot of diplomats'."

My wife and I now have visited three tombs of Christopher Columbus, or Cristobal Colon as each sarcophagus spells it. All three are doing well, thank you. In the cathedral at Havana the guide will lower his voice, give off a wink, and say, in effect, "The Spanish they think they took his bones away some centuries ago. But they're still here, right here in Havana."

In Seville a couple of years ago, we were assured at the cathedral that the discoveres of the New World lay within the great marble coffin held magnificently aloft on the shoulders of the four evangelists.

Well, a couple of days ago at the cathedral in Ciudad Trujillo, Dominican Republic, the guide chuckled piously, winked, pointed to the towering white marble and gold tomb, and confided, "All that is left of the great Admiral Columbus is in an urn within the bronze box atop this shrine. When the French had us, we hid his remains. When the French were gone, we placed the remains in this, the oldest church in the hemisphere. All that is left is a bit of his skull, a bit of his arm. The rest is dust. If you have a contribution for the poor box give it to me and I will see that it reaches the rector in person.

There are more than 20 daily newspapers in Rio and the vigor of their editorial policy indicates that the press is freer here than in most parts of the world. All are grievously concerned with the recent national catastrophe, the cold weather which is said to have destroyed up to 80 per cent of the 1955 coffee crop.

For you it will mean paying a few more cents a pound for your favorite blend. For Brazil it is a cause of war-like headlines. Coffee represents about 75 per cent of the economy of the nation. It is as if there was a full season's shutdown of all U. S. automobile plants and steel mills.

Fascinating thing, this television. In a few brief years, it has become a major factor in the lives of every one of us . . . consumes far more of leisure time than any other activity . . . educates our families beyond all apprehension.

If you do not already have TV, it is certainly getting late to catch up. If you have TV—you owe it to your friends to persuade them to get TV, in their own homes!

Contract Bridge

by Josephine Culbertson

HE NEEDED A LITTLE HELP

SOUTH brought off an excellent squeeze play in the hand below, but only because a defender was not as keen as he might have been.

South dealer.
Both sides vulnerable.

	♠ J 5 4 ♥ A 6 4 3 ♦ 4 3 2 ♣ A Q 3
♠ 7 6 3 2 ♥ J 9 7 2 ♦ 7 5 ♣ 9 6 4	N W E S	♠ Q 10 9 ♥ K 10 8 ♦ A ♣ K J 10 8 7 2
	♠ A K 8 ♥ Q 5 ♦ K Q J 10 9 8 6 ♣ 5

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 ♦	Pass	1 ♥	2 ♣
5 ♦	Pass	6 ♦	Pass
Pass	Pass

South needed a trick-gaining device of some kind because he went too far when he jumped to five diamonds over East's two clubs. That huge leap convinced North that his partner had the next thing to an opening two-bid, and North had to exercise some restraint not to bid a grand slam

West opened his top card of partner's club suit. Dummy's ace was put up, and when a diamond was led, East, holding the blank ace, was end-played then and there. He could not afford to lead a spade up to the jack, and he certainly could not afford to lay down the club king. So he elected to return a heart. Unfortunately for himself, however, he led the low heart.

South put up the heart queen and, when it held, ran off all his trumps, keeping two spades, the heart ace and the club queen in dummy. East held on to his original three spades and the club king, but when a heart was led to the ace, he was squeezed. He could not afford to give up the club king and promote dummy's queen, so he let go a spade, and South proceeded to take the fulfilling tricks with the ace, king and eight of spades.

Since East decided that his exit play at the third trick had to be in hearts, it would have been more farsighted to lay down the king. This lead would have knocked out dummy's entry, the heart ace, before it had value as a squeeze card, and if East simply discarded logically thereafter, South would be forced to concede a spade trick.

Methodist Groups Hold Sub-District Session At Keyser

KEYSER—At the August meeting of the Potomac Sub-District Young Adults of the Methodist Church held recently, all churches, in the sub-district, First and Grace, both of Keyser; Fort Ashby, Headsville, Patterson Creek, Romney, New Creek, Burlington and Piedmonth were well represented. Members of the Romney church had charge of the worship program. Mrs. John Thomas was general program leader; Mrs. Ellis Wolford was prayer leader and Rev. R. T. McCord delivered prayer.

A business meeting was conducted by President Oscar Lease, with the main discussion on how to increase interest and how to revive former groups who were active.

Rev. A. L. Harmon was appointed chairman of a committee to contact various groups in the churches of the district for organizing and reviving the groups. A recreation hour followed the business session with Mrs. Reva Smith as leader. The Romney unit served refreshments.

Trooper Rightmire said that the burglary occurred between July 3 and July 31, while she was away from home on vacation. Three guns, a .410 gauge Marlin, a .22 cal. Marlin single shot Winchester and a .22 cal. Marlin single shot, and an RCA table model radio were taken.

Tucker County

to realize how the citizens must have felt to see their county seat being moved, but said that no shots were fired, although some dynamite was set off near them as they were enroute back to Parsons. The explosion caused no damages except to frighten the horses.

The court house records and bell were loaded in a wagon and the men kept ringing the bell all they way back up the road to Parsons.

After the records were in Parsons, a crowd gathered outside a large frame building which is now the K of P Hall in Parsons where a temporary court house was established. After the brick court house was built in Parsons, the bell was moved to the Methodist Church and is still in use.

The records were moved to the present court house in 1898. At the time the present court house was built the following men were county commissioners: W. H. Dasher, A. B. Flanagan, J. W. Campbell, William M. Caylton, County Clerk and the architect was Frank P. Milburn.

The first officers elected in the county were Arnold Bonnifield, clerk of the Circuit and County courts; Daniel C. Adams, assessor; Jesse Parsons, sheriff; Solomon Bonner, county surveyor and Rufus Maxwell, commonwealth attorney.

There were six horses on each wagon in the party that helped to move the records and at that time it took a long time to reach St. George, as it was necessary to go down what was known as the old river road, winding along Cheat river.

One of the men helping to move the records, Solomon Kalar, was born in Clover District, and served for 16 years as a justice of the peace and also a former constable.

Following the reading of the bids Maurice Brundige street commissioner recommended that the bid of the Cumberland Contracting Company be accepted. Action was unanimous.

For the work of enlarging the City Clerk's office nad other improvements to the city building the low bid of Arnold G. Clark for $1,477.75 was accepted.

The other bid for total work was $1,541 from Hamilton Lumber Company. Bids fere read by Joseph Sullivan, acting city clerk, substituting for Mrs. Katherine Dailey on vacation.

After the indorsement of Clark's bid by Carl McMillen, building commissioner, it was unanimously agreed by the council to give the work to Clark.

The town agreed to haul dirt for John Donnelly on Wood Street so he can lay his curb as he requested.

The note was 3 to 2 with the Mayor voting approval to fix the curb of Patrick Mills at the corner of Greene and Central Avenue. Mills stated he was promised some consideration when the town laid a sewer line on his property while doing WPA work a number of years ago.

No record of the agreement can be found on the minutes but the mayor stated that he thought the town was morally responsible to give Mills some aid if he was promised it.

to realize how the citizens must have felt to see their county seat being moved, but said that no shots were fired, although some dynamite was set off near them as they were enroute back to Parsons. The explosion caused no damages except to frighten the horses.

The court house records and bell were loaded in a wagon and the men kept ringing the bell all they way back up the road to Parsons.

After the records were in Parsons, a crowd gathered outside a large frame building which is now the K of P Hall in Parsons where a temporary court house was established. After the brick court house was built in Parsons, the bell was moved to the Methodist Church and is still in use.

The records were moved to the present court house in 1898. At the time the present court house was built the following men were county commissioners: W. H. Dasher, A. B. Flanagan, J. W. Campbell, William M. Caylton, County Clerk and the architect was Frank P. Milburn.

The first officers elected in the county were Arnold Bonnifield, clerk of the Circuit and County courts; Daniel C. Adams, assessor; Jesse Parsons, sheriff; Solomon Bonner, county surveyor and Rufus Maxwell, commonwealth attorney.

There were six horses on each wagon in the party that helped to move the records and at that time it took a long time to reach St. George, as it was necessary to go down what was known as the old river road, winding along Cheat river.

One of the men helping to move the records, Solomon Kalar, was born in Clover District, and served for 16 years as a justice of the peace and also a former constable.

Following the reading of the bids Maurice Brundige street commissioner recommended that the bid of the Cumberland Contracting Company be accepted. Action was unanimous.

For the work of enlarging the City Clerk's office nad other improvements to the city building the low bid of Arnold G. Clark for $1,477.75 was accepted.

The other bid for total work was $1,541 from Hamilton Lumber Company. Bids fere read by Joseph Sullivan, acting city clerk, substituting for Mrs. Katherine Dailey on vacation.

After the indorsement of Clark's bid by Carl McMillen, building commissioner, it was unanimously agreed by the council to give the work to Clark.

The town agreed to haul dirt for John Donnelly on Wood Street so he can lay his curb as he requested.

The note was 3 to 2 with the Mayor voting approval to fix the curb of Patrick Mills at the corner of Greene and Central Avenue. Mills stated he was promised some consideration when the town laid a sewer line on his property while doing WPA work a number of years ago.

No record of the agreement can be found on the minutes but the mayor stated that he thought the town was morally responsible to give Mills some aid if he was promised it.

New Dams Needed, Says River Group

Upper Potomac Watershed Survey, Appropriation Will Be Sought

A series of impounding dams on the Upper Potomac River watershed, or a second large reservoir on Savage River Dam are future projects vital to the economy, health and development of this area, members of the Upper Potomac River Commission agreed yesterday.

Meeting at the Union Street County Building with Julian G. Patrick, chairmen, presiding, it was decided to institute a program immediately, leading towards a thorough survey and eventual request for appropriations from Congress.

Patrick, explained, using maps, that records show most of the heavy rainfall in this watershed runs off in a matter of a day or two. Thus, he pointed out, one of the most important natural resources is being wasted.

In all parts of the country, the water table is dropping. It is becoming more important in an age of industrial expansion, Patrick noted.

At Least 6 Needed

He said surveys made sometime ago indicated that six small dams on the Potomac and its feeder streams above Cumberland were suggested as possibilities. These would store a total of about the same amount of water as is now held in Stoney River Dam and Savage River Dam combined.

Congressman DeWitt S. Hyde, attending the meeting as the representative from this district, told the assembly that a request of this kind for funds must be "backed with a good sales argument."

Competition for funds for flood control, harbor dredging, stream development and the like from Congress is "vicious," he said.

Believing that the Potomac River basin must be developed and steps taken to prevent quick runoff, flash floods, soil erosion and loss of water to communities and industries, Hyde urged that a specific plan be evolved for the specific request.

This should be backed by very good reasons why, he concluded. Rep. Hyde asured the commission of his help.

Dam Helps Industry

J. B. Dowling of the Health Department noted that the Potomac Edison Company and the Celanese plant here use Potomac River water for cooling purposes. He said that during the recent long heat wave, the temperature of the river in the Cumberland pool rose so high that the water became almost useless to these plants. The only thing that helped the situation was the release of several million gallons of water from Savage River Dam.

He noted that a more stabilized stream flow in the Potomac makes for cleaner water and better health. He also urged that if industry is to expand in this area, and if new industry is to be attracted, greater control of the Potomac watershed is imperative.

There was discussion of soil erosion, strip mining and sewage control.

Dowling suggested that a letter be sent to the Allegany and Garrett County delegations to the General Assembly, thanking the Assembly for the support given the strip mining bill. He also suggested that the Maryland Bureau of Mines in Westernport be consulted and asked when the Bureau is going to start to enforce its provisions.

Several members commented upon the strip mining problem in this area and it was noted that (Continued on Page 10, Col. 4)

Police, Firemen Salary Boost Recommended

Reasons Cited By Keegan

When the Mayor and Council meet today at 3:30 p. m. at the Mayor's office for the purpose of informally discussing the budget for 1955-56, William V. Keegan, police and fire commissioner plans to make his recommendations for a salary raise for the two departments.

Recently a request for a raise in salary for police and firemen was referred to Keegan for consideration.

He said yesterday that the "unwillingness to provide proper renumeration for the intelligence and effort required in the performance of modern police duties is a form of cut rate law enforcement and it will not work."

Keegan added that "the logical result is a bigger crime bill in the form of robberies and the manifold ways in which crime can be expensive. To pay the price in this fashion rather than in adequate salaries for police officers makes an extremely poor bargain.

"It seems that our policemen, first to be called in time of emergency and danger, are the last to be considered in the social scale of things. Although the cost of living has risen 87.7 per cent since 1939, the average patrolman's salary has fallen behind in comparison 28.4 per cent, more than one-fourth of his living cost, whereas the utility employe (milkmen, sanitation workers, bus and truck drivers, trainmen, etc.) is not only keeping abreast of the pace, but has jumped far ahead in all classifications."

In referring to the Fire Department, Keegan pointed out that "the last pay increase for the department was on September 1, 1952. This department works an average of 60-hour week which makes it the lowest paid city department and it should be granted a pay raise in accordance with existing pay rates for other departments and industries."

Keegan pointed out that "due to the high cost of living still rising," he believes a raise for each department at this time "would not be out of order."

Driver Sues For $10,000 In Car Mishap

A $10,000 suit for damages resulting from an automobile mishap May 27 was filed yesterday in Allegany County Circuit Court.

In a suit filed by Edward J. Ryan for Grover E. Fogle, 216 Piedmont Avenue, city, it was charged that Baden Peters, Washington, D. C., the defendant, was negligent in driving his car in failing to give the right of way to Fogle at the intersection of Henderson Avenue and Bedford Street.

The resultant mishap caused Fogle to sustain a head injury which damaged the sight of his right eye, the suit continued. Because of the loss of work from his injury and incurred hospital expenses, Fogle is seeking $10,000 damages.

The suit claims Fogle was driving along Bedford Street toward Henderson Avenue, crossing the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad tracks at that point. He said the crossing watchman gave him a clear signal but as he crossed the tracks and reached the intersection, a car driven by Peters failed to give him the right of way by not stopping at the intersection.

In the suit Fogle said he swerved his car to avoid a collision with the Washington man's vehicle and in doing so, the sudden movement caused him to strike his head against part of the car.

Fogle's suit further claims the head injury affected the sight of his eye and has made him unable to resume his employment as a tractor driver.

Kelly Tire Co. Progress Cited By Judge Sloan

Plant Birthday Is Marked Here

Judge D. Lindley Sloan, one of two surviving members of the board of directors of the Cumberland Development Company which fostered the establishment of the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company in Cumberland, was one of the guest speakers yesterday at the civic luncheon commemorating the 35th birthday of the company.

In his talk at the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club before some 200 guests including Goodyear Tire Company officials, Kelly-Springfield Tire Company officials and local civic leaders, Judge Sloan recalled that back in 1916 the development company prepared a contract for the location of the present modern tire plant in the Queen City.

He received a round of applause from his audience when he mentioned the name of the late George G. Young, who he said should get most of the credit for the building of the plant in Cumberland.

Judge Sloan said members of the development company "had force" and at that time "didn't complain of being in a distressed town," were "proud of their town" and were anxious above all to do what they could to bring it "back on the map."

He added that this community at that time may have been "down on its heels" but the company didn't lose its "nerve or confidence."

Judge Sloan told his attentive audience that the raising of $750,000 to be paid to Goodyear for the building of a plant here was a struggle but it was finally realized.

Substantial Industry

He also recalled the depression years in Cumberland and described the Kelly-Springfield plant as "limping along" until the mid '30s. Today, he pointed out, the local industry is the most substantial industry this city has and that such has been realized in recent years due to the successful presidency of Edmund S. Burke.

Rev. H. M. Richardson, rector of Emmanuel Episcopal Church, gave invocation at the luncheon. Toastmaster for the affair was Burke, who pointed out that "this is a proud and happy day for me and the entire Kelly-Springfield Tire organization.

"It is a heartwarming and gratifying experience to see friends who have traveled from far away places to join our observance of the 35th anniversary of Kelly-Springfield's Cumberland plant."

He then introduced friends and associates visiting from the Goodyear Company at Akron and a few representatives of Cumberland. (Continued on Page 10, Col. 5)

Fire Dept. Asks Three New Radios

Three radio receivers being sought by the Cumberland Fire Department, which would aid in having the insurance rate of Cumberland residents reduced and would be useful as a secondary alarm system, are included in the tentative budget of the department for the coming year.

Police and Fire Commissioner William V. Keegan said yesterday that the receivers are recommended by the National Board of Fire Underwriters.

With the acquisition of the three receivers, and other recommendations which have been carried out by the local department, it would be credited with 1½ points toward a reduction in insurance rates for residents of Cumberland.

The three receivers would be placed at East Side, South End and West Side. In Cumberland the first alarm system is the street boxes which transmits the alarm to all four stations simultaneously.

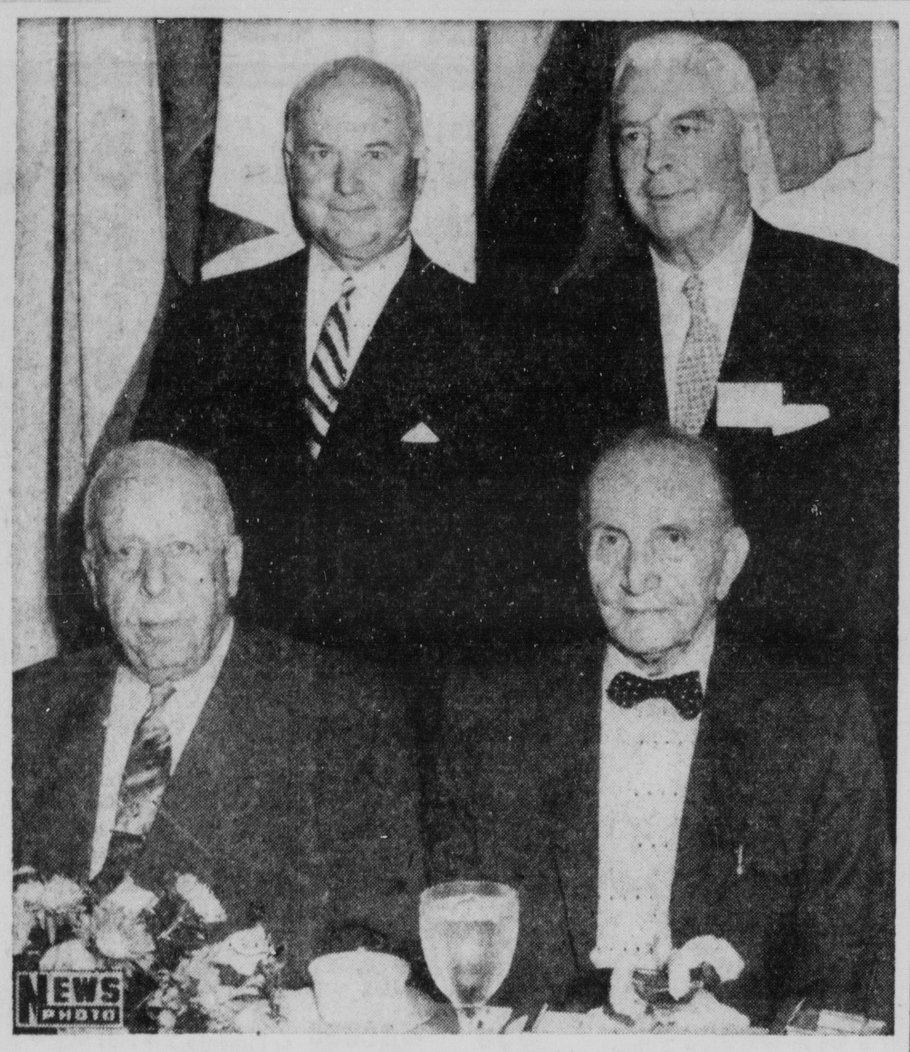
The telephone is considered secondary but is not recognized by the Underwriters. However, the receivers in each of the stations which would be in constant contact with Central Fire Station would be recognized.

Temporary Seats Being Added At Fort Hill Stadium

Temporary wooden bleachers, which will increase the seating capacity at Fort Hill stadium by about 900 are expected to be completely installed today by members of the Cumberland Recreation Department.

Robert Pence, rec director, yesterday said the department employes started installing the bleachers yesterday. They are being removed from Pennsylvania Avenue for use during the Bicentennial Pageant next week.

With the addition of the bleachers, Pence said, the total number of seats will be about 4,100.



Kelly Birthday Observed

Fair Requests Relief From Auditing Cost

The Cumberland Fair Association yesterday submitted to the Legislative Council a request that it be relieved from the burden of paying an auditing firm between $2,200 and $2,400 each year.

Frank A. Wolfhope, vice president of the association, submitted a letter concerning the employment by the State Racing Commission of the auditing firm of Haskins and Sell to audit the books of the association each year at a cost of between $2,200 and $2,400.

Wolfhope noted that during the 10-day racing period the commission also sends an auditor to whom the association pay $500.

The association official said he firmly believes that the work now being done by Haskins and Sell is a function of the State Auditing Department for the following reasons:

1. The state is vitally interested in the admission tax.

2. The state is interested in the unpaid pari-mutuels.

3. The Maryland State Fair Boards pays to the association $8,500 to help pay premiums at the fair. The state, not the Racing Commission, should judge whether or not these funds are properly handled, the letter states.

4. The commission on the mutuel take and the breakage is now well taken care of by the commission auditor.

The matter was referred to the finance committee of the council.

Bugs Invade Local Home

A Valley Street resident and his family were forced to leave their home last night when an invading army of long, thin bugs swarmed over his house following last evening's rain.

Kenneth W. Troutman, 535 Valley Street, called Police Headquarters to report he was unable to stem the tide of "thousands and thousands" of the insects crawling from the street and climbing all over the sides of his house.

Fearful the insects might get into his house before he could exterminate them, Troutman moved his family to neighbors' homes during the night.

Legislators Visit First Md. Camp For Delinquents

While traveling east of Cumberland on Route 40 yesterday, the Legislative Council took time out on Green Ridge Mountain to visit one of the creations of the last session of the General Assembly—the camp for juvenile delinquents operated by the State Welfare Department.

There they talked briefly with W. O. Federline, who has been director of the new camp since it was opened April 26; Mrs. Federline, the camp matron, and Percy Bowman, camp counsellor, as well as many of the 14 boys from the Baltimore area who are now staying there.

Federline explained that the youngsters, between 14 and 20 of them, have been staying at the camp for one to three months in their final rehabilitation activity before they are released and allowed to return to their homes.

All of the boys come from the state's two training schools to the camp.

At the camp the youngsters keep busy with a program of work, handicrafts and recreation. Federline took the visitors to the dining room and said two of his campers had laid the entire floor. Other youngsters, all of whom are at least 16 years old, have made some 2,000 cinder blocks which are being used as underpinning for all of the buildings in the camp.

Buildings at the camp include two barracks, one of which has been divided off in cubicles which give the boys relative privacy, the dining room, part of which is being equipped as a handicrafts center; the office and infirmary, director's cottage and a storage building.

Another couple will join the staff September 1 and ultimately it will be expanded to a six-member staff. The maximum number of campers will be maintained between 25 and 28.

At the Town Hill Hotel, the Legislative Council met Dr. Thomas J. S. Waxter, state welfare director, and seven members of a special legislative subcommittee which is studying the camp with the idea organizing others in other sections of Maryland.

This committee, headed by Senator Philip H. Goodman of Baltimore, visited the camp yesterday afternoon. Other members present included Senators Mary Nock, Joseph Mattingly, Clifford Friend and Delegates Margaret Schweinhaut, Louis B. Tawney, and C. Philip Nichols.

Truck Drivers Agree To Pact With Carriers

Officials of two local trucking concerns which haul goods into the Pittsburgh area said last night all drivers employed by the companies had returned to work yesterday with the settlement of a month-old strike against the Western Pennsylvania Motor Carriers Association.

Employes of the Cumberland Motor Express Company and the Maryland Motor Express Company, many of whom had been temporarily working with other trucking concerns here during the walkout, were back on their old jobs yesterday. Approximately eight or 10 drivers were affected.

The strike against the 100 members of the Western Pennsylvania Motor Carriers Association, of which the two local concerns belong, was settled yesterday when Local 249 of the AFL General Teamsters Union accepted a two-year contract in Pittsburgh.

The strike of nearly 2,000 teamsters had virtually crippled truck transportation in metropolitan Pittsburgh.

The new contract provides a 10-cent-an-hour pay increase retroactive to last June 1, and an additional eight cents an hour next June 1. The old rates were $2.10 per hour.

The contract also includes a pension plan and improved health, welfare and life insurance benefits.

Drivers of the Maryland Motor Express, which does almost all of its shipping and transportation to the general Pittsburgh area, were taken into Meder Tarnsfer, Inc., and returned yesterday to the express company.

Many of the drivers of the Cumberlan dMotor Express Company, which ships to all points, were able to remain despite the walkout in Pittsburgh, officials said.

Local Teamsters Union heads said only a few drivers were furloughed during the strike.

Bids On Area Road Projects Sought

Five area road projects are among 19 for which the State Roads Commission announced yesterday it will ask bids during August, September and October.

They include widening, resurfacing and draining of half a mile of Maryland 40 at Friendsville, and widening to 24 feet and resurfacing 2.1 miles of US 219 from US 40 to the Pennsylvania line, both during August; construction of a bridge over the B&O Railroad at Bloomington on Maryland 135-A, and moderation of curves and resurfacing of 1.419 miles of US 220 from Rawlings to McCoole, both in September, and reconstruction of 3.56 miles of US 40 on the east side of Martin's Mountain in October.

Weather

Once again Cumberland area residents enjoyed cool, invigorating weather, yet a mid-afternoon thundershower spoiled an otherwise perfect day. Approximately .17 inches of rain was recorded around 3:15 p. m. The high temperature reading was 87 degrees and the low was 68. At 8 p. m. the mercury measured 74. The humidity at 6 p. m. was a nearly-saturated 96 per cent.

Better Rt. 40 Gains Support Of Legislators

Roads And Bridges Occupy Council

An appeal from the Route 40 Association for a first-class east-west highway between Hancock and Cumberland within the next four years apparently fell upon sympathetic ears yesterday afternoon among members of the Legislative Council who had just been driven over the narrow and twisting road between Cumberland and the Town Hill Hotel.

Roads and bridges occupied the Legislative Council during much of a busy day of activities that started out with a breakfast at the Fort Cumberland Hotel where the Cumberland Junior Association of Commerce served as hosts for the touring legislators who are spending four days in Allegany and Garrett counties.

Before Oscar H. Lashley Jr., president of the Jaycees, could tell the 16 Legislative Council members present that the Jaycees endorsed the Route 40 campaign for an improved highway east of Cumberland, State Senator Louis L. Goldstein (D-Calvert, County) advocated an eight-lane dual highway paralleling Route 40 from Baltimore all the way to the line between Garrett County and Pennsylvania.

(Other proposals endorsed by the Jaycees included compulsory automobile inspection, a state industrial development commission and legislation concerning gas and oil well drilling and the possibility of investigation of other state agencies besides the Employment Security Department and the State Roads Commission.)

Before starting on their tour of Route 40, Delegate George R. Hughes Jr. (R-Allegany County) told the legislators that the road is so rough that a big truck manufacturing company uses it as a test road for the trucks.

On the trip over Route 40 to Town Hill the Legislative Council members were given a three-page pamphlet on the roads and mountains of Western Maryland. It asks the question "What can we do to correct this situation?"

The Route 40 Association believes that the General Assembly should require the State Roads Commission to modify its 12-year program so as to give priority to the rebuilding of Route 40.

Speed Urged

"Under the present schedule, it will take 12 years to complete the contemplated work," the statement read. "By that time, the traffic pattern to the Pennsylvania Turnpike and U. S. Route 50 through West Virginia will have become so well established that it will be next to impossible to break it. Furthermore the economy of Western Maryland will continue to suffer during the next 10 years. The fixing of one mountain or two in the next four years is not an adequate answer to the problem. Until all the mountains are fixed, tourists will not use the highway. This basic factor has been lost sight of in the State Roads' 12-year program."

Both Senator Goldstein and Senator Charles M. See, (R-Allegany County) emphatically supported the demands of the Route 40 Association and other legislators seemed in agreement on the need.

At Town Hill Hotel, the Legislative Council members were luncheon guests of Walter White, operator of the hotel and an active member of the Route 40 Association.

Bridges first entered the discussions yesterday morning when the touring lawmakers were taken to the Pinto Bridge and the Wiley Ford Bridge.

Bridges Discussed

They popped up again yesterday afternoon at the public meeting held in the council chamber at the City Hall. Mayor Roy W. Eves told the legislators that the granting of home rule had reduced materially the requests by the Mayor and City Council to the General Assembly.

Mayor Eves said there is an urgent need for a new bridge across the Potomac River at Wiley Ford to replace one built in 1908 for horse-drawn vehicles and damaged by the 1936 flood.

Because its posted weight limit is 20,000 pounds, trucks which have their quarters in South Cumberland must travel to the heart of the city and add to traffic congestion in order to take the Blue Bridge to Ridgeley and West Virginia Route 28.

New Dams Needed, Says River Group

Upper Potomac Watershed Survey, Appropriation Will Be Sought

A series of impounding dams on the Upper Potomac River watershed, or a second large reservoir on Savage River Dam are future projects vital to the economy, health and development of this area, members of the Upper Potomac River Commission agreed yesterday.

Meeting at the Union Street County Building with Julian G. Patrick, chairmen, presiding, it was decided to institute a program immediately, leading towards a thorough survey and eventual request for appropriations from Congress.

Patrick, explained, using maps, that records show most of the heavy rainfall in this watershed runs off in a matter of a day or two. Thus, he pointed out, one of the most important natural resources is being wasted.

In all parts of the country, the water table is dropping. It is becoming more important in an age of industrial expansion, Patrick noted.

At Least 6 Needed

He said surveys made sometime ago indicated that six small dams on the Potomac and its feeder streams above Cumberland were suggested as possibilities. These would store a total of about the same amount of water as is now held in Stoney River Dam and Savage River Dam combined.

Congressman DeWitt S. Hyde, attending the meeting as the representative from this district, told the assembly that a request of this kind for funds must be "backed with a good sales argument."

Competition for funds for flood control, harbor dredging, stream development and the like from Congress is "vicious," he said.

Believing that the Potomac River basin must be developed and steps taken to prevent quick runoff, flash floods, soil erosion and loss of water to communities and industries, Hyde urged that a specific plan be evolved for the specific request.

This should be backed by very good reasons why, he concluded. Rep. Hyde asured the commission of his help.

Dam Helps Industry

J. B. Dowling of the Health Department noted that the Potomac Edison Company and the Celanese plant here use Potomac River water for cooling purposes. He said that during the recent long heat wave, the temperature of the river in the Cumberland pool rose so high that the water became almost useless to these plants. The only thing that helped the situation was the release of several million gallons of water from Savage River Dam.

He noted that a more stabilized stream flow in the Potomac makes for cleaner water and better health. He also urged that if industry is to expand in this area, and if new industry is to be attracted, greater control of the Potomac watershed is imperative.

There was discussion of soil erosion, strip mining and sewage control.

Dowling suggested that a letter be sent to the Allegany and Garrett County delegations to the General Assembly, thanking the Assembly for the support given the strip mining bill. He also suggested that the Maryland Bureau of Mines in Westernport be consulted and asked when the Bureau is going to start to enforce its provisions.

Several members commented upon the strip mining problem in this area and it was noted that (Continued on Page 10, Col. 4)

Police, Firemen Salary Boost Recommended

Reasons Cited By Keegan

When the Mayor and Council meet today at 3:30 p. m. at the Mayor's office for the purpose of informally discussing the budget for 1955-56, William V. Keegan, police and fire commissioner plans to make his recommendations for a salary raise for the two departments.

Recently a request for a raise in salary for police and firemen was referred to Keegan for consideration.

He said yesterday that the "unwillingness to provide proper renumeration for the intelligence and effort required in the performance of modern police duties is a form of cut rate law enforcement and it will not work."

Keegan added that "the logical result is a bigger crime bill in the form of robberies and the manifold ways in which crime can be expensive. To pay the price in this fashion rather than in adequate salaries for police officers makes an extremely poor bargain.

"It seems that our policemen, first to be called in time of emergency and danger, are the last to be considered in the social scale of things. Although the cost of living has risen 87.7 per cent since 1939, the average patrolman's salary has fallen behind in comparison 28.4 per cent, more than one-fourth of his living cost, whereas the utility employe (milkmen, sanitation workers, bus and truck drivers, trainmen, etc.) is not only keeping abreast of the pace, but has jumped far ahead in all classifications."

In referring to the Fire Department, Keegan pointed out that "the last pay increase for the department was on September 1, 1952. This department works an average of 60-hour week which makes it the lowest paid city department and it should be granted a pay raise in accordance with existing pay rates for other departments and industries."

Keegan pointed out that "due to the high cost of living still rising," he believes a raise for each department at this time "would not be out of order."

Driver Sues For $10,000 In Car Mishap

A $10,000 suit for damages resulting from an automobile mishap May 27 was filed yesterday in Allegany County Circuit Court.

In a suit filed by Edward J. Ryan for Grover E. Fogle, 216 Piedmont Avenue, city, it was charged that Baden Peters, Washington, D. C., the defendant, was negligent in driving his car in failing to give the right of way to Fogle at the intersection of Henderson Avenue and Bedford Street.

The resultant mishap caused Fogle to sustain a head injury which damaged the sight of his right eye, the suit continued. Because of the loss of work from his injury and incurred hospital expenses, Fogle is seeking $10,000 damages.

The suit claims Fogle was driving along Bedford Street toward Henderson Avenue, crossing the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad tracks at that point. He said the crossing watchman gave him a clear signal but as he crossed the tracks and reached the intersection, a car driven by Peters failed to give him the right of way by not stopping at the intersection.

In the suit Fogle said he swerved his car to avoid a collision with the Washington man's vehicle and in doing so, the sudden movement caused him to strike his head against part of the car.

Fogle's suit further claims the head injury affected the sight of his eye and has made him unable to resume his employment as a tractor driver.

Kelly Tire Co. Progress Cited By Judge Sloan

Plant Birthday Is Marked Here

Judge D. Lindley Sloan, one of two surviving members of the board of directors of the Cumberland Development Company which fostered the establishment of the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company in Cumberland, was one of the guest speakers yesterday at the civic luncheon commemorating the 35th birthday of the company.

In his talk at the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club before some 200 guests including Goodyear Tire Company officials, Kelly-Springfield Tire Company officials and local civic leaders, Judge Sloan recalled that back in 1916 the development company prepared a contract for the location of the present modern tire plant in the Queen City.

He received a round of applause from his audience when he mentioned the name of the late George G. Young, who he said should get most of the credit for the building of the plant in Cumberland.

Judge Sloan said members of the development company "had force" and at that time "didn't complain of being in a distressed town," were "proud of their town" and were anxious above all to do what they could to bring it "back on the map."

He added that this community at that time may have been "down on its heels" but the company didn't lose its "nerve or confidence."

Judge Sloan told his attentive audience that the raising of $750,000 to be paid to Goodyear for the building of a plant here was a struggle but it was finally realized.

Substantial Industry

He also recalled the depression years in Cumberland and described the Kelly-Springfield plant as "limping along" until the mid '30s. Today, he pointed out, the local industry is the most substantial industry this city has and that such has been realized in recent years due to the successful presidency of Edmund S. Burke.

Rev. H. M. Richardson, rector of Emmanuel Episcopal Church, gave invocation at the luncheon. Toastmaster for the affair was Burke, who pointed out that "this is a proud and happy day for me and the entire Kelly-Springfield Tire organization.

"It is a heartwarming and gratifying experience to see friends who have traveled from far away places to join our observance of the 35th anniversary of Kelly-Springfield's Cumberland plant."

He then introduced friends and associates visiting from the Goodyear Company at Akron and a few representatives of Cumberland. (Continued on Page 10, Col. 5)

Fire Dept. Asks Three New Radios

Three radio receivers being sought by the Cumberland Fire Department, which would aid in having the insurance rate of Cumberland residents reduced and would be useful as a secondary alarm system, are included in the tentative budget of the department for the coming year.

Police and Fire Commissioner William V. Keegan said yesterday that the receivers are recommended by the National Board of Fire Underwriters.

With the acquisition of the three receivers, and other recommendations which have been carried out by the local department, it would be credited with 1½ points toward a reduction in insurance rates for residents of Cumberland.

The three receivers would be placed at East Side, South End and West Side. In Cumberland the first alarm system is the street boxes which transmits the alarm to all four stations simultaneously.

The telephone is considered secondary but is not recognized by the Underwriters. However, the receivers in each of the stations which would be in constant contact with Central Fire Station would be recognized.

Temporary Seats Being Added At Fort Hill Stadium

Temporary wooden bleachers, which will increase the seating capacity at Fort Hill stadium by about 900 are expected to be completely installed today by members of the Cumberland Recreation Department.

Robert Pence, rec director, yesterday said the department employes started installing the bleachers yesterday. They are being removed from Pennsylvania Avenue for use during the Bicentennial Pageant next week.

With the addition of the bleachers, Pence said, the total number of seats will be about 4,100.

Kelly Birthday Observed

Fair Requests Relief From Auditing Cost

The Cumberland Fair Association yesterday submitted to the Legislative Council a request that it be relieved from the burden of paying an auditing firm between $2,200 and $2,400 each year.

Frank A. Wolfhope, vice president of the association, submitted a letter concerning the employment by the State Racing Commission of the auditing firm of Haskins and Sell to audit the books of the association each year at a cost of between $2,200 and $2,400.

Wolfhope noted that during the 10-day racing period the commission also sends an auditor to whom the association pay $500.

The association official said he firmly believes that the work now being done by Haskins and Sell is a function of the State Auditing Department for the following reasons:

1. The state is vitally interested in the admission tax.
2. The state is interested in the unpaid pari-mutuels.
3. The Maryland State Fair Boards pays to the association $8,500 to help pay premiums at the fair. The state, not the Racing Commission, should judge whether or not these funds are properly handled, the letter states.
4. The commission on the mutuel take and the breakage is now well taken care of by the commission auditor.

The matter was referred to the finance committee of the council.

Bugs Invade Local Home

A Valley Street resident and his family were forced to leave their home last night when an invading army of long, thin bugs swarmed over his house following last evening's rain.

Kenneth W. Troutman, 535 Valley Street, called Police Headquarters to report he was unable to stem the tide of "thousands and thousands" of the insects crawling from the street and climbing all over the sides of his house.

Fearful the insects might get into his house before he could exterminate them, Troutman moved his family to neighbors' homes during the night.

Legislators Visit First Md. Camp For Delinquents

While traveling east of Cumberland on Route 40 yesterday, the Legislative Council took time out on Green Ridge Mountain to visit one of the creations of the last session of the General Assembly—the camp for juvenile delinquents operated by the State Welfare Department.

There they talked briefly with W. O. Federline, who has been director of the new camp since it was opened April 26; Mrs. Federline, the camp matron, and Percy Bowman, camp counsellor, as well as many of the 14 boys from the Baltimore area who are now staying there.

Federline explained that the youngsters, between 14 and 20 of them, have been staying at the camp for one to three months in their final rehabilitation activity before they are released and allowed to return to their homes.

All of the boys come from the state's two training schools to the camp.

At the camp the youngsters keep busy with a program of work, handicrafts and recreation. Federline took the visitors to the dining room and said two of his campers had laid the entire floor. Other youngsters, all of whom are at least 16 years old, have made some 2,000 cinder blocks which are being used as underpinning for all of the buildings in the camp.

Buildings at the camp include two barracks, one of which has been divided off in cubicles which give the boys relative privacy, the dining room, part of which is being equipped as a handicrafts center; the office and infirmary, director's cottage and a storage building.

Another couple will join the staff September 1 and ultimately it will be expanded to a six-member staff. The maximum number of campers will be maintained between 25 and 28.

At the Town Hill Hotel, the Legislative Council met Dr. Thomas J. S. Waxter, state welfare director, and seven members of a special legislative subcommittee which is studying the camp with the idea organizing others in other sections of Maryland.

This committee, headed by Senator Philip H. Goodman of Baltimore, visited the camp yesterday afternoon. Other members present included Senators Mary Nock, Joseph Mattingly, Clifford Friend and Delegates Margaret Schweinhaut, Louis B. Tawney, and C. Philip Nichols.

Truck Drivers Agree To Pact With Carriers

Officials of two local trucking concerns which haul goods into the Pittsburgh area said last night all drivers employed by the companies had returned to work yesterday with the settlement of a month-old strike against the Western Pennsylvania Motor Carriers Association.

Employes of the Cumberland Motor Express Company and the Maryland Motor Express Company, many of whom had been temporarily working with other trucking concerns here during the walkout, were back on their old jobs yesterday. Approximately eight or 10 drivers were affected.

The strike against the 100 members of the Western Pennsylvania Motor Carriers Association, of which the two local concerns belong, was settled yesterday when Local 249 of the AFL General Teamsters Union accepted a two-year contract in Pittsburgh.

The strike of nearly 2,000 teamsters had virtually crippled truck transportation in metropolitan Pittsburgh.

The new contract provides a 10-cent-an-hour pay increase retroactive to last June 1, and an additional eight cents an hour next June 1. The old rates were $2.10 per hour.

The contract also includes a pension plan and improved health, welfare and life insurance benefits.

Drivers of the Maryland Motor Express, which does almost all of its shipping and transportation to the general Pittsburgh area, were taken into Meder Tarnsfer, Inc., and returned yesterday to the express company.

Many of the drivers of the Cumberlan dMotor Express Company, which ships to all points, were able to remain despite the walkout in Pittsburgh, officials said.

Local Teamsters Union heads said only a few drivers were furloughed during the strike.

Bids On Area Road Projects Sought

Five area road projects are among 19 for which the State Roads Commission announced yesterday it will ask bids during August, September and October.

They include widening, resurfacing and draining of half a mile of Maryland 40 at Friendsville, and widening to 24 feet and resurfacing 2.1 miles of US 219 from US 40 to the Pennsylvania line, both during August; construction of a bridge over the B&O Railroad at Bloomington on Maryland 135-A, and moderation of curves and resurfacing of 1.419 miles of US 220 from Rawlings to McCoole, both in September, and reconstruction of 3.56 miles of US 40 on the east side of Martin's Mountain in October.

Weather

Once again Cumberland area residents enjoyed cool, invigorating weather, yet a mid-afternoon thundershower spoiled an otherwise perfect day. Approximately .17 inches of rain was recorded around 3:15 p. m. The high temperature reading was 87 degrees and the low was 68. At 8 p. m. the mercury measured 74. The humidity at 6 p. m. was a nearly-saturated 96 per cent.

Better Rt. 40 Gains Support Of Legislators

Roads And Bridges Occupy Council

An appeal from the Route 40 Association for a first-class east-west highway between Hancock and Cumberland within the next four years apparently fell upon sympathetic ears yesterday afternoon among members of the Legislative Council who had just been driven over the narrow and twisting road between Cumberland and the Town Hill Hotel.

Roads and bridges occupied the Legislative Council during much of a busy day of activities that started out with a breakfast at the Fort Cumberland Hotel where the Cumberland Junior Association of Commerce served as hosts for the touring legislators who are spending four days in Allegany and Garrett counties.

Before Oscar H. Lashley Jr., president of the Jaycees, could tell the 16 Legislative Council members present that the Jaycees endorsed the Route 40 campaign for an improved highway east of Cumberland, State Senator Louis L. Goldstein (D-Calvert, County) advocated an eight-lane dual highway paralleling Route 40 from Baltimore all the way to the line between Garrett County and Pennsylvania.

(Other proposals endorsed by the Jaycees included compulsory automobile inspection, a state industrial development commission and legislation concerning gas and oil well drilling and the possibility of investigation of other state agencies besides the Employment Security Department and the State Roads Commission.)

Before starting on their tour of Route 40, Delegate George R. Hughes Jr. (R-Allegany County) told the legislators that the road is so rough that a big truck manufacturing company uses it as a test road for the trucks.
